H. P. Roberts, Clifton Heights, St. Louis, skull fractured; will die.

Six persons were killed and between thirty and forty injured in a wreck between two fast passenger trains on the Missouri Pacific railway east of Knobnoster at 4:20 o'clock this morning. The trains collided head-on while running at a speed estimated at thirty miles an hour. The impact was terrific, as the scene indicates. The two engines are jammed into each other, both badly demolished and partially raised in the air, leaving the impression that the monster iron horses reared as they plunged at each other and locked together, vice like.

The cars immediately following the engines were telescoped by each other; the two mail cars on the east bound train were telescoped by the express car, while a mail car on No. 3 telescoped a baggage car. The wreckage stands a mass of debris, piled high upon the tracks, with splinters and pieces of boards upon the right of way.

Train No. 12, eastbound, was in charge of Conductor E. E. Williams, with Engineer Edward Burke at the throttle of engine No. 3529. Ed Lewis was Burke's fireman. This train was instituted at the beginning of the theatrical season, and is known as the Theater Special. The westbound passenger is known as No. 3, and was in charge of Conductor Berry and Engineer Henry Anleitner. Clarence Billows was the fireman on No. 3.

Conductor Williams and Engineers Burke and Anleitner, of the train crews were injured. Williams suffered a broken shoulder, but was otherwise uninjured. The others were cut and bruised. The rest of the crews escaped by jumping and were only shocked and severely jarred in striking the ground.

As soon as the wreck occurred, or as soon after as it was possible, communication was gotten with Sedalia by telephone and the local officers advised of the wreck.

A relief train was immediately ordered, carrying local physicians and other assistants to the scene, while aid, medical and otherwise, was or-

COLLIDED ON CROSSING

BAGGAGEMAN KILLED, NINE PASSENGERS HURT IN DES MOINES, IOWA.

AN ENGINE GOES THROUGH COACH

Rock Island and Great Western Crews, Speeding to Intersection, Claim Right of Way—Mishap on Wabash.

Des Moines, Ia., July 2.—One man was killed, three were seriously injured and a half dozen were slightly hurt in a wreck when a Great Western work train crashed into the Rock Island, Indianola local, at the East Sixteenth street crossing, at 11:38 a. m. yesterday.

The dead:

W. H. URBAHNS, Valley Junction; Rock Island brakeman and baggageman.

The seriously injured:

H. C. FOWLER, Chillicothe; passenger; rib broken.

E. C. RUGGLES, Oelwein, Ia.; crushed and bruised.

D. F. SANDERS, Carlisle, Ia.; head bruised and cut.

The truck of a tender on the work train passed entirely into the smoking car of the Rock Island passenger, rear end of the car. The turning of the coach sent three trunks pounding on the prostrate form of Baggageman W. H. Urbahns, so injuring him that he died on the way to the hospital.

The wreck was caused by the efforts of the engineers of both trains to make the crossing at the same time. Both claim to have whistled for the crossing, and both sent their engines toward it at a fair speed.

The Great Western work engine was backing west, toward the intersection, pushing a lone tender, which struck the passenger train in the middle.

Wabash Train Is Wrecked.

Mexico, Mo., July 2.—Wabash passenger train No. 2 ran into an open switch in the yards here while coming into town fifty minutes late last afternoon. The engine struck a line of loaded coal cars, which stopped the train.

A number of passengers were thrown from their seats, and Mail Clerks Chester Whitehead and C. E. Dameron of Montgomery City, who were standing in the door of their car, were thrown to the ground, sustaining bad cuts and bruises about the face and head. Mail Clerk F. A. Rowley, of St. Louis, was badly cut on the face.

SPEAKS HERE TONIGHT

W. S COWHERD WILL ADDRESS THE CITIZENS AT THE SEDALIA THEATER.

HAS HAD DISTINGUISHED CAREER

His Record as Mayor of Kansas City and as Congressman Has Been a Remarkably Able and Brilliant One.

William S. Cowherd, of Kansas City, candidate for the democratic gubernatorial nomination, arrived here at 2 o'clock last night and will speak at the Sedalia opera house this evening.

Mr. Cowherd came here after a successful campaign yesterday in Moniteau county, where he spoke yesterday afternoon in California and last night in Tipton. At both places the Kansas Cityan was greeted by large and enthusiastic audiences.

Mr. Cowherd has campaigned in most of the counties of the state and is confident he will receive the nomination at the August primary. He is a democrat of state and national reputation, having served with distinction in congress for eight years. Mr. Cowherd is an eloquent speaker and the ladies are especially invited to hear him.

As mayor of Kansas City, Mr. Cowherd made a splendid record by virtue of his fight against the water works corporation, which resulted in the city taking over the plant. In congress he became prominent by his fight against the railroad corporations entering the city of Washington. Mr. Cowherd was a member of the committee before which the various railroads entering that city came asking an appropriation of $3,000,000 and 14 acres of land in the city, in consideration of their raising their tracks and building a new union depot. The committee reported favorably on the bill, and Mr. Cowherd, with one other member of the committee, conducted a fight on the floor of the house against the bill which lasted for three days. It was finally defeated.

As mayor of Kansas City, Mr. Cowherd also started the fight against the gas company, which resulted in the city getting cheaper gas in the following administration.

For twenty years he has made campaign speeches for democratic candidates throughout Missouri, at the request of the state committee, and his party services have been of inestimable value in helping to bring about many democratic victories.

Mr. Cowherd will outline in his address tonight his position on the best method of controlling the liquor traffic, his views on the school question and other questions whice have been injected into the campaign for the nomination.

Ex-Congressman John T. Heard will preside at the meeting and introduce Mr. Cowherd.

THE "RAT SCORCHER" AGAIN

A Warrant Issued for the Arrest of Thos. N. Steele.

Newly discovered evidence, claimed to be absolutely conclusive, was the occasion for another warrant being issued for the arrest of Thomas N. Steele in the criminal court today, charging him with arson.

An affidavit was sworn to by Mr. H. Clay Thornton, and Prosecuting Attorney Dow filed information in the circuit court, after which a warrant was issued for the arrest of Steele. The sheriff started post-haste for the apprehension of the party.

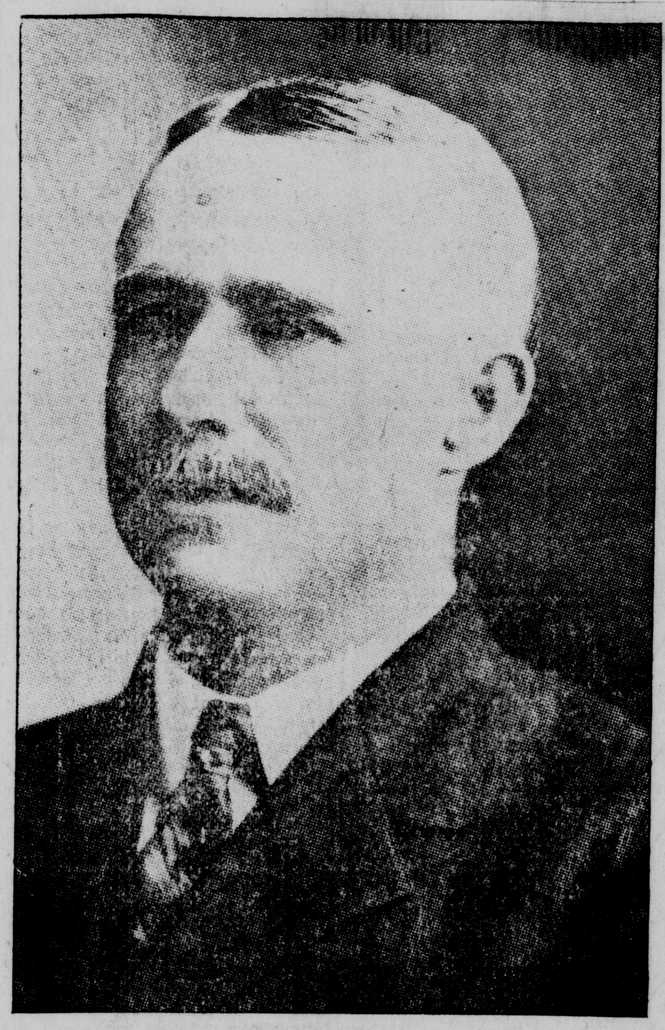

This newly discovered evidence has been kept a secret for fear the defendant would escape before arrest. It is expected the sheriff will have the man in custody before dark today.

Citizens of the northern part of the county have been diligently working on the case, and will be glad to learn of the action taken.

Judge Anderson in City.

Judge Ben M. Anderson, of Columbia, candidate for the democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, is in the city today visiting friends and looking after his race.

Judge Anderson while a member of the state senate was a warm friend of Pettis county, and because of that has many supporters here.

HON. W. S. COWHERD,

TO PLAY GOLF SATURDAY

SEDALIANS WILL HAVE GREAT DAY AT THE COUNTRY CLUB GROUNDS.

INDEPENDENCE DAY TOURNAMENT

Medal Play Handicap Will Begin at 2 O'clock—The Prive Is a Silver Cup, on Which Will Be Placed Winner's Name.

Saturday, July 4, will be a gala day at the Country club.

Beginning at 2 o'clock the annual Independence day tournament at 18 holes, medal play, handicap will be played. The beautiful club cup, upon which the name of the winners of this event are engraved is now held by Dr. W. M. Carter. The handicap for the tournament are herewith announced.

A new feature on the club house lawn is a nine hole putting course just finished. Charles H. Bard who is an enthusiastic member of the Country club, has presented a beautiful spoon upon which is shown a representation of the club house. With this spoon as a prize the ladies of the club will play an 18-hole putting contest beginning at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of July 4th.

In the evening after the events of the day are concluded a basket picnic will be enjoyed by many families and parties. All members who desire to take part in one of the best days of the year should plan to spend the Fourth with their friends and baskets at the Country club. It will be arranged so that all who may desire can drive into the grounds, it being expected, however, that care will be taken to avoid driving on or across any part of the golf links.

In the evening there will be a dance at the club house.

By reason of the wet grounds it has been impossible to have the links in as good condition as could have been wished. Extra efforts are being made and additional help has been put at work and the greens committee is confident that the grass will be cut and the course in fine shape for Saturday's play. In playing the tournament, players will start at the club house. Nos. 3 and 4 on the new grounds have been temporarily abandoned and old numbers 1 and 2 having been substituted will be played as 1 and 9.

Players should arrange their own games in advance. The rules of the game must be strictly adhered to by all.

A HEAVY FALL OF HAIL

Chickens Killed and Fruit Damaged West of Clinton.

Passengers who came in from the south on the M., K. & T. this morning reported a heavy fall of hail in Henry county last night.

A telephone message to the Democrat-Sentinel from the Clinton Democrat says that some of the hail stones were not only as large as the proverbial hen egg, but many of them were as large as teacups.

Chickens were killed, fruit was stripped from the trees and vegetation was ruined. The total damage will foot up a large sum.

Entertained the 500 Club.

Mrs. Claud Mahan and Miss Florence Poteet entertained the 500 club at the home of the latter on West Broadway yesterday afternoon. The club prize, a pair of silk hose, was won by Miss Stella Hurley; the guest prize, a deck of Congress playing cards, by Miss Leora Nichols, and Mrs. Will Lee carried off the "booby" prize.

Delicious refreshments of banana salad, potato chips, cheese straws, sweet pickles and orange ice were served.

Miss Maurine Harris will entertain the club Friday afternoon.

TO COOL WITH SNOW

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION TO HAVE NOVEL LOW TEMPERATURE SCHEME.

DENVER HAS HAD A CLEAN-UP

Hotels, Residences and Streets Have Been Gone Over to Make Good Appearance for the Great Gathering.

Denver, Col., July 2.—For the first time in the history of any national convention, an attempt will be made at the democratic convention to moderate the temperature of the hall by the use of snow. In anticipation of the coming of thousands from the east, there has been a general house cleaning of the city, many hotels have been remodeled, streets repaired and private residences burnished up. Every day emphasizes the fact that in many repects the approaching gathering will be a duplicate of the convention at Chicago, and that the two most pronounced features of the similarity will be the contests over the vice presidency and the injunction plank of the platform.

St. Louis, July 2.—Thomas H. Rachaw, aged 65 years, a former judge of the probate court and speaker of the Missouri house of representatives, died at his home last night from a complication of stomach disorders.

No date has been fixed for the wedding, but it will be solemnized this fall.

Does Sedalia Want Franchise?

H. V. Leist received a wire last night from Dr. D. M. Shively, president, asking if Sedalia fans stood prepared to purchase the franchise of the Springfield club in the Western Baseball Association, but up to press time no one has been found who cares to put up the necessary coin to put Sedalia on the baseball map.

REVENGE OF A HUSBAND

MURDERED A PHILADELPHIA PHYSICIAN FOR COMMITTING MALPRACTICE.

THERE MAY BE SOME HEART ACHES

Wife of Business Man Told Her Story on Deathbed—Then the Poisoned Ale and Destruction of the Doctor's Records.

Philadelphia, July 2.—A husband's desire to avenge the death of his wife who had been operated upon by Dr. William H. Wilson shortly before she died, was the motive that actuated the man who plotted to murder the physician with poisoned ale.

From the evidence they have gathered so far the police and the coroner know that the physician was slain by a man who had lost his wife because she had secretly submitted to an operation performed by Dr. Wilson. Coroner's Detective Paul and City Detective George Long have woven a close web of circumstantial evidence about the bereaved husband and his arrest is momentarily expected.

The husband is a well to do business man, a member of a widely known family and an ex-Philadelphian. He has lately made his home with his motherless children in a town not many miles from this city.

His wife, already the mother of three or four children, sought out Dr. Wilson several months ago. She had been directed to him by a wealthy woman friend. She concealed from her husband the fact that she had gone to the physician until she was fatally stricken with blood poisoning, the result of the operation he had performed upon her.

Upon her deathbed she confessed the truth to her husband. He had been devoted to her and the thought that he was to lose his wife under such circumstances drove him nearly insane. He recoiled from the idea of having Dr. Wilson arrested. He wished to shield his wife's good name and his children from the disgrace that an exposure would bring upon them. He alone had heard his wife's dying admissions, and he told no one the truth.

The suspected poisoner even went further in his scheme of revenge, that he might shield the name of his wife and family from those who would investigate the strange death of the physician.

At Dr. Wilson's bungalow on the west bank of the Delaware river, near Cornwall, Pa., it was discovered yesterday that every room in it had been turned topsy-turvy, drawers closets ransacked and their contents scattered about. Panels were torn from the walls and books of entry destroyed. The search had been systematic and not a corner had been overlooked.

It is known that Dr. Wilson kept a record of his cases with names and observations. The bungalow was his favorite hospital. There were operating tables and paraphernalia. His slayer, after the death Friday, must have gone straight to the bungalow, and, entering by breaking in the back door, gone through at his leisure the unguarded place.

It was plain to those who saw the bungalow and found that they had been preceded by someone who had searched every nook and cranny of the structure, that there Dr. Wilson had performed many of his illegal operations of which the police and the coroner now possess so much evidence, affecting members of some of the most widely known families of Philadelphia and its suburbs.

Mysterious and cunning as the crime itself was the life of Dr. Wilson. Some of his most intimate associates declare that they did not know Wilson was a doctor until they read an account of his death in Saturday's papers. Other pretend to be urday's papers. Others pretend to be drea mwhence came the income dream whence came the income $5,000 motor car and a country place in Cornwall, Pa., where he kept open house for as many as thirty guests at a time. No one ever questioned where he got more than enough money for his own needs, so that he was able to dispense largess at every hand.

The Weather Report.

Partly cloudy with probably showers tonight or Friday. Not much change in temperature.

LEST WE FORGET.

Following is a comparative table of Fourth of July casualties for four years. It is based upon reports compiled on the morning of July 5, and its figures are therefore much lower than the total number of deaths and injuries resulting from the celebration as would be shown by statistics gathered several weeks later. The total fire loss last year was about $500,000, though that reported on the morning after the ourth was only $340,000:

	1904	1905	1906	1807
Total injured	1,977	2,431	2,789	2,397
Fireworks	894	798	1 099	1,149
Cannon	180	202	261	282
Firearms	285	325	393	332
Gun Powder	480	603	697	375
Toy pistols	287	371	304	218
Runaways	61	40	35	41
Fire loss	$177,800	$115,800	$66,450	$340,555

DEAD 37
INJURED 2,397

In glaring type these figures greeted newspaper readers the morning of July 5 last year. As far as time allowed for the gathering of the information, they told of the annual penalty paid in the United States by careless celebrators of Independence day.

DEAD 59
INJURED 4,227

This was the score twenty-four hours later. And up to that time only one death from tetanus had been reported. It was not until late in August that the deadly lockjaw germ had ceased its work of destruction, and at that time many more had been added to the list of Fourth of July victims.

What will be the score this year? How will you or your children contribute to the foolish game? What particular instruments of destruction will you furnish? Are you scheduled to accidentally explode a toy cannon or send a stray bullet on its way? Will flying fragments from your unlawful cannon cracker add a victim to the list? Will your little bunch of firecrackers hurled recklessly into the street cause a runaway? Do you intend to play with gunpowder or daily with the toy pistol? Do you intend to allow your children to do these things? Will a dynamite cane in your hands open a wound for the reception of the fatal tetanus germ?

Is it worth while? Will your foolish antics add anything to the glory of the day? Is the fun Johnnie will get out of that toy pistol worth the risk of a sorrowful bedside scene, with death hovering near?

REBELLION IN MEXICO.

The situation in Mexico may be described as annoying, but not serious. The trouble in which the United States finds itself involved is not greatly different from that frequently caused by the unruly inhabitants of the Latin-American republics to the south. The chief distinction is that in this instance we are called upon to enforce our neutraity laws with a neighboring government. In other cases we have had our hands full protecting American interests, but in all such outbreaks the cause essentially is the same. A small band of irresponsible adventurers organize to overthrow the established order, and in the preparations and fighting that follow the United States has to prepare to keep the troublemakers out of its territory and see that they harm no interest it is bound to protect.

The so-called insurrection in Mexico, which is hardly more than a provincial brawl and can not be dignified with the name of a rebellion, has a working base in the United States. There is no doubt o fthis. The agitators of revolt against Diaz have long had established headquarters in Southern California and in Texas. Frequently in these outbreaks which are generally close to the border, the outlaws have entered our soil and used the international barrier to protect themselves from justice at the hands of Mexican courts and authorities. There are phases of these acts which there can be little doubt are violations of the neutrality laws. Public opinion in this country will uphold the government in adopting the most severe measures to dea with the situation and break up the nests and practices of Mexican bandits who use the states as bases of operations.

The present outbreak in Mexico will not amount to much. It has every appearance of being local. Of course, should Diaz die suddenly that would be another matter. There is keen and even dangerous rivalry for succession to the presidency. Diaz has ruled the nation since 1875 and he is now 75 years old. He would like to control the selection of his successor, but it is a question whether he will be able to do so. Political influences are at work in the capital to thwart the design of Diaz and he die while in office it is possible that attempts at desperate politics might precipitate an upheaval. Anything of the kind at this time is, however, quite out of the question. Diaz has a firm hold on the government, is supported by the people and his authority is well established throughout the republic.

The trouble near the Texas border seems to be in a measure the outgrowth of the uneasiness that exists regarding the presidential succession, but the political phase of the conspiracy is insignficant and premature and meets with no sympathy among property owning Mexicans.

When Fairbanks dallied with those cocktails he began to strike the political toboggan, and when added to that he began to count quorums in the senate to help the Wall street interests, even the republican managers were compelled to drop him.

Jim Sherman, the republican candidate for vce president, was the leader in forcing through the steal for extra mileage by the fifty-eighth congress on the ground of a constructive recess that never occurred.

Fifty thousand school teachers are this week in Cleveland, where some million or more school children just at present feel they would like to have them remain for the next year.

The republican "allies" are now asking to be "let alone." They have joined that St. Louis outfit whose motto is "Give us a rest and sunshine."

The only pleasure Senator Beveridge got out of the republican convention was when Fairbanks went down with a dull thud.

NOMINEE HAS ONE FAULT

Convention Names Man Who Eats Pie With His Knife.

St. Paul, Minn., July 2.—In a single session, lasting but three hours, the Minnesota republican convention yesterday nominated Jacob F. Jacobson, of Madison, for governor; adopted a platform indorsing the work of the Chicago convention and pledging the party in Minnesota to continue the work of railway regulation.

Mr. Jacobson's name was presented to the convention by former Congressman Eddy, who said: "The only reflection anyone has been able to cast on our candidate is that he eats pie with a knife.

"He is a rough, rugged, natural man. We could not have him any different if we would, and we would not if we could."

BAY STATE FOR MR. BRYAN

MASSACHUSETTS DELEGATES TO LEAVE BOSTON DURING AFTERNCON.

REACH DENVER SUNDAY MORNING

Favor Former Governor Russell as Candidate for Vice President, But Are Not Pushing His Claims.

Boston, July 2.—Pledged to support Bryan for the democratic presidential nomination, the Massachusetts delegation will leave this afternoon for Denver and will be on the ground early to aid in whooping things up for the Nebraskan. The party will arrive in Denver early Sunday evening. There will be just a glimpse of Niagara Falls going out, as the party goes via the Grand Trunk line from Buffalo to Chicago. There will be a stop of only two hours in Chicago, while waiting for the Rock Island train.

It will be 3:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon when the party will reach Lincoln, Neb. As the railroad runs very close to Bryan's homestead two hours will allow everybody to meet the candidate. The Massachusetts delegation will reach Colorado Springs Sunday morning, and, as the schedule has been changed a little, the day will be spent at this resort.

On the way home it is planned to spend a whole day in Chicago and three hours at Niagara Falls. It is probable that the Rhode Island and New Hampshire delegations will join the Massachusetts delegation en route, and all will travel by a special train to the convention city. The train will run via Greenfield and North Adams, picking up the delegates from the western part of the state.

All of the delegates who will attend the convention are practically solid for Bryan, but there seems to be no enthusiasm for any vice presidential candidate other than W. L. Russell. Numerous names have been mentioned for the second place on the ticket, including former Governor Russell, of this state; Governor Folk, of Missouri; Lieutenant Governor Chanler, of New York; ex-Governor Kern, of Indiana; and John Mitchell, the labor leader.

The latter's name has been sprung quite recently and reports from the home of Mr. Bryan are that he would be glad to have Mitchell as his running mate. The Massachusetts delegation will not attempt to pick out a vice presidential candidate and no promises will be made until the delegates arrive at Denver and have an opportunity of looking over the field.

DEAD WAGON AT WEDDING

Two Undertakers Wait at Door as Result of Joke.

Butler, Pa., July 2.—To step from Hymen's altar and find two undertakers awaiting them with ambulances was the serio-comic experience of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Stitt.

While the Rev. J. W. Pontius was performing the marriage ceremony at the home of Mr and Mrs. Thomas P. Klingensmith, parents of the bride, Miss Emma L. Klingensmith, some joker called the M. A. Berkhimer and George W. Amy undertaking rooms and ordered ambulances to the residence at double quick.

The ambulance men drove at breakneck speed to the home, arriving about the same time, and awaited the word to remove the dead and dying. Instead, they were introduced to a blushing bride and a nervous groom.

An effort to force the couple to take a dead-wagon ride failed. The joker will be asked to pay for the ambulance service.

BANDIT USES GIRL AS SHIELD

Abducts Stockman's Daughter and Is Captured by Posse.

Fresno, Cal., July 2.—Using the body of the girl he had kidnaped from her father's house as a shield for his own body, Cleveland Rogers held a posse at bay for half an hour Monday before surrendering himself and the girl.

The girl, Edna Domingine, 16 years old, daughter of a wealthy stockman of Coalinga, has been returned to her parents.

Awakened from a sound sleep by the firing of a dozen rifle shots in the yard of her ranch home in the foothills, she stumbled out into the night to find herself staring into the muzzles of two rifles in the hands of a pair of desperadoes. The scene was lighted by the glare of a burning barn, which the bandits had fired.

Clad only in her nightdress, the young girl stood terrified. Tony Loveall, leader of the pair, demanded $5,000 from Domingine. Domingine declared there was no money in the house. Rogers thereupon forced the young girl to guide him through her home, in a search for valuables. When the search revealed nothing he bundled Edna into a buggy and drove off.

At 4:30 Monday afternoon Rogers was overtaken at Jacks Springs. He fired two shots, but, seeing the armed men and officers swinging in, he gave up. He and the girl were brought to town in an automobile. A big crowd gathered and would have lynched Rogers had not Sheriff Chittenden pleaded with them.

ORCHARD IS NOT TO HANG

SENTENCE OF STEUNENBERG'S SLAYER COMMUTED TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT.

RECOMMENDATION OF JUDGE WOOD

Heads of Western Federation of Miners Tried on Revolting Story of Prisoner That Horrified the World.

Boise, Idaho, July 2.—The state board of pardons has commuted the sentence of Harry Orchard, who was under sentence to hang next Friday for the murder of former Gov. Frank Steunenberg, to imprisonment for life.

Orchard was arrested two days after the assassination of former Gov. Steunenberg, at Caldwell, Idaho, December 30, 1905, and a few weeks later, while confined in the Idaho penitentiary, confessed his guilt to James McParland of the Pinkerton detective agency, at the same time asserting he was employed to commit the crime by officers of the Western Federation of Miners.

As a result of his confession, Charles H. Moyer, president; William D. Haywood, secretary-treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, and Charles D. Pettibone were tried on the charge of murder. They were acquitted. John Simpkins, another member of the federation, also indicted, is still a fugitive. At the trials of Haywood and Pettibone, Orchard told a story of wholesale assassination which shocked the world. The case against Moyer was dismissed.

Orchard, who was indicted separately, when arraigned after his confession, stood mute, and the court directed that the plea of not guilty be entered. His case was continued from term to term until April 10 of this year, when it was called at Caldwell, and he asked permission to change his plea. The court granted the request and Orchard pleaded guilty to murder in the first degree.

In pronouncing the sentence of death a week later, Judge Wood recommended that the board of pardons commute the sentence, saying that he was firmly convinced that Orchard had told the whole and exact truth at the trials of Haywood and Pettibone, and that he was therefore, for the service he rendered the state, entitled to clemency.

The board, in taking this action, acted on the recommendation of Judge Fremont Wood, made at the time of sentencing Orchard. The pardon board, consisting of Gov. Gooding, Secretary of State Lansdon and Attorney Guhen, met in regular session yesterday and took up the Orchard case.

LLOYD'S HANDBOOK OUT

MISSOURIANS GET CONSIDERABLE SPACE IN NEW CAMPAIGN DOCUMENT.

'TIS ISSUED EARLIER THAN USUAL

Consisting Largely of Speeches in Congress It Will Be Distributed Under Franks—Mr. Hamlin's Effort.

Washington, July 2.—Representative James T. Lloyd, chairman of the democratic congressional campaign committee, issued the campaign book of the committee yesterday, and left at 4 o'clock p. m. for his home at Shelbyville, Mo., where he will remain a day or two en route to Denver.

He may also stop at Lincoln, Neb., on the way out.

The campaign book, which is prepared for the use of the democratic spellbinders, the candidates for congress, state committees and local committees, is issued much earlier than usual. Later the democratic national committee will also issue a campaign book. Mr. Lloyd's publication contains 386 pages, and Missouri democratic congressmen are given a large amount of space in it. Being made up entirely of speeches in congress, it will be distributed under congressional franks.

The title page announces that the publication is "extracts from the Congressional Record." The chapters are headed as follows:

Republican extravagance.
Financial and industrial conditions.
The tariff and trusts.
Federal usurpation.
Currency reform.
Philippine policy.
Tyranny of the speaker and rules committee.
Republican responsibility.
Alarming condition.
Thou shalt not steal.
Publicity of campaign funds.
Parker's vindication.
Labor.
Merchant marine.
Election of United States senators by vote of the people.

The opening chapter on "republican extravagance" is the speech of Representative Fitzgerald, the democratic member of the committee on appropriations of the house. Mr. Fitzgerald made this speech because Representative Livingston, of Georgia, ranking member of the minority, had to be absent in the closing days of congress on account of a fight for his nomination. In introducing this speech, comparison is made of the appropriations of the four years, 1906-1909, with the civil war expenditures, 1862-1865.

"Financial and industrial conditions" are discussed in a speech by Champ Clark, of Missouri, delivered February 13.

Senator Robert L. Owen, one of the youngest democratic senators in the congress, is given much space. His first contributions is a speech on "panics in relation to the republica nand democratic parties."

Representative Hamlin, of Missouri, has twelve pages to his credit in discussing "Responsibility Goes With Power." Mr. Rainey, of Illinois, got in with about twenty-five pages, most of which was "extended in the Record" on Feb. 15. His subject is "The Tariff and Trusts." Floyd, of Arkansas, is given space for a speech on "The President's Message and the Trusts," lelivered on St. Patrick's day. Senator Owen appears again with a speech on the currency question, in which he quotes a letter from the late James K. Jones, of Arkansas. Senator Stone, of Missouri, scores as a contributor under the head of "Currency Reform," he remarks on an amendment to the national banking laws, Feb. 18, being used.

Mr. Lloyd's only contribution, at least under his signature, is in relation to "Territorial Conditions." Mr. Lloyd is a member of the committee on territories of the house.

Naturally, Missouri scores strongly when the chapter on "Tyranny of the Speaker and Rules oCmmittee" is reached. This chapter leads off with Representative Shackleford's first attack on the last session, on Jan. 24, and it is followed by May 30. Missourians have about all of the Representative De Armond speech of kick there is coming on this subject in the publication, as the only other speech included under the head is one by Representative Nicholls, of Pennsylvania.

The fumes of the turpentine and other materials contained in the paint together with the constant climbing and stooping served to keep my kidneys in a much disordered condition. There was a constant pain through my back and loins, the secretions were much too frequent in action, and the passages were often attended with pain. I was subject to dizzy spells, and often when walking upon the street I would stagger like a man intoxicated. There is every prospect that this will be the most successful national gathering of the scribes since the birth of the organization thirty-two years ago.

FAMINE RAGES IN INDIA

OVER A MILLION NATIVES DECLARED TO BE ON VERGE OF STARVATION.

COUNTRY FACING A GRAVE CRISIS

Many Thousands Are Miles From Government Relief Depot and Still Others to Weak to Walk There.

Calcutta, July 2.—Despite the declaration of the British officials that they have the situation under control and that sufficient relief supplies have been provided to prevent and desperate suffering, reports from the interior state that the famine conditions are daily growing worse.

Over a million natives are declared to be on the verge of starvation, thousands are said to have succumbed within the last few weeks and gloomy prophecies are made that no less than ten millions will be forced to subsist on charity or die miserably during the summer and autumn.

While all of these statements cannot be verified, owing to the secrecy of the government, which fears a widespread insurrectionary movement, there is little doubt that India is facing a grave crisis.

The recurrence of these terrible famines is due to several causes, mostly attributable to the influence of the British government. Four-fifths of the population are now entirely dependent on capricious crops for their sustenance, and although great irrigation works have been carried out, the state of agriculture is still very unstable.

Each peasant cultivates a little patch of land, which supplies the bare living for himself and his family. When the crop fails they are faced with starvation. The British regime provides regular employment for only a fraction of the natives, while it has killed a great deal of the native industry, and has imposed other conditions on the people which work against the prosperity of the natives. The taxes are high, and the economic system imposed by British rule is unsuited to the conditions of native life.

Besides the millions of peasants who are liable to starvation at the slightest failure of the crops, there is an enormous population of beggars and workless people whose condition is entirely hopeless during a famine. Many thousands of these are doomed to a lingering death from inanition.

The condition of the poor creatures affected by the famine is pitiful beyond words. Those who are forced to apply for government relief have been already living for months on half or a quarter of their usual allowances of food. Long experience has inured them to living on next to nothing. Many families have been living on a daily handful of dried peas, occasionally varied by wild fruit and roots, or even less palatable food.

The famine being spread over a vast territory, thousands of the natives are miles from a government relief depot, and many of them die because they cannot drag their wasted bodies to the depots. For every thousand persons who get relief, there must be as many who are too weak, or perhaps too proud, to apply for it.

HER BLOOD SAVES SISTER

Transfusion Into Arteries After Hemorrhage Is Successful.

Omaha, Neb., July 2.—Mrs. Sarah Gerrie, of Omaha, has just given a large amount of her own blood to save the life of her sister, and so successful was the transfusion that the sick woman, Mrs. Frank Perry, was yesterday pronounced out of danger.

Ten days ago Mrs. Perry suffered a hemorrhage and lost so much blood that her life was despaired of. Surgeons said unless blood could be artificially introduced into her arteries death would result.

Mrs. Gerrie volunteered to furnish the necessary blood and arteries in the arms of the women were connected and remained in that condition several hours.

The operation left Mrs. Gerrie weak from loss of blood, but both women have now recovered.

REVENGE CAUSES ARREST

Sets Fire to Store That Had Him Sent to Penitentiary.

New York, July 2.—Eager for revenge because he had served a nine months' sentence on Blackwell's Island for smashing the window of a department store, Joseph Liston imperiled the lives of hundreds by setting fire to the same place within three hours of his release from the penitentiary. He is now due for another and a longer term.

Just out of prison, Liston returned to the store and asked to see some lace curtains. As the saleswoman turned her back he threw a lighted match into the fabrics and in the panic that ensued, fled. He was caught after a hard fight, while terrified women screamed and the employes of the store fought the flames.

PROHIBITION AN ISSUE

LIQUOR QUESTION BROUGHT TO THE FORE IN SENATORIAL CONTEST.

SITUATION IN CLAY COUNTY, MO.

Francis Wilson and Charles F. Fricklin Are Candidates and the Campaign Promises to Be Exceedingly Warm.

Liberty, Mo., July 2.—The prohibition issue has been injected squarely into the democratic campaign for the senatorial nomination of the Third district by the attitudes of Francis Wilson and Charles F. Fricklin, the contestants.

Accurately speaking, Fricklin injected it in a speech at Dearborn, in which he declared himself in favor of state wide prohibition as distinguished from local option.

In this speech the candidate came out flatfootedly in favor of a prohibitory law and told his audience that he would support such a measure.

Francis Wilson has made his position equally plain. He is on record for local option as a means of settling the liquor question, claiming that the locality, not the state, should have the privilege of deciding such matters. Mr. Wilson argues that this means of settling the question is the democratic means because it leaves to the people of a community the privilege of local self-government so far as the liquor question is concerned.

Fricklin points to the fact that many of the counties of Missouri are dry, and apparently believes that this means that the state favors prohibition. Wilson mantains that local option is the democratic method, says that the local option law is of democratic origin and points to the fact that Bryan, Stone and Folk are local optionists. Wilson, however, is known to be in favor of submitting the prohibition amendment if sentiment throughout the state demands it.

This puts the prohibition question squarely up to the democratic voters of the district. Neither candidate is dodging the issue, and a vote for Wilson is a vote for local option and the submission of a prohibitory amendment if the people desire it; a vote for Fricklin is a vote for state wide prohibition.

Thus far the two candidates have not appeared upon the same platform, but it has been suggested that the recommendation as to joint debate between candidates for United States senator and the governorship be applied to the Third district race. The question of prohibition is a real live issue in this district, and many people would like to hear Wilson and Fricklin debate on that subject.

A CHAPTER ON FASHIONS

COAT AN ALL IMPORTANT FEATURE OF DRESS AT THE PRESENT TIME.

CATHERINE MANN-PAYZANT'S VIEW

Every Woman Should Be Able to Find Some Particular Mode, Some Style, That Will Suit Her Individual Needs.

New York, July 2.—The coat is an all important feature of dress this summer and is appearing in a greater number of styles than heretofore. The differentsorts are of all lengths, all materials, borrowed from many historical periods. Every woman should be able to find some mode, some stye that will fit her individual needs.

One of the smartest of the dressy jackets is a rather long model with the front parts cut away, in some so much that the hips, left free, are fastened by means of one or two buttons only. The shortened back parts of these jackets terminate in a rounded off basque toward the sides.

Sleeves are the most interesting part of the new coats, and they are very long and tight in the front and at the back, from the elbow shows folds and is finished off with lace frills at the hand. It is a sleeve the style of which is used both for jackets and dresses.

When intended for evening wear, the loose flowing lines predominate, and among general utility coats there are many of picturesque types with a suggestion of mantle or cape or perhaps a fancifully draped sleeve.

One of the fancies of the season is the moire coat, though the taffetas and pongees are still holding their own. Taffeta is used for everything in the coat line from the dust coat to evening wraps, and particular mention should be made of the serviceable little coatees so popular this season and worn so frequently over the lingerie dress.

The lace coats are having a great run, and no wonder, for they are light, just enough warmth for the cooler evenings, and yet, if occasion demands, may be worn over a gown in the daytime.

There are two smart models. The first is tight fitting to the waist line and snug in the front and back. The sides are molded upon the same lines as the tailor made gowns, giving it a little of the look of the tailor made. The second coat is only half-fitting. It is fitted in the back, but open and loose in the front and hangs in graceful lines away from the figure. The last type is the more generally becoming, and may be worn by the tall and the stout woman.

Women hesitate to wear a jacket over a handsome gown, but the lace coats or wraps are filling just the need.

It is a fad among women who can afford it to have several lace coats, the indispensable black coat, a white or light coat for evening wear, and there is a fad just now for pale pink lace coats to wear over pink silk or lace lingerie gowns, and the light yellows to wear with yellow flowered stuffs that will be in use so much this summer.

Brown laces are exceedingly smart and one can buy a brown lace blouse with a long brown lace coat to match. A brown voile skirt, trimmed with brown taffeta completes a very neat afternoon costume which may be either short or long. Of course, the same idea may be carried out in other colors as well.

WAS OLDEST PRISONER

LEGALLY HANGED YEARS AGO, BUT FREED FROM PRISON YESTERDAY.

SEES STREET CARS FOR FIRST TIME

John Gales Was 22 Years Old When He Murdered John Hassell, a Farmer Living Near Evanston, in Illinois.

Chicago, July 2.—John Gales, the oldest prisoner in the Joliet penitentiary in point of service, emerged from the prison walls yesterday a free man, after twenty-six long years spent in cell and workshop.

An unconditional pardon was in his hands, signed by Governor Deneen, but his brain, enfeebled with long solitude and the monotony of confinement, hardly understood what it meant. He was too dazed, too startled, by a dream in which strange things, known as street cars, and other stranger things, called automobiles, rushed up and down streets, filled with buildings, monstrous structures.

The trance lasted until Gales had reached Chicago by trolley car, his first ride and had been escorted to the home of his sister, 147 Veder street.

Gales was a remarkable prisoner; in fact, there was nothing to show on the prison records that Gales was a prisoner there. Officially, he was hanged in the Cook county jail on March 21, 1882. The county records indicate this, the state records show the same.

Gales was 22 years old when he murdered John Hassell, a farmer living near Evanston. Hassell was chopped to pieces with an ax.

Gales was convicted and sentenced to death. His execution day was set for March 21, 1882.

The day before the one set for the hanging, Governor Shelby Cullom, now Senator Cullom, for hours sat in the death chamber and talked to the prisoner.

"Don't hang the boy," he said after the visit. "I'll sign the necessary papers tomorrow before the hour of execution, and you can take him to the penitentiary for life."

Maybe those papers were signed, but the jail records don't show it; in fact, there is nothing to show that Gales was not legally executed.

Judges to whom the case was brought three years ago insisted on hearing it in chambers and nothing was done.

So Gales stayed in the penitentiary. But it was known as a principle of law that had the warden left the cell door open and had Gales wandered away, he could not have been brought back.

Through the petition of the Luxemberg society, the governor released the prisoner and returned him to Chicago.

Says He Is Innocent on Gallows.

Wethersfield, Conn., July 2.—John Warlhski was hanged in the state prison here yesterday for the murder of Peter Luckaswicz in New Haven, on Dec. 3, 1903. Warhlski sobbed as he was being led to the gallows. He kept saying "I am not guilty" until the trap was sprung.

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

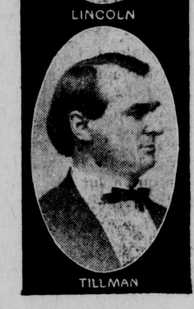

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native, medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retorversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

FAST TRAINS MET HEADON

dered from Lamonte, Knobnoster and Warrensburg.

The injured were cared for promptly, and about 9 o'clock, after all had been given temporary treatment, were brought to Sedalia on a special train and taken to the Katy hospital.

The train was pulled over to the Broadway crossing on the Katy tracks and the injured taken to the hospital in carriages and ambulances.

While of course there was several hours' delay in getting things shaped for traffic, passengers en route east on No. 12 got out of Sedalia about 11:30 o'clock. The train was made up of cars from No. 3, which were undamaged and brought to Sedalia. It left here known as train No. 22. Conductor Williams, whose home is in St. Louis, was a passenger on this train.

Conductor Williams would make no statement about the wreck except to say that it was no fault of the train crew. His injury did not seem to be giving him much pain.

The passengers on train No. 3 were taken to Warrensburg and thence to Kansas City in the undamaged cars of train No. 12.

Train No. 7, the Missouri Pacific fast mail, and all westbound trains, freight and passenger, were sent out over the Lexington branch today, thus relieving the delay to traffic across the state very materially.

At the local offices nothing could be learned as to the direct cause or as to who was responsible for the wreck.

It is said, however, that the collision was caused by the "lapping" of train orders, that train No. 12, east bound, had orders to meet No. 3, west bound, at Lamonte, while No. 7 had orders to meet No. 12 at Knobnoster, and that when the mixup was discovered the trains could not be stopped, there being no night operator at either Lamonte or Knobnoster, and the inevitable result was their coming together.

A Democrat-Sentinel reporter was sent to the scene of the wreck on the wrecking train this morning, and this afternoon phoned from Lamonte that he had just returned there from the wreck with the train that brought three of the cars that were a part of train No. 3 and were badly demolished.

These cars were being guarded, the Democrat-Sentinel reporter said, by Secret Service Officer N. P. Kemp and Officer Howard Wood. It was believed that there were two or three additional dead in one of the wrecked cars.

Train No. 3 was running thirty miles an hour when the collision occurred in a cut, while No. 12 was running only five miles an hour and was under control.

The engine and first mail car on No. 12 were badly demolished, while the second mail car was telescoped by the express car.

The first mail car on No. 3 was badly telescoped by the baggage car, while a combination baggage and express car telescoped the second mail car.

W. B. Welsh, an express messenger of St. Louis, is missing, and it is feared his dead body is in one of the demolished cars.

It was stated this afternoon that the track would be cleared by the supper hour so that traffic could be resumed.

"WETS" MAKE GHOST WALK

Beer Fees and Saloon Licenses Rehabilitate Revenue Fund.

Jefferson City, July 2.—To the satisfaction of all concerned the "ghost walked" at the state house yesterday and employes of the departments received their monthly stipends. When the treasury closed Monday there were but four cents left in the revenue fund, from which the civil list is paid.

Yesterday's mail brought two heavy remittances from St. Louis, which were immediately available for the revenue fund. One of these was a check for $40,708.40, representing the June collections of the state beer inspector, and the other was a draft for $21,588.25 from the city collector of St. Louis, this amount representing the state's share of the collections for saloon licenses for the week ending June 28.

This indicates that the "wets" saved the day by tiding over the revenue fund so that salaries of the Missouri civil list will be paid without delay.

GIRL BURGLAR CONFESSES

Hid Stolen Property in Go-Cart Under Teddy Bear.

New York, July 2.—The story of a tiny girl burglar was revealed in police court yesterday, when Anne Wilson, aged 9 years, was arraigned on a charge of grand larceny.

The child told of how she successfully committed over fifty burglaries, and she identified every article of the stolen goods which filled two boxes. She said she was taught to steal by her elders, but a woman who was held on suspicion denied the charge.

She had learned how to climb through rear windows and ransack homes, and carried away her spoils in a little gocart, in which she placed a "Teddy bear" to conceal the stolen property.

The defense yesterday introduced evidence to show the good character of Carr. Two service letters were read, one from the Santa Fe and one from the Wells-Fargo company stating that he had resigned to secure a better position.

ALBERT FILLEY MUST HANG

The Date of the Death of the Kingston Murderer August 21.

Kingston, Mo., July 2.—Albert Filley was sentenced yesterday by Judge Francis H. Trimble to be hanged Friday, August 21, 1908. Judge Trimble overruled a motion for a new trial and another for the arrest of judgment. Filley refused to allow his attorneys to take an appeal in the case, and it is understood that no further effort will be made in his behalf.

The appearance of Filley in the court room attracted a crowd which quickly taxed the capacity of the large room. While the judge was passing sentence on him Filley wept so violently that the sheriff was ordered to seat him. In answer to the judge's question as to why sentence should not be passed on him, he said:

"I have nothing to say."

THIS CRIME A MYSTERY

DISCOVERY OF A BODY BOUND, GAGGED, BEATEN AND BURNED.

JEWELS WERE FOUND IN HER ROOM

Diamond Dealers Know "Mrs. E. Thompson" Who Had a Fancy for Gems—Police Hard at Work on the Case.

Chicago, July 2.—Following the discovery of the body of a murdered woman, choked, beaten and gagged, in a rooming house on fashionable Michigan avenue here yesterday, the police are seeking the victim's companion and the housekeeper at the house, in their endeavor to solve the most sensational crime here since the days of Holmes and Hoch.

"Mrs. E. Thompson," 35, beautiful and wealthy, came to the private boarding place at 1242 Michigan avenue Sunday with a companion who registered himself as J. H. Raymond and the woman as his wife. Yesterday the woman's body, undressed, was found stretched full length upon the floor, a gag in the mouth, a sheet and other bed clothing binding the feet and arms, the skull fractured by a blunt instrument and the body bruised. The head rested in a pool of blood.

Servants broke open the door of the room when they grew suspicious over the absence of both "Raymond" and the house keeper of the place.

Assistant Chief Schuettler took charge of the case. An examination of the room disclosed four purchase slips for $50 worth of jewelry and diamonds from Hyman, Berg & Co., Marshall Field & Co., Lewy Bros. and the Lieboldt Co.

The slips all were made out to "Mrs. E. Thompson, Chicago," no address being given. The police also found in the room two diamond rings and a diamond stick pin.

The man Raymond is described as tall and evidently prosperous. He also was about 35 years old.

The sheet wrapped about the mouth was removed by the police last afternoon to get a better view of the woman's face. It then was found that a handkerchief had been stuffed into the mouth and far down the throat. Finger marks also were found on the throat.

The clothing was dainty and evidently costly, and the nails of the hands showed signs of careful manicuring.

"Raymond" first appeared at the house last Saturday and asked to be shown a room. When one was shown him he registered as "J. H. Raymond" and then said he would bring his wife to see if she liked it. He left the place, returning in a few minutes with a woman about 35 years old, good looking and well dressed. They took the room.

Sunday afternoon the man left the house and has not since returned. The housekeeper, Mrs. Harry Norton, heard no sound in the room, although no one had seen the woman go out, and today the door was found locked. It was broken down and the woman's body was disclosed.

Larry Grawberg, who occupies the room adjoining that occupied by the couple, was in his room Saturday night and nearly all day Sunday, but he says he heard no sound, except that of the man Raymond as he left Sunday.

Hyman, Berg & Co. and Lewy Bros., jewelers, both said "Mrs. Thompson had been a frequent purchaser of jewels from them. On Feb. 20 a woman giving the name of "Mrs. E. Thompson, Oak Park," purchased a diamond ring from Hyman, Berg & Co., paid for it and took it away.

Lewy Bros. reported that "Mrs. E. Thompson," on Feb. 15, exchanged a diamond ring for a larger one at their store and paid the difference in price.

The police are investigating both reports, in the hope of throwing some light on the identity of the murdered woman.

THE JOHNSON BOOMERS

Have Abandoned Hope of Landing Their Man.

St. Paul, Minn., July 2.—Several Johnson boomers for Minnesota are already in Denver or on the way and a considerable addition to the ranks will leave the Twin Cities within the next day or two, determined to make the best showing possible for their candidate.

While very enthusiastic, there is little real hope of landing the presidential plum for Minnesota. Talk of Johnson as the vice presidential candidate still continues despite the declaration of the governor's friends that he would not accept the nomination.

WILL NOT ENDORSE DEBS

National Convention of the Socialist Labor Party.

New York, July 2.—Another presidential candidate will enter the race as a result of the national convention here of the socialist labor party, to begin tomorrow.

Many delegates have arrived, but no agreement on a presidential ticket has been reached. Overtures with the socialist party leaders have apparently failed and Debs will not be indorsed.

By reason of his South American birth, Daniel DeLeon, leader of the party, is not eligible for the presidential nomination.

THE COAST IS FOR BRYAN

Confident He Will Be Our Next Chief Executive.

San Francisco, July 2.—The democracy of the Pacific coast is solid for Bryan. All doubt as to this has been dissipated by the enthusiasm of the delegates, who will be on the ground early to boost Bryan, and by the large number of party leaders and politicians who will go from the coast states to Denver with the same object in view.

Reports received here today indicate that the coast states will have a larger representation of shouters at the Denver gathering than at any previous national convention in the history of the country.

IS LOVE LETTER A WILL?

If It Is, Henry Kennedy Will Get $25,000 of Wife's Property.

Fairfield, Ill., July 2.—If Henry B. Kennedy can persuade the circuit court of Wayne county to construe the statements of a love letter into the terms of a will, he will gain a large part of the estate of his late wife, Mrs. Rebecca Barrackman-Kennedy, which, by a decree of the court, has gone to Mrs. Oliver P. Borah, an adopted daughter of Mrs. Kennedy, and a former husband, Dr. W. S. Barrackman.

Kennedy is in court trying to have one of his wife's letters, written before their marriage, in which she states that she wishes him to have all of her property, construed as a will.

The case came up for hearing in this court this term, and the court ruled that the letter referred to should be brought into court, and continued the case for a hearing before Judge Pearce next month.

The amount involved is about $25,000.

ECZEMA IS NOW CURABLE.

A St. Louis chemist, after many years of careful experimenting and investigation, has discovered a simple remedy that has cured hundreds of cases of eczema that had been pronounced incurable. This chemist believed that eczema and all itching skin diseases were of local origin and were caused by berms which attacked and fed on the skin. He began to search for a remedy that would destroy these germs, and found that by combining the active principles of certain well known vegetable drugs, and applying them locally, the first application stopped the itching and burning, and if used persistently would drive all germs and their poisons to the surface of the skin and destroy them, leaving a nice, clear, healthy skin. He gave this remarkable remedy the suggestive name of Zemo, and since its introduction to the public Zemo has proved a very popular remedy and it today recognized the most sucessful and meritorious remedy ever produced for the relief and cure of eczema and all diseases of the skin and scalp.

Mr. Dan Wilcox, the druggist, endorses and recommends Zemo and says that he believes Zemo to be an honest medicine and will do all that is claimed for it.

$115,000 FOR THE TRIP

TAMMANY HALL DELEGATION TO LEAVE NEW YORK TOMORROW.

New York, July 2.—There is hurry and bustle today at the wigwam of Tammany, where the finishing touches are being added to the preparations for the start to Denver tomorrow. About 650 braves will make up the party. They expect to have oodles of fun, under the leadership of Big Chief Murphy, and they expect to pay at least $115,000 for it.

This is the most modest estimate of those in charge of the de luxe excursion to the mile-high town. The arrangements include the provision of a liberal quantity of all varieties of snake-bite remedy. The braves have heard that there are lots of serpents out in the wild and woolly and undiscovered country to which they are going and they will not go unprepared.

Five special trains will carry 650 braves to the great pow-wow. Two trains will go over the New York Central, two over the Pennsylvania and one over the Erie railroad. All will be made up of cars de luxe.

Upon arriving in Denver the Tammany men will parade with martial music before going to headquarters at the Brown Palace hotel. They expect to make a fine appearance, headed by Big Chief Charles F. Murphy.

The cost of transportation for each brave will be $60 the round trip, with $22 extra for a berth. It is estimated that each man will eat—and drink—$19 worth.

The total cost of transportation is figured at $65,000, with $50,000 more to make a big show in Denver.

"Tom" Smith, secretary of Tammany Hall, the most famous man of that name east of Pike's Peak, has charge of the excursion. So the trip is bound to be a success, no matter who is nominated.

It has been arranged that the trains en route to Denver will stop more than two hours at Kansas City and Omaha, Sunday, in order to allow the Tammanyites to go to church.

Maurice Featherson, who is not on good terms with Charles F. Murphy, has arranged to lodge his delegates away from the rest of the Tammany braves. When Secretary Tom Smith went to Denver some weeks ago to engage quarters for the Tammany contingent he included in his arrangements lodgings for the Featherson men. But Featherson has obtained special accommodations for himself and his men. He thinks that he and his friends will enjoy themselves more and feel less restrained if they are lodged under some other roof than that which covers the Tammany chief.

William J. Bryan's representatives in this city have engaged a special train for themselves and other admirers of the Peerless One who wish to attend the convention. The trip will cost $118, including meals, and at Denver the Bryanites will sleep in the cars. The train will be stopped at Lincoln Neb., for a visit to Mr. Bryan at his home.

PARROT PROVES OWNERSHIP

Bird Recites Pet Phrases in Court at Girl's Dictation.

Cincinnati, July 2.—Justice Maus has solved the question of the ownership of a parrot by placing the bird on the stand to give its own testimony. Miss Bertha Saunders and Miss Emma Harris were the rival claimants for the bird. Miss Harris held it, but Miss Saunders had brought action to replevin.

To prove her ownership, Miss Saunders wrote a string of pet phrases she had taught the bird, gave them to the judge, and started the parrot on his recitation.

As the bird reeled off saying after saying, the judge decided Miss Saunders' plea was correct.

EATS AND CRIES FOR MORE

Slayer, Although Well Fed, Will Not Discuss His Case.

Clay City, Ill., July 2.—Julius Turner, who killed his wife and shot his son, mistaking him for an admirer of Mrs. Turner, and then attempted to shoot himself to death, has concluded his long fast by which he hoped to commit suicide after a bullet had failed to bring about the desired end.

Turner, who was removed to Louisville, the county seat, yesterday ate everything the sheriff gave him and cried for more.

Until yesterday morning the slayer had been fasting since Saturday evening, when he killed his wife. He refused to name the man he mistook for his son, even after he had eaten three meals.

Turner waived a preliminary hearing yesterday and was remanded to jail. His case will be tried at the next term of the circuit court, in September.

SHE MAYWED DR. NANSEN

PRINCESS VICTORIA, THE OLD MAID DAUGHTER OF EDWARD, THE KING.

THE DOCTOR IS FAMOUS EXPLORER

It Is Alleged That He Left the Court of St. James Because of His Ardent Attachment for Pretty Princess.

London, July 2.—Persistent rumors are being circulated in London to the effect that Princess Victoria, the old maid daughter of King Edward, will shortly marry a commoner, Dr. Fridjof Nansen, the famed explorer, who was until recently the Norwegian ambassador to London.

The princess is now nearing her fortieth milestone, but her affection for the gallant descendant of the Vikings is alleged to be none the less warm because of her mature age. Having withstood the flattering attentions of scores of princes and nobles, she has at last succumbed to the tender passion.

It is alleged that Dr. Nansen left the court of St. James because of his attachment for the princess and the consequent displeasure of her royal father.

The Princess Victoria, however, like her royal grandmother, is capable of exercising a will of her own and it is whispered in social circles that the king and queen may yet give their assent to a marriage with the untitled suitor of the princess.

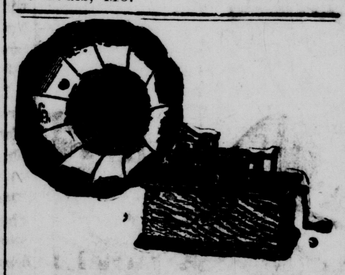

It is known that the king entertains a respectful admiration for the Norwegian explorer, and, as man to man, would probably consider him a desirable son-in-law.

LILLIAN RUSSELL ANGRY

Consults Lawyer for Redress, After Reading Freak Article.

New York, July 2.—Lillian Russell is real angry at a New York newspaper. It intimated that she was fat. Yesterday she was in consultation with her lawyer, Alfred Lauterbach, as to whether a suit for damages would be likely to soothe her ruffled feelings.

Under the caption, "Having Your Fat Cut Off," the newspaper printed a freak Sunday article illustrated with pictures of the fair Lillian. The "before taking," she insists, is too much so, and of the "after taking" she says: "I never was as skinny in my life."

GOTCH IS STILL CHAMPION

Dr. B. T. Roller an Easy Victim in Seattle Last Night.

Seattle, Wash., July 2.—Frank Gotch, of Humboldt, Ia., maintained his right to the world's championship last night, when he outclassed Dr. Benjamin T. Roller in a wrestling match. He won two consecutive falls, the first in fifteen minutes and twenty-five seconds, and the second in twenty-five minutes and fifty-four seconds.

When the men entered the ring each weighed close to 200 pounds. Roller may have been a few pounds heavier. Gotch worked his famous toe hold six times in succession in the first bout. Roller broke away each time, but it wore on him, and finally Gotch downed him with a crotch and half Nelson.

Roller did better work in the second bout, but Gotch went from hold to hold rapidly. Roller's best work in this bout was breaking a half Nelson and crotch after having seemingly lost. He was finally picked up and dumped to the shoulders from the same hold.

"Cash" and Domestic Rows.

That money is the "root of all evil" is a maxim we all learned in our copybook days. And 80 per cent. of newly-made wives discover to their astonishment that money worries, disputes over bills, and accusations of "extravagance" against the lady of the house are at the bottom of the clouds and thunder storms which rouse the honeymooners to the fact that "life is real, life is earnest," and not an unending chapter of connubial bliss, courting and kisses.

PILOT GROVE ITEMS.

Pilot Grove, June 30.

B. W. Hale, of the Ruralist, spent yesterday with H. L. Stites. He reports Mr. Stites' Durocs coming on nicely, and anticipates that Mr. Stites will have a good sale August 20.

Miss Ada Garnett, of Parsons, Kan., en route from St. Louis, where she had been visiting, stopped off here a few days with Miss Mattie Stites. Misses Garnett and Stites were room mates while attending C. B. C. in Sedalia ten years ago, and have frequently visited with each other since they left school.

C. A. Woods, of Ft. Scott, Kan., was here this week. Through C. A. Woods and J. T. Woods, of this place, a deal was negotiated between Kansas parties and Mr. J. T. Ellis, by which Mr. Ellis becomes owner of a ranch of 2,800 acres in western Kansas. He puts in exchange all his possessions here and a large farm in Morgan county. Unless Mr. Ellis disposes of his ranch he will move there either this fall or early in the spring. For thirty years Mr. Ellis has been a resident of Pilot Grove, identified with its interests, and he and his excellent family will be missed when they go away.

Mrs. T. H. Shaw, of Houston, Tex., arrived last week on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Schlotzhauer, and other relatives at her former home.

Ernest Schlotzhauer has sold to Judge Adam Rudolph, eighteen head of steers at $7.50 per hundredweight. These cattle will weigh 1600 pounds or more, and of course they are good ones.

J. B. Lake, with a force of workmen, put a new roof on the Presbyterian church last week.

Misses Edverda Barnes and Mary Shemwell went to Ridge Prairie today to visit the family of James Marr.

Miss Minnie Murrell, of Marshall, is being entertained by Miss Vivian Ellis.

James Hall and wife are at Edgewood for several weeks. Mrs. Hall and sister, Miss Hattie Paxton, own Edgewood farm, but Mr. and Mrs. Hall come every harvest and remain until the grain is threshed and marketed. Mr. Hall is a druggist, but he takes right hold at Edgewood and the neighbors pronounce him a good farmer.

Mrs. Cannie Thompson Breckenridge and children are here from Houston, Texas, to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thompson.

J. E. Watson, editor of the Record, has announced his candidacy for representative. Mr. Watson is well qualified for a lawmaker, and is a good citizen. He is a republican, and if Cooper county must have a republican legislator, let it be the editor of the Record.

S.S.S. NATURE'S PERFECT TONIC

There is scarcely any one, no matter how vigorous and healthy, who does not need a tonic sometimes. Little physical irregularities upset the system, the appetite fails, digestion is poor, the body feels tired and worn out, and other unpleasant symptoms give warning that the system is disordered and needs assistance to ward off, perhaps, some serious sickness or ailment. S. S. S. is recognized everywhere as the best of all tonics, nature's medicine, made entirely of healing, cleansing, invigorating roots and herbs, a systemic remedy without an equal. S. S. S. has the additional value of being the greatest of all blood purifiers. It re-establishes the healthy circulation of the blood, rids the body of that tired, worn-out feeling, improves the appetite and digestion, and brings about a return of health to those whose systems have been weakened or depleted. S. S. S. acts more promptly and pleasantly than any other medicine, and those who are run down in health should commence its use at once. It will thoroughly purify the blood and tone up the system. S. S. S. is admirably suited for a systemic remedy because it is free from minerals; it may be used without harmful results by persons of any age, and no unpleasant effects ever follow.

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

THOUSANDS OF MEN RECALLED TO WORK, AND OTHERS EMPLOYED.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

The Missouri, Kansas & Texas, the Wabash, the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain System, the Mobile & Ohio, the Illinois Central, the Rock Island, the Frisco, and practically every railroad in the south and west have begun increasing their forces in all departments, says today's St. Louis Republic.

Additional trainmen are being engaged daily, as traffic grows; the number of employes in shops has been increased, and shops are being put on full time and with full force.

In the St. Louis district, in Missouri and Illinois, thousands of men have been recalled to work in the past thirty days.

Many factories reopened yesterday and many more put on additional men. It is estimated that the increases at St. Louis yesterday, in manufacturing and commercial concerns, went well into the thousands.

Business men report industry and trade as being practically normal again, and preparations are being made for heavy commerce during the rest of the year.

Katy Shops at Parsons.

The machine shops of the M., K. & T. Ry. Co., at Parsons, Kan., which have been closed since May 16, were opened yesterday in all departments, about 1,000 men returning to work.

The shops will be operated nine hours every day, running at full capacity.

Back to Work in Springfield.

The Frisco shops put 1,500 men at work on full time at Springfield yesterday, and soon will increase the number to 1,800. The shops have been working half-time since October.

The plant of the American Cresoting Company, with 1,000,000 ties on hand, also resumed work today.

Automatic Couplers.

The Katy's roadbed is fast getting back into old time shape, and the trains are running closer to the schedules. This morning Nos. 1 and 2 were about on the minute in arriving.

BOSTON HAS A SENSATION

CHARGED WITH MAILING OBJECTIONABLE MATTER TO A GIRL.

THE ACCUSED IS QUITE PROMINENT

He Refused to Talk About the Matter Other Than to Say Most Emphatically That He Is an Innocent Man.

Boston, July 2.—Captain Henry W. Pitman, aged 62, whose arrest on a charge of sending objectionable letters through the mails to a 14-year-old Chelsea girl, caused consternation in Boston military and fraternal circles, will be given a hearing today before United States Commissioner Hayes. Captain Pitman is a resident of the suburb of Somerville.

He is a leader in several fraternal and military bodies, prominent in politics and a social leader. For many years he was connected with the editorial staff of a local paper, and has been mentioned as a possible candidate for lieutenant governor.

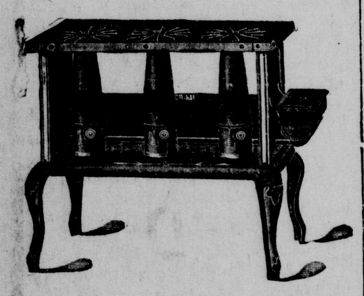

Captain Pitman was arrested at the instance of a Chelsea man, who alleges that he wrote obscene and objectionable letters to his young daughter. Several of these letters were received and answered by the girl's father.

"I will wear a Panama hat, light clothes, eyeglasses, two corners of my handkerchief will be sticking out of my pocket, and a white and pink carnation will be in my buttonhole," was the description of himself given by the unknown writer of the fervent epistles. The appointed hour was 5:30 at the Park street subway entrance.

With the exception of the white and pink carnation Captain Pitman answered the description and he was arrested after waiting half an hour at the subway entrance.

When arraigned before United States Commissioner Hayes, Captain Pitman refused to talk about the matter, other than to enter a plea of not guilty.

He was held under $1,000 bail for today's hearing

JOHN HEERY WAS KILLED

GROUND TO PIECES BENEATH A KATY TRAIN EARLY SUNDAY MORNING.

BOTH LEGS AND ONE ARM CUT OFF

Died at the City Hospital at 12:30 P. M., and the Funeral Services Were Conducted by Fr. McNamee Today.

(From Monday's Daily.)

John Heery, 23 years old, son of Mrs. James Hort, of Seattle, Wash., was horribly mutilated by an M., K. & T. freight train in the local yards at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning and died at the City hospital less than eight hours later.

Both legs were amputated at the waist and his left arm was severed close to the shoulder. In addition, he sustained a dangerous scalp wound on the left side of his head, and his chest and stomach were lacerated and bruised, presenting a ghastly appearance.

The mangled remains were found lying on the M., K. & T. tracks about one hundred and fifty yards west of the old "X" office by R. E. Fisher, a night car inspector for the Katy.

One hundred yards west of where the body was discovered, switchmen found one of the amputated legs. The man's hat and a pound of coffee, which was tied in a handkerchief, were found lying near the body.

The M., K. & T. ambulance was summoned and the injured man removed to the Katy hospital, where everything was done to alleviate his pain. He was perfectly conscious and spoke plainly. After having his injuries dressed he was removed to the City hospital, where he died at 12:30 o'clock.

Heery had been living with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gibney, 334 Hill street. He was a member of a fishing party camping on the banks of the Lamine river near Sweeney and came to town Saturday to secure additional provisions.

The supposition is that he attempted to catch a moving freight train and was thrown on the track and run over. His body was dragged for a distance of a hundred yards, and after the accident he lay on the right of way until his groans attracted the attention of Mr. Fisher.

Although he retained consciousness to the last, Heery was the most badly mutilated man ever taken to the Katy hosppital. In addition to the injuries above mentioned, the whole left side of his head was completely torn away, likewise his chest and stomach, due to being dragged by the train.

Coroner Miller notified the constable to summon a jury, which was done, and after viewing the remains at 8:30 o'clock this morning adjournment was taken until 3 o'clock this afternoon, when testimony will be introduced to show the exact manner in which Heery was killed.

The following comprise the coroner's jury: Edward Donohue, C. A. Harris, A. B. White, G. W. White, J. A. Penn and David Hartshorn.

Funeral services were conducted over the remains at St Patrick's church at 9 o'clock this morning, Rev. Fr. B. R. McNamee officiating, and burial was made in the Catholic cemetery.

Besides his grandparents, Heery leaves two aunts, residing in this city. He had not been employed recently, but was well known to nearly all of the residents of the eastern portion of the city.

THE LLOYD CANNON CASE

It Will Come Up for Trial on the 14th Day of September.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Floyd E. Mitchell, convicted of breaking into the home of E. B. Farley and sentenced to the penitentiary for two years, was paroled on his promise to leave the state.

Barney Grounds and John McDonald, burglary and larceny; state dismisses as to burglary and each defendant sentenced to three months in county jail for petit larceny.

State vs. George Myers, forgery; sentenced to two years in state penitentiary.

Judge Hoffman adjourned court until July 6.

The Alliance Adjourns.

(From Monday's Daily.)

The Ministers' Alliance adjourned today until the first Monday in September, which is the 7th. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected on Monday, September 14. The divines decided to hold their annual picnic on the grounds of the Country club next Monday, July 6th.

WAS MARRIED AT LA JUNTA, COLO., ON THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 25TH.

SEVERAL SEDALIANS WERE THERE

Now on a bridal Trip, But After July 10 at Home on the Olive Branch Ranch, Near Rocky Ford, Colorado.

The Democrat-Sentinel is in receipt of the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Lenora Wells, a popular former Sedalia girl, to John William Leecing, owner of a ranch, situated two miles west of Rocky Ford, Colo.

Miss Wells is a daughter of Mrs. Laura E. Wells, a former resident of this city, who left here about two years ago for the Centennial state, where she has been residing since. Miss Wells for a term of four years was employed as a teacher in Summit school here.

The wedding occurred in the parlors of the Harvey house at La Junta, Colo., at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, June 25, Rev. Louis M. Potashinsky, pastor of the First M. E. church of Rocky Ford, performed the ceremony in the presence of the bride's mother and sister, Miss Alice Wells, and the following Sedalians: Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Dunkin, Mrs. Clark Van Etten and daughter, Miss Emma.

The bridal party left Rocky Ford at 6 o'clock that evening and rode to La Junta. Following the ceremony a sumptuous supper was served.

WINS $35,000 GAMBLING

ATTACKED BY THIEVES AND ENTIRE SUM WAS TAKEN FROM HIM.

THEN THROWN NAKED INTO A LAKE

M. Lambert, a Man of Means, Had a Most Remarkable Experience, the Details of Which Are Set Forth in Dispatch.

Paris, June 29.—M. Lambert, a man of independent means living in the Rue Quincampoix, in Paris, has had an unpleasant adventure in the little town of Enghien, in the suburbs, in which there are a casino and a club where gambling is carried on.

Enghien is reached by train from Paris in about 11 minutes. Recently M. Lambert went down to Enghien, and after dinner spent a pleasant half hour at the "little horses" table, where he won about $100.

Pleased with his winnings, he went to the door of the club, which is in a room situated on the first floor of the same building, and asked for admission. The man at the door told him that, although he was not a member, he could probably be admitted in a very short time.

M. Lambert said that he was willing to pay any necessary entrance fee, and after formalities—which lasted exactly ten minutes—he became a member of the club. There, instead of "little horses," baccarat was being played.

M. Lambert was lucky. He at first lost half the money that he had won downstairs at the "little horses" table, but then he began to win, and won throughout the evening, finishing by taking the bank and rising a winner of a little over $35,000.

He went off with this money in his pocket, but left the club and casino building and walked down the road towards the railway station. Two men followed him. M. Lambert remembered to have seen them in the room, but paid no particular attention to them.

Suddenly the men rushed forward—one on either side of him—tripped him up and methodically went through his pockets. They took his money, his watch and chain, his scarf pin, and the rings on his fingers. Then they undressed him, and, with the deliberation which had characterizezd all their movements, threw him into a lake near by.

It is not a particularly well-smelling lake, but fortunately it is not very deep, and M. Lambert, who can swim a little, made his way to shore. The luck which, except in one instance, had been with him all the evening, threw a policeman in his way. The officer was rather surprised at seeing a naked man emerge from the water, but M. Lambert explained matters and borrowed the policeman's cloak.

They went together to the police station, where more clothes were lent to M. Lambert, and he returned to Paris by the last train. But neither his clothes, his money nor the thieves have been discovered.

KILLED A ROBBER

Marshal of Osborne Caught Two Looting—One Killed, One Escaped.

St. Joseph, Mo., June 29.—Matthew Ford, town marshal of Osborne, Mo., killed a robber in an exchange of shots there early this morning. Marshal Ford found two men in a hardware store. When discovered one fled and the other fired at the marshal with a shotgun.

Ford returned the fire with two shots, both taking effect. The dead robber has not been identified. Several stores had been burglarized, but all the booty was recovered.

HE HAD KILLED TWO MEN

Motorman Became Despondent and Committed Suicide.

St. Louis, June 29.—Just after Peter Schilling had shot himself in the right temple at his home on the Rock road, near Belleville, his 6-year-old son, John Schilling, who had heard the shot, entered the house. He saw his father lying on the floor with a nickel-plated revolver in his hand. Schilling was a motorman on the East St. Louis and Suburban line and his daily run was between East St. Louis and Belleville.

Two men had been killed by his car within the past three years. The fatalities were under such circumstances that the company did not hold Schilling to blame and his position was not in danger. But the tragedies preyed constantly on his mind.

A brother, George Schilling, night captain of the Belleville police force, noticed recently that he was in a gloomy state of mind and urged him to cheer up.

"It's no use, George," he replied. "You don't know what it's like to have killed two men."

FIVE LOST THEIR LIVES

FLOOD IN KANSAS LAST NIGHT WAS VERY DISASTROUS IN MANY WAYS.

CLOUD BURST WAS RESPONSIBLE

Waters Came So Suddenly That the People Had No Time to Escape Before the Flood Was Upon Them.

Wellington, Kas., June 29.—Five known to have been drowned and a number of persons are missing as the result of the overflow of Kargis creek, east of here, caused by the cloudburst last night. The dead are: Mrs. Ed West, Mrs. West's mother-in-law, Mr. Hearst, a girl 3 years old a child named Sherman and Mrs. Smith or Johnson, colored.

The flood came without warning and carried houses and other buildings away before the people could reach places of safety. A number of people floated away in their houses or on the roofs, many seizing the limbs of trees as the houses floated by and pulled themselves to places of safety.

During the entire night men and boys worked industriously in canoes rescuing people from trees and the tops of houses.

The damage to property cannot at this time be estimated.

LOSES LEG AS FRIEND DID

Railway Man's Solicitude for Companion Is His Undoing.

Seattle, Wash., June 28.—E. P. Foster, a brakeman on the Columbia & Puget Sound railroad, is lying on a cot in Providence hospital, recovering from the amputation of a leg. At the King county hospital lies Henry Clifford, also recovering from the amputation of a leg.

Each man lost his limb under the wheels of a train, and Clifford's injury is directly due to the fact that he is a friend of Foster and was anxious to know how the latter was getting along.

Clifford was a fireman on the same road. He swung on the train at Benton to ask the engineer as to his friend's condition, Foster having been injured two weeks ago. In so doing he slipped and fell under the wheels and the train passed over his left leg below the knee.

Foster fell from the pilot of the locomotive of the same train about three miles south of the place where Clifford was injured, a little more than two weeks ago. The train passed over his right leg, also below the knee. The men are expected to recover.

TRACKS BLOWN UP

Joplin Railroad Suffers From Attack By Dynamiters.

Pittsburg, Kas., June 29.—Dynamiters last night blew up the tracks of the Joplin and Pittsburg Railway company at Chicopee switch, seven miles south of here. The act was the outcome of the feeling against the railroad company because of a recent raise in fares.

A New Depot for Elston.

The Missouri board of railroad commissioners has made an order directing the Missouri Pacific Railway company to build and maintain a passenger station at Elston, twelve miles east of California, Mo.

LEFT $400 IN A FIVE-CENT COT AND WENT BACK AND RECOVERED IT.

THIS FELLOW WAS TRULY LUCKY

Lodger at Salvation Army, Recluse in His Way, Narrowly Escapes Losing His Fortune in St. Louis Early Sunday Morning.

St. Louis, Mo., June 29.—John Dryden, thought to be a lineal descendant of the eighteenth century poet, just escaped being the hero of a thrilling robbery story yesterday. He has also won the contempt of the employes and lodgers at the Salvation Army Lighthouse hotel, Ninth and Market streets.

Dryden has been a lodger at the hostelry for some time. He has always held aloof from the other guests—after the manner of an aristocrat playing in hard luck between remittances—and his life story has not been told even to the night clerk. He usually came in early, paid his nickel and selected one of the canvas cots on the third floor. In this he showed wisdom, as the canvas is said to be much more discouraging to vermin than the ordinary shaving-stuffed mattress, to be had at the same price. It was also his wont to arise about 5 o'clock and disappear until the shadows called him back at sunset.

Yesterday morning John arose earlier than usual and left the place hurriedly. The night clerk, who watches over the slumbering lodgers, as he ascended to the third floor to put the cots already vacated in order, met Dryden on the stair. He had arranged the draperies of a couple of couches and was making for the one that had been Dryden's when the latter rushed past him. His face was gray and drawn, his eyes spoke mad excitement. He grabbed the pillow, flung it back, snatched a wallet that reposed beneath it and then burst into a hysterical laugh.

When he recovered composure he opened the wallet and revealed greasy greenbacks amounting to $400. Then he left hurriedly while the clerk was recovering from the shock.

"It's lucky for him that the mug on the next cot was drunk," commented the clerk, later. "As a rule the lodgers look under pillows when a guy goes out. Four hundred dollars—think of it! And sleepin' in a 5-cent shakedown. He might a' took a 10-cent bed and showed he was some sort of a sport. A locker to keep valuables in goes with 10-cent beds here. I wouldn't 'a' blamed that drunk if——"

LIVES LOST IN TORNADO

Six Killed in Storm Which Sweeps Clinton, Minn.

Clinton, Minn., June 29.—A tornado struck this town at 5:35 o'clock Saturday afternoon, killed six people and possibly seven, and injured twenty-five, some seriously. Twenty houses, a printing office and two churches were blown down.

The tornado, which was unaccompanied by rain, started three miles north of the town, destroyed two farm houses that were in its path, and swept over Clinton, which has about 400 population.

A Milwaukee mixed train was just pulling into the station as the storm struck the town. Fifteen freight cars were blown off the track, as was also a passenger coach containing seventeen people. All were injured.

TORNADO WRECKS TOWN

EVERY BUILDING IN PUKWANA, BRULE COUNTY, S. D., IS DAMAGED.

NOT ONE OF RESIDENTS INJURED

Wind Was Accompanied by Rain and Hail, Which Leveled Growing Crops—Cannot Estimate the Damage.

Mitchell, S. D., June 29.—The little town of Pukwana, in Brule county, about fifty miles west of Mitchell, on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, was almost destroyed at 11 o'clock Saturday night by a tornado. No one was injured.

Between twelve and fifteen stores and homes were destroyed, and there was not a house in the town that was not damaged. Two large elevators were blown down across the Milwaukee track, covering a freight car.

The railway station was wrecked. On the ranch of Carpenter Sandberg, adjoining the town on the north, all buildings but two were destroyed, entailing a loss exceeding $100,000.

The tornado was accompanied by rain and hail, which covered a strip of country three miles wide. The entire farming country in the path of the hail storm was ruined. A coal car standing on the Milwaukee tracks was half filled with hail stones.

A small tornado was reported ten miles east of Mitchell, but the damage was slight.

RAIN STOPPED THE HARVEST

Plowing of Corn Was Indulged in on the Sabbath.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Rains fell throughout this section from last midnight until 6 o'clock this morning, putting a stop to the cutting of wheat and plowing of corn.

Many farmers in Pettis and adjoining counties ran their binders all day Sunday, taking advantage of the weather to harvest the remainder of their wheat crop.

The weedy corn was also plowed from early morning until late at night by many farmers, it being considered a work of necessity, hence permissable on the Sabbath.

IS NOW AGAINST THE LID

REFORM MAYOR DECLARES IN FAVOR OF RACING AND GAMBLING.

HOT SPRINGS FACING BANKRUPTCY

Loss of Revenue from Sporting Element Responsible for Conversion to Liberal Policy, His Honor Says.

Hot Springs, Ark., June 29.—Mayor H. Jodd, who was elected on a reform platform, has given out a statement in which he said it would be impossible to steer the city over its present financial crisis without the aid of the gambling and race-track interests.

Hot Springs has for many years been known as the Monte Carlo of America, but about two years ago the reform wave struck here. The palatial clubhouses were closed, the Oaklawn race track, constructed at a cost of over half a million dollars, and which is one of the principal points of interest for visitors, was put out of commission.

In order to appease the reform element, a herculean effort was made to keep the city on a cash basis without revenue from the sporting people, but this has failed completely, according to Mayor Jodd's statement.

For the past twelve months city warrants have been kept at par, but the crucial period has been reached, and unless some extraordinary plans are devised the city will unquestionably go into bankruptcy.

In an authorized interview, Mayor Jodd says:

"I realize that we have a peculiar city and that we have not the taxable values here that many cities of this size have, therefore I believe that we should govern ourselves on a liberal policy and would be better off with properly regulated clubrooms and with the operation of the race tracks and other institutions which are popular and attractive to visitors.

"One trouble is that in the past we have accepted revenue from illegitimate sources and it has made the burden of taxation easier for the property owner and every business institution in the city.

"We have grown immensely during the past few years and all the while the expense of running the city has been on the increase, but the taxes have not been materially raised because it was not necessary. Now, with all outside revenues cut off, we have been trying to keep up the city on legitimate revenue and it is impossible.

PENSION MRS. CLEVELAND

Widows of Other Presidents Have Received $5,000 Per Year.

Washington, June 29.—In view of the fact that former President Cleveland left but a small estate, it is probable that congress will pension Mrs. Cleveland at the next session.

Mrs. Garfield has received $5,000 a year since 1882. Mrs. Harrison has not been pensioned. She was the second wife, marrying former President Harrison after he had left the White House.

An act was approved March 3, 1882, pensioning Mrs. Tyler, Mrs. Polk and Mrs. Garfield in the annual sum of $5,000 each. The pension of Mrs. Lincoln was increased from $3,000 to $5,000. She had been receiving $3,000 since 1870. Mrs. McKinley received $5,000 a year during her lifetime after the assassination of her husband.

UNIONS FOR COWHERD

ST. LOUIS WORKINGMEN'S CLUB WRITES LETTERS FOR KANSAS CITY CANDIDATE.

GIVE REASONS FOR THEIR FAVOR

Is Shown to Have Voted for Labor Measures—Investigation of Ball's Record Is Asked.

St. Louis, June 29.—W. S. Cowherd, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, was indorsed, and the action of David A. Ball, also a candidate, were criticised in a letter yesterday to the Central Trades and Labor Union from George Bechtold, secretary of the Bryan-Cowherd Workingman's club. The club recently changed its name from the Bryan-Cowherd Union Labor club to its present name, after the central body had protested against the use of the term, "Union Labor"

The club, however is composed of union workingmen, and will support men favorable to trades unionism. The letter explains the club's stand, and was received and filed by the union. It read:

"David Kreyling, Secretary, Central Trades and Labor Union—Dear Sir: The daily newspapers of the 15th inst. contained a copy of a resolution adopted by the Central Trades and Labor Union at its last meeting which criticised this club for using the word union in its caption.

"The Bryan-Cowherd Union Labor club is a political organization composed of union workingmen pledged to carry out the political policy of the American Federation of Labor. Every member of our organization is a member in good standing of a labor union. For that reason the word union was used in the caption. We desire our membership to be composed exclusively of members of organized labor in good standing in their various organizations.

"The club being composed exclusively of members of organized labor, we believed we were justified in using the word union and especially as no protest had been made to any officer or member prior to the meeting of the central body. The resolution, of course, was inspired by some of the members who favored some other candidate for governor under the belief that a criticism of our club would act as a 'boost' for their candidate.

"However, being union workingmen and not desirous in the least to do anything that would be offensive to the Central Trades and Labor union, our organization has decided to drop the word union from the name of our organization. The name of Bryan and Cowherd in the caption of the club was used because after careful investigation of the records of all candidates we found that they in our humble opinion more nearly represented the ideals, convictions and aspirations of the people than any other candidates in the field.

"Among the candidates for governor there is but one who has any labor record; this is Mr. Cowherd, whose record in congress is found to be most excellent; that he voted for all measures favoring organized labor; that the files of the American Federationist will disclose this fact; that a letter to Mr. Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, with whom he co-operated while acting as chairman of the democratic congressional campaign, will prove without a question of doubt what his standing is with the national labor movement and what his attitude has been on all questions affecting organized labor.

"We might suggest to the members of the Central Trades and Labor Union who are advocating the cause of Mr. Ball, and who seem to be back of the passage of this resolution, that it might be well for them to investigate the record of David A. Ball while a member of the state senate and there get his record on matters relating to railroad and rate regulation.

"They will find that, on February 14, in the Thirty-fourth general assembly, senate bill No. 293 ,entitled 'An act to prevent extortion, unjust discrimination and pooling by railroads and corporations, to increase the powers and enlarge the duties of the railroad commissioners, and to repeal certain inconsistent sections, was bitterly opposed by David A. Ball; that, through his efforts mainly, this bill was defeated in the regular session and Governor Marmaduke was compelled to call an extra session for the purpose of securing railroad regulation; and that, again, David A. Ball fought this legislation continuously, and finally voted for a compromise bill prepared by the general attorney for the Burlington railroad, and against the bill prepared by the friends of the people.

"They will also find that meetings were held in Troy, Mo., and at Mexico, Mo., denouncing the course of Mr. Ball in opposing railroad regulation, and that upon the conclusion of his term of office, he became a candidate for lieutenant governor and was overwhelmingly defeated in his district by a man who was personally unknown to the voters of those counties and never visited any one of them. The newspaper files of that time and the journals of the senate will unquestionably bear out this assertion."

BY WAY OF CORRCETION

A "Type Jumble" Placed Mr. Carroll in a Wrong Attitude.

Editor Weekly Democrat-Sentinel.

In the article in this paper last week in reference to my candidacy for representative of Pettis county in the general assembly, your type said I "will not make a personal canvass under the direction of the county committee."

That would warrant the inference on the part of your readers that I am inclined to be "independent" of party direction and indifferent to the acquaintance and good will of the voters.

When urged to become a candidate, and I consented to do so, I stated that I did not feel justified in making a personal canvass in advance of the primary, but that if nominated, I would carry my full share of the burden of the public canvass, under the direction of the county committee.

Members of the general assembly are paid $5 a day for the actual time of the session, when their board, room rent, postage and actual necessary incidental expenses at Jefferson City are paid, the remainder will barely equal the compensation of railroad section hands, hence an honest man who has business of his own is not justified in the expense of a personal canvass to secure the nomination.—Very truly, M. V. Carroll, Sedalia, Mo.

THE OVER-FLOWED LANDS

WHAT SHOULD BE PLANTED IN ORDER TO REALIZE A FAIR PROFIT.

EXPERIMENT STATION "POINTER"

M. F. Miller, Who Is an Authority on the Subject, Gives Some Information for Readers of the Democrat-Sentinel.

Columbia, Mo. June 29.—A large number of inquiries have reached the Experiment Station regarding profitable crops for planting on the recently overflowed lands. Most of these men want money crops and it is consequently a little more difficult to recommend crops which will be suitable than if they were to be used for home feeding.

Where early corn can be secured such as Silver Mine, Pride of the North, or in the southern part of the state varieties as late as Reid's Yellow Dent or Leaming, this will be evidently the very best money crop that can be planted on the bottoms. Corn planted by the tenth of July ought to make good feed with an average season, and with a late fall should make a marketable product. In regions near a market some varieties of sweet and table corn may bring a good profit, although they are very apt to be bothered by worms when planted late.

One of the very best crops and one which is almost sure of maturity is millet. The Siberian millet is the earliest, although the Northern and Southern grown German millets and the Hungarian are very good. These crops will make a large yield of hay or seed if planted any time before the middle of July in most of the river counties. Sorghum can also be sown up until the tenth of July and a faiar crop expected. It may be either sown broadcast at the rate of four pecks per acre or it may be drilled with a drill if it is to be cut for hay. It may also be planted in rows with a corn planter at the rate of one peck per acre. Either the Early Amber, the Early Orange or the Coleman will give good results. When planted in rows it may be cut with a corn binder and shocked and the seed may be threshed or it may be fed directly.

Where seed can be secured at a moderate cost cowpeas may be sown up until the 15th of July with profit. This is not usually considered a very good bottom land crop, as the plants tend to grow most too much to vine, especially when sown late. Cowpea hay has great value for feed and frequently where means can be provided for threshing, the seed and the baled straw from the machine may be marketed. In sowing cowpeas for seed they may either be rouble rowed with a corn planter at the rate of 1½ to 2 pecks per acre or they may be drilled with a drill at the rate of about 3 peckes per acre. For forage, drilling at the rate of 4 pecks per acre will give better results. They may be sown broadcast at approximately the same rate if no drill is available, providing the ground is put into good shape and they are well harrowed in.

Field beans may well be planted late and give a good return. They may be put in with a corn planter and cultivated and with proper care will make a good yield. Harvester either by pulling and flailing out or with a bean harvester and bean thresher they can be made to yield a fair profit.

For pasture crops cowpeas or rape may be used. The cowpeas should be sown as for hay and should be turned into about the time the pods set or begin to ripen. Rape should be sown at the rate of 3 or 4 lbs. per acre broadcast and harrowed in lightly. On many bottom lands rape sown in this way will give results, although with the hot weather that is likely to follow this wet period there is danger of it not doing well.—M. F. Miller, Agricultural experiment Station, Columbia, Missouri.

HOPE FOR SEAT OF HULL

DEMOCRATS EXPECT TO GAIN BY REPUBLICAN FIGHT IN HAWKEYE STATE.

PARTY FEELING IS VERY BITTER

Judge Prouty and Present Congressman Each May Run, and Split the Republican Vote, Letting in Opponents.

Des Moines, Ia., June 29.—Democrats in the Seventh Iowa congressional district are jubilant over what they regard as their excellent chance of sending a democrat to the house of representatives to succeed Capt. J. A. T. Hull, chairman of the committee on military affairs.

It seems certain that no regularly nominated republican candidate will be on the ballot. Both Capt. Hull and Judge Prouty probably will be on the ballot as independents.

The contest over the close vote cast in the primaries, in which Prouty gave Hull such a close run that the courts must decide which is the republican nominee, is almost certain to be carried to the supreme court and there is little likelihood of its being decided before the November election. In that event there will be no republican candidate and if either Hull or Prouty wishes to make the race he must get on the ballot by petition as an independent.

The democrats figure out their chances as being excellent in that they are united on one candidate and the republican vote will be split between two men, neither of whom will bear the official G. O. P. label. The Seventh district is composed of the counties of Dallas, Madison, Marion, Polk, Story and Warren, and when Hull was elected the last time the total vote was 33,127, divided as follows:

J. N Smith, democrat, 11,464; J. A. T. Hull, republican, 19,617; Gill, socialist, 1,058; Johns, prohibitionist, 988; Hull's plurality, 8,153.

Assuming that Hull and Prouty would split the republican vote at the election as close as they did in the primaries, the democrats claim they will elect their candidate. They claim their chances are better than that, however, and believe they will increase their vote by the fact that no regular republican candidate will appear, also by the fight that the two independents will make on each other.

Otherwise Rural Free Delivery Will Be Discontinued.

Washington, June 29.—In line with the movement recently inaugurated by the postoffice department to cooperate within its limitations with all highway officials looking to the improvement of roads in the various states, the clerks in the division of rural free delivery are sending out notices to local highway officials warning them that rural delivery will not be continued on roads not kept in good condition. Reports thus far received show greater activity than heretofore in the reconstruction and repair of highways in various localities.

EX-SHERIFF PAYTON DEAD

Was Well Known to Many of the People of Pettis County.

It becomes the sad duty of this paper to chronicle the news of the death of John W. Payton, an old resident and business man of this city, says the Deepwater World. He died on June 13, at 10:30 o'clock at the home of his son-in-law, J. H. Kennedy, of Deepwater.

The funeral service was held at the home Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock and interment made at the Pythian cemetery. As a token of respect to a fellow business man, all the stores in town were closed during the services.

Rev. J. I. Orrison, pastor of the Christian church, conducted the funeral services in the presence of a large crowd. The following obituary was prepared by Rev. Orrison and read at the funeral service:

"John W. Payton was born in the Blue Grass state, Nichols county, April 18, 1834. Died June 13, 1908, in Deepwater, Missouri, aged 74 years 1 month and 25 days."

HER VOICE WAS SOOTHING

Caused Girl to Be Chosen as Mr. Cleveland's Nurse.

Richmond, Va., June 27.—Grover Cleveland was nursed through his last illness by Miss Blanche Hechler, a Richmond girl, the patient having personally chosen her for this service because of her soft voice and gentle hands.

She became not only his nurse to the exclusion of all others except his wife, but was his confidential secretary as well.

Because of the soothing quality of her voice and touch, so highly appreciated by Mr. Cleveland, the services of Miss Hechler have been in constant demand by patients of great wealth and distinction. She has become known to her friends and professional associates as the millionaires' nurse.

After a year of personal observation and study Miss Hechler told her brother-in-law, David C. Richardson, mayor-elect of Richmond, that Cleveland was one of the truest men that ever lived.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

STRENGTH OF MR. BRYAN

MUCH STRONGER THAN HE WAS IN EITHER THE YEAR 1896 OR YEAR 1900.

WHO WILL BE ON TICKET WITH HIM

Should It Be Woodrow Wilson, With Mr. Bryan at the Head, Would Furnish a Pair of Truly Invincible Speakers.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Washington, D. C., June 27.—Many democrats in Washington assert that Bryan will prove a stronger candidate in many states than he was either in 1896 or 1900, and they predict a smaller number of bolters this year than at any time since the last Cleveland campaign. It is on this belief most of their confidence is based that Bryan will carry a sufficient number of states north of Mason and Dixon's line to defeat Taft for the presidency. Nor is the so-called radicalism of Bryan regarded as so much of a menace as it was a few years or months ago by the more conservative democrats. The anti-Bryan democrats, in fact, show a decided change of front since the nominations were made at Chicago, and are declaring that Bryan stands out as the strongest man, after all.

If Woodrow Wilson should be nominated for vice president on the democratic ticket, with Bryan at the head, it is declared that these two would make an almost invincible pair of speakers in the campaign. In the east, President Wilson is much feared, as he is regarded as one of the most convincing and finished of orators.

Former Representative John J. Lentz, of Ohio, was in Washington this week, and in an interview stated, among other interesting things: "I believe the democratic party will get a large numbe rof republican votes, and also receive the support of organized labor. The attempt on the part of the republican national convention to pacify labor failed miserably. The attempt was made to pull the wool over labor's eyes, but it did not quite succeed."

Republican leaders are seriously troubled with the rather serious question of how to secure a man who will measure up to the situation and will make an energetic and aggressive speaking tour of the west as an offset to Bryan. The bolt of two prominent papers in the west is said to cause much worry to Secretary Taft's friends, and the report that an Indiana paper may join the bolters has in no way lessened the worry of the secretary's advisers. In this year's campaign Indiana is regarded as one of the doubtful states.

Much concern is felt over the illness of the vice presidential nominee on the republican ticket, Representative Sherman, and quite a discussion has been precipitated over the possible outcome. Many men prominent in the councils of both parties have expressed their views on the action to be taken to fill a vacancy on the presidential or vice presidential ticket that might occur between the date of the nominating convention and that of election, but a cursory review of precedents shows that no such emergency has ever arisen. Representative James T. Loyd, of Missouri, chairman of the democratic congressional committee, stated it as his opinion that the national committee of either party involved would have full power to name a vice presidential candidate in case of an emergency. This is the view held by the chairman and many members of the republican national committee and by many democrats. It is recalled that at the democratic convention at St. Louis, four years ago, a resolution was passed by the convention authorizing the democratic national committee to fill a vacancy in case of necessity, as the nominee for vice president, Mr. Davis, was eighty years old.

It was with deepest sorrow and regret that Washington learned of the death of ex-President Grover Cleveland. In spite of the fact that Mr. Cleveland had been seriously ill for several weeks and his death was feared, the news was a shock to the capital, and many were the expressions of profoundest regret in official and private circles.

Nine out of ten democrats will tell you that the ticket they want to see nominated at Denver is Bryan and Johnson. It is generally conceded that the battleground is to be in the middle west, and Bryan must carry states in that section which are normally republican, and to this end Johnson would help mightily. Democrats, too, put a great deal of trust in Olney, of Massachusetts, and such a ticket, Bryan and Olney, would command respect.

That the Denver platform will be radical there can be little doubt, but, it is declared, that at most it will hardly be as radical as some of the doctrines of Theodore Roosevelt. One level-headed Washingtonian is of the opinion that the railroad, corporation and trust questions should be treated as follows: Federal incorporation of all railroads as the only adequate means of providing the necessary supervision; prosecution of all violations of the law on evidence, but no persecutions on public clamor.

Otterville will celebrate in Homan's park, and all necessary arrangements are being made for a big day.

It will be a basket picnic, and all are requested to bring well filled baskets.

The Otterville Silver Cornet band will furnish music throughout the day and evening.

A parade will be had in the forenoon, and at night a fine display of fireworks will be given. Prominent speakers will entertain the crowd during the day.

People from Sedalia who wish to attend can find a train on the Missouri Pacific at 10:30.

Lincoln, thirty miles south, on the Warsaw branch, is making arrangements for a celebration of large magnitude. Many prominent speakers will be present and entertain the large crowd, and amusements of all kinds will be provided to interest all.

Music will be furnished by the Cole Camp band, one of the best in Central Missouri. A special train will leave Sedalia at 5 o'clock p. m. and deliver passengers in the Lincoln park at 6 o'clock; and, returning, will leave Lincoln at 11 o'clock.

You have your choice of three big celebrations, all in opposite directions, and you cannot make a mistake. Go to one and have a good time.

There will also be celebrations at Spring Fork, Knobnoster and Sweet Springs, extensive arrangements having been made for each.

FILLEY IS FOUND GUILTY

Kingston Man Killed Wife, Daughter and Brother.

Kingston, Mo., June 29.—The jury in the case of Albert Filley returned a verdict Saturday afternoon finding him guilty of murder in the first degree.

Filley, whose defense was insanity, was placed on trial early last week for the murder of his wife, their young daughter and Clay Filley, his brother, last December.

Mrs. Clay Filley, who was also attacked by Filley, but who escaped with her child and notified the neighbors, was the most important witness for the prosecution.

THE FLAG STORY A MYTH

BETSY ROSS HAS JOINED BARBARA FRITCHIE AND WILLIAM TELL.

THE PRETTY TALE WAS WELL TOLD

Report to Committee Arranging for Founders' Week Says Legend Is a Fake and the Historians Generally Agree.

Philadelphia, June 27.—The story of Betsy Ross, glorified for having designed and made first flag of our country, has been officially stamped a fake.

The famous Flag House, at 239 Arch street, which was bought by popular subscription, will be ignored in the Founder's day celebration in October.

This is the result of a report made by William J. Campbell to the historical sites committee, organized to mark places of historic interest in the city.

"There was never the slightest excuse for the Betsy Ross fake," said Mr. Campbell. "It is to the everlasting disgrace of America that the fiction has been nursed for so many years.

"The only foundation whatever for the yarn was that there was a young woman named Betsy Ross who took in plain sewing and who lived in a house at 239 Arch street."

The ruthless hand of the iconoclast, which is constantly robbing the nations of their favorite legends, the same which discovered that Nero didn't fiddle Rome into ashes, disclosed that Marie Antonioette was not told "daughter of a hundred kings ascend to heaven," when she stood before the guillotine; robbed Barbara Fritchie and absorbed William Tell, has just hit the Betsy Ross legend a hard blow. Americans, being largely sentimentalists, will accept the verdict grudgingly, yet the authorities are mainly with the iconoclasts.

The Encyclopaedia Americana, a work of accepted reliability, for instance, makes absolutely no mention of Betsy Ross. It says, in addition, that the paintings of the "Birth of the Flag" are achronisms, and that the first "Old Glory" to be used in battle was raised over Fort Stanwix, in Western New York, after the desperate battle of Oriskany, where the German farmers defeated the English and the Indians in one of the decisive battles of the contest, and where old General Herkimer, many times wounded, directed the operations of his handful of men from an old tree stump.

Paul Jones asserted that he was the first to fly an American flag, but his was probably of the rattlesnake design, with the legend "Don't Tread on Me."

For a number of years students generally have doubted the Betsy Ross story, but the sentimental public has not before been shocked by the iconoclast's coming into the open with his disclosures.

In the meantime, the friends of the legend have been doing honor to the Philadelphia seamstress. A famous painting represents Washington, Morris and Ross viewing the first flag, and the old story of how Mrs. Ross suggested the red bars on the end and the five-pointed stars for the blue field is generally accepted. Historians, however, say that the flag was designed by the Continental congress, where the five-pointed star was adopted because it differed from the six-pointed English star. In fact, the story of how Mrs. Ross folded a square piece of paper and cut out a five-pointed star from it by one clip of the scissors was the first to be assailed. In order to cut the five-pointed star with a single cut of the scissors the paper must be oblong and requires intricate folding.

BOTH GARTERS AND HOSE

They Were Seen Through Slits in the Directoire Gowns.

Old Orchard, Me., June 27.—Men's half hose, the real genuine kind, carefully supported by men's real garters, clasped about the calf of the leg, is the sensation that eight Cleveland, Ohio, girls have sprung on the people in this aristocratic summer resort.

The girls are Theodora Henrietta Martic, of Euclid avenue; Miss Elsa Goldthwaite Thayer, Miss Eloise Huglin, Miss Eva Osgood Tabor and the Misses Holmes, Harper, Ebersole and Sweetsair.

The girls are stopping at one of the most fashionable hotels in the city. Last night they appeared at dinner in Directoire gowns of the very latest sheath model.

Through the daring little slit at the side could be seen the half hose and the diamond-studded gold buckles of the men's garters used to support them. The affair has created a sensation.

BLIND ORATOR SWAYS MANY

New Senator from Oklahoma Has Overcome Stupendous Handicap.

A man totally blind would hardly seem adapted for modern political life, yet one so afflicted has fought through three exciting campaigns and has just been elected United States Senator from Oklahoma. The blindness of Thomas Pryor Gore was caused by two painful accidents. At 8 a boy playmate injured his left eye with a stone; three years later he himself shot a toy arrow into the other.

When his father suggested his attending a school for the blind, he declared, "I will go to school here. A school for the blind will furnish neither the books nor the opportunity I seek." Events justified his choice, says the April Delineator; he gained the highest honors there and at law school and college. At 19 he was nominee for the Legislature; at 22 Populistic delegate-at-large in Mississippi and was unanimously selected in 1900 as congressional standard bearer for the same party in Texas.

He owes his success to his power as an orator. His memory is remarkable. It is recorded that at a meeting with an opposition speaker—Senator Money—Gore asked for a division of time. Disregarding his youth and blindness, Money replied: "I will speak as long as I please; you are at liberty to do the same."

For three hours he harangued, thinking to exhaust Gore's patience. The latter patiently bided his time, and then for four hours more entertained the howlingly apprectative audience. Page after page of the Congressional Record he quoted from memory—quotations that filled his [illegible]ge, but stripped him of every defense. Now Gore's opponents realize that he is not a man to be tampered with or ignored. His career in the Senate will be worth watching.

WAR ON LID-LIFTING

The Authorities in St. Louis Got Busy on the Sabbath.

St. Louis, Mo., June 29.—War declared on "lid-lifting" organizations by the police yesterday resulted in raids on twelve clubs, the arrest of seventy-four men and in the confiscation of fifty-two kegs of beer, three cases of bottled beer and a number of bottles of whisky.

The prisoners will all be sent to police court. The raids were a result of a general order sent out from police headquarters two weeks ago.

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

No old sore can heal until the cause which produces it has been removed. External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., may reduce the inflammation and assist in keeping the place clean, but cannot cure the trouble because they do not reach its source. Old sores exist because the blood is infected with impurities and poisons which are constantly being discharged into the place. The nerves, tissues and fibres of the flesh are kept in a state of irritation and disease by being daily fed with the germ-laden matter through the circulation, making it impossible for the sore to heal. S. S. S. cures chronic sores by its purifying action on the blood. It goes down into the circulation, and removes the poison-producing germs, impurities and morbid matters which are responsible for the failure of the place to heal. S. S. S. makes the blood pure, fresh and healthy; then as new, rich blood is carried to the spot the healing process begins, all discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, new tissue begins to form, the place fills in with firm, healthy flesh, and soon the sore is permanently cured. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, the safest and best blood purifier for young or old. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

LID FOR CHURCH PICNICS

ARCHBISHOP GLENNON, OF ST. LOUIS, LAYS DOWN LAW FOR PARISHIONERS.

NO GETTING AWAY FROM ST. LOUIS

Urges Priests to Enforce Council of Baltimore's Anti-Liquor Rule —Raise Funds for the New Cathedral.

St. Louis, June 27. -- Archbishop Glennon, addressing more than 400 priests of the archdiocese of St. Louis in triennial synod at Kendrick seminary, Friady, enjoined them not to permit, in future, the serving of wine or beer at church picnics, fairs or entertainments of any kind, nor at the banquets of church societies.

The Council of Baltimore, several years ago, adopted a rule against intoxicants at such parish events, but it has not been enforced in St. Louis. The archbishop said that hereafter the rule would be rigidly applied.

While some of the societies of the Catholic church, like the Knights of Father Mathew, are organized on a total abstinece basis, others do not officially disapprove of the use of liquor and have served it at banquets in and around St. Louis.

The archbishop also announced his plan to raise the balance required for the new $1,000,000 cathedral by assessment on all the parishes of the archdiocese.

He said that $800,000 of the necessary $1,000,000 had been raised by subscription, and that he would expect the priests to raise the remainder in connection with their parish revenues.

The archbishop said he would appoint a committee of priests, both regular (members of religious orders) and secular (those not so connected) to determine the assessments of the various parishes.

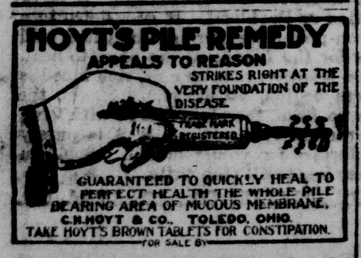

It was stated that Fr. Hukestein, of St. Augustine's (German) church, would be one of the secular priests on the committee.

A hum of comment went around among the clergy present, and one priest from a parish outside of St. Louis arose, saying he wished to offer a suggestion. The archbishop told him his suggestions should be offered to the committee, and he sat down.

SWINDLERS ARE JAILED

CROOKS WHO OPERATED QUITE EXTENSIVELY AT YORK, PA., ARRESTED.

KANSAS CITY PACKER CAUGHT THEM

Perpetrators of United Butter and Egg Co., Which Were Exposed in Packer of June 6, Hailed From New York.

New York, June 29.—Jacob H. Cohen, alias Levine, alias Hartman; Joseph Schlossman, alias L. G Eisman, alias Charles Chire; Martin Green, alias J. Glodberg, alias J. Greenberg, alias E. P. Valentine, and Morris Green, four of the nerviest produce crooks that ever infested the eastern territory were arrested here this week, charged with operating the United Butter and Egg Co., of York, Pa., a fake concern, which swindled farmers in the vicinity of York out of between $25,000 and $40,000. The authorities consider the capture of Cohen, alias Levine, as of particular importance, as it is thought that many of the big swindles that have been pulled off in this territory in recent years can be traced to his door. The Kansas City Packer man, with Central Office Detectives McKeon and Miley and Detectives White and Stinson, of York, Pa., are responsible for the landing of the crooks in the strong arms of the law.

The United Butter and Egg Co. began operations in York about the middle of May. The promoters rented the store room at 27 East Philadelphia street from the York Trust Co., and made a deposit of $1,400 with that institution.

The company got out glaring letterheads, stating that the capital was $75,000, and naming E. P. Valentine as president, Anthony Butler as vice president, J. H. Mangin, secretary, and L. G. Eisman, treasurer, all fictitious names.

The concern claimed to have branches at 123 Vine street, Philadelphia and 205 East Ninety-ninth street, New York. Circulars were sent broadcast to all the leading shippers of butter, eggs and poultry and to all the large creameries in Pennsylvania. These circulars generally quoted a price above the regular market and contained promises that were absolutely ridiculous on their face. Advertisements for responsible men who were acquainted with farmers were inserted in the New York papers, and with the inducements offered, a corps of reputable representatives was secured.

About that time the Kansas City Packer began to get inquiries from readers regarding the concern's standing. Just as soon as possible the paper got busy on an investigation. Every reader was promptly warned to let the concern alone. On June 6 the Packer published a warning, stating that the concern had all the earmarks of a fake, and for the shippers to await the results of the investigation then being made.

After the concern had been in operation a week shipments became so numerous as to cause local comment, and as the concern had no market in York for its goods and inasmuch as most of the purchases were shipped by express, being delivered at the place of business, they were immediately reshipped.

Three clerks, two stenographers and two of the principals were kept busy. It was then the Packer's attention was called to the matter and in the next issue the warning appeared. It was known that all during this time the concern was offering and paying better prices than the actual market. The firm guaranteed to return all empties, prepay all charges and charge no commission; to also furnish in addition shipping packages on one or two days' notice, and assured shippers that it would furnish weekly quotations, and "buy unlimited quantities."

It was learned by the authorities of York that the proceeds from shipments made by this concern to 123 Vine street, Philadelphia were returned in currency through the express company, thereby avoiding the use of checks, which would have been the course in any legitimate transaction. The deal savored strongly of fraud and the authorities there held a consultation as to the advisability of arresting the parties, but it was decided that the evidence was not sufficient and that the act of fraud would have to be consummated. These facts were known to Chief of Detectives Charles S. White, of York.

On the morning of June 17 the concern opened for business, as usual, but none of the principals appeared, leaving only the local employes in charge and without instructions, clearly demonstrating that the coterie had skipped. Checks sent out by the company began coming back by the wholesale, and there was a lively scramble among the creditors to hold any assets of the company.

A number of warrants were sworn out, and Chief of Detectives White, being well acquainted with the details, began operations to concentrate effort in the pursuit and capture of the crooks, but nothing definite was learned until Chief of Detectives White received his first tip from the Packer.

This was sent Detective White in the form of a wire.

On Thursday, June 18, the Packer man got a tip that a fellow giving the name of Benjamin H. Cohen had made overtures to several of the leading butter and egg operators here to sell them large quantities of butter and eggs. Cohen was traced to the store of the Fred D. Octjen Co., 339 Washington street, and was caught with the goods.

The Packer man informed Mr. Octjen of his suspicions and Cohen was put through a cross-examination. With Cohen at this time was an accomplice who afterwards proved to be Martin Green, alias J. Goldberg, etc. They had brought 6,511 pounds of packing stock butter to Mr. Octjen's place from 337 East Sixty-fifth street, which they agreed to sell at 18 cents.

The transaction was to have been a cash one, and Octjen was almost in the act of turning over $1,113.38 to Cohen when the Packer man aroused his suspicions that the deal was crooked. Cohen and Green were told that they would have to establish their ownership to the property beyond a doubt before any money could be paid. Cohen said he had bought the goods from "J. H. Jessel" and he promised to bring Jessel around the next morning with bills of sale and all the necessarf proofs of the ownership of the butter.

In the meantime the Packer man located more than 250 cases of eggs at 337 East Sixty-fifth street, which Cohen had tried to sell, and immediately wired Chief of Detectives White at York all the details. In reply, Chief White wired the Packer that Commissioner Bingham, of New York, would be instructed to arrest Cohen, and asked the Packer to get in touch with the New York police department. Before Chief White had notified the police department here, the Packer man had laid the case before the central office. Detectives Joseph J. McKeon and Luke Miley, of the central office, were detailed on the case with the Packer man and set to work to find Cohen.

On Friday morning Detectives Mc Keon and Miley went to 337 East Sixty-fifth street, the address given by Cohen to the Packer man, and there they learned that Cohen had moved a quantity of eggs at 5 o'clock that morning. The truckman who moved the eggs was located and he took them to the premises of 108 East One Hundred and Nineteenth street, where they located 254 cases of eggs in the cellar. The next proposition was to get Cohen.

By some clever maneuvering on the part of the detectives, they caught Cohen at East One Hundred and Nineteenth street and Park avenue, where he had been trying to dispose of eggs. Cohen was taken to headquarters and measured by the Bertillion system, and then taken to the tombs to spend the night.

Saturday morning he was arraigned before Judge House in the tombs police court on a technical warrant, charging him with being a fugitive from justice from Pennsylvania. The specific act charged was stealing $370 worth of goods from the Sanitary Dairy Co., of Johnstown, Pa., and the warrant was sworn to by Alexander Adair, a director of that company. J. D. Stinson, deputy to Chief White, of York, was at the hearing, and positively identified Cohen as "Hartman," one of the gang of swindlers who operated the United Butter and Egg Co., and Judge House held Cohen in $1,500 bond for further hearing on Monday. In default of bond, Cohen was committed to the tombs.

The police department took charge of the butter which had been left in the store of the Fred D. Octjen Co., and of the 254 cases of eggs which they located at 108 East One Hundred and Nineteenth street, and placed them with the Harrison Street Cold Storage Co. to await action of the creditors.

Detectives McKeon, Miley and Stinson then started after the others of the gang. Later Saturday night their efforts were rewarded by the capture of Joseph Schlossman, alias Eisman, alias Charles Chire, at 1298 Chisholm street, the Bronx, and he was taken to the tombs.. Schlossman was positively identified as "L. G. Eisman," the man who posed as treasurer for the United Butter and Egg Co., of York, and who was a party to the signing of the checks of that company.

About 1 o'clock Sunday morning the detectives arrested Morris Green at 1741 Madison avenue, and took him to headquarters. Green is known to the York authorities as the last man on the scene and it was he who shipped out the entire effects of the concern on June 16. Green and Schlossman were arraigned Sunday morning before Judge House. Green furnished bond in the sum of $1,500 and was released. Schlossman could not furnish bail and was committed.

It was learned that Martin Green, who is suppose to be "E P. Valentine," the dummy president of the United Butter and Egg Co., and a brother of Morris Green, handled the Philadelphia end of the deal. Detective Stinson learned that Green was in the optical business at Port Chester, N. Y., and went there Sunday morning to arrest him. Green was located, placed under arrest and held by the authorities at Port Chester for a hearing Wednesday at 4 p. m. When Green was searched incriminating evidence fully identifying him with the swindling concern was revealed. The evidence against the quartette is so absolute that it is likely long terms in the penitentiary of Pennsylvania await them.

A strange feature about this gang of crooks is the relationships existing among them. Martin Green and Morris Green are brothers and Levine is their brother-in-law.

At the hearing of Schlossman, Martin Green and Cohen on Monday before Judge House in the tombs police court the prisoners were held for further hearing on Monday, June 29, at 2 p. m. Levine and Green were released on bonds of $1,500 each for appearance on that day, and Schlossman's bond was fixed at $1,000.

STONE REFUTES HADLEY

SENIOR SENATOR DISCUSSES ATTORNEY GENERAL'S STATEMENT.

REPUBLICANS PUT IN A BAD LIGHT

Says Wetmore Had No Financial Interest in Tobacco Trust Suit and Crow's Prosecution of Case Was Commendable.

Jefferson City. Mo., June 27.—United States Senator William J. Stone gave out a statement to the press tonight in which he flatly contradicts Attorney General Hadley regarding the latter's statement, published this morning, as to why the suit instituted against the Tobacco Trust by former Attorney General Crow failed.

Attorney General Hadley, in lauding the achievements of his own department, and drawing comparisons with the accomplishments of Attorney General Crow, stated in effect that the reason the State failed to win Trust was commonly supposed to be because Senator Stone and Colonel Moses C. Wetmore, of St. Louis, would not supply the evidence, Colonel Wetmore having meantime sold his interest in the big tobacco plant in St. Louis to the trust. This statement angered Senator Stone.

Here is what he has to say on the subject: "Attorney General Hadley has made a comparison of the work done by and the cost of running his office during his term, with that of Attorney General Crow. It is not my present purpose to review that statement, as I have not had time to examine into the facts. There is only one clause of the statement I wish now to notice.

"Mr. Hadley calls attention to a suit brought by Attorney General Crow to oust the Tobacco Trust from doing business in this State, which suit was decided against the State. He acquits General Crow of blame for the failure of that prosecution, and says, in substance, that it failed 'because Senator Stone and Colonel Wetmore, who induced him to institute the suit, failed to furnish him with the evidence promised, after Colonel Wetmore sold his tobacco factory to the trust.' That is the statement I desire to notice.

"Before a man who cares for the rights of others and for the integrity of his own statements says a thing intended in some way to reflect upon another, he ought to be sure of his facts. There are certain people and a certain class of newspapers in Missouri who would not speak the truth concerning me if they could, if by distorting facts they thought they could do me some personal harm.

"I had not supposed that Mr. Hadley belonged to that class. Nevertheless he has made a statement which is not true in fact. If he did not know the facts, then he ought to have ascertained them before making his statement, and this he could easily have done by inquiry. If the remainder of his statement in point of accuracy is akin to this one, it is entitled to but little credit.

"The evident purpose of his statement is to create the impression that the suit brought against the Tobacco Trust was instigated by Colonel Wetmore and by me, as his attorney, to force the Tobacco Trust to buy the tobacco factory in which Wetmore was interested, and that when that object was acomplished we refused to furnish the State with testimony we had promised to furnish.

"Now the fact is that the tobacco factory referred to, which was the Liggett & Meyers Company, of which Wetmore was the president, had been sold, including Wetmore's interest long before the matter was ever mentioned to General Crow. This being true, as it is true, it follows that the statement made by Mr. Hadley is not true. Colonel Wetmore had no financial interest whatever involved in any way in the suit.

"Some two years ago in answer to a criticism made of me in connection with this suit by a certain St. Louis newspaper long intensely hostile to me I made a public statement of the facts connected with the proceeding. "I do not deem it necessary now to go into an extended repetition of that statement. Suffice it to say, first, that General Crow's connection with the suit was commendable in every way and in the highest degree, and that my part in it was altogether honorable, and in accord with professional ethics and propriety."

TO RID THE CITY OF RATS

A NEW VIRUS WHICH WILL ERADICATE RODENT PEST IN ST. LOUIS.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASE TO KILL 'EM

Experiment Made Shows That the Odor Coming from "Patient" Attracts Other Rodents and Death Finally Comes to All.

St. Louis, June 27.—The assistant health commissioner, Mr. Winn, announced last night that Monday he will begin a crusade which he expects will exterminate rats in St. Louis. He has discovered a new virus which he believes will eradicate the pest.

Rats from several parts of the city will be inoculated with the virus, and if his theory works, he says, within a few months the rodents will be unknown in the city.

The plan which Dr. Winn will try is to inoculate several live rats with the virus, in a similar manner that a person is vaccinated.

He will scratch a leg of the rodent and inject the serum. The virus will cause the rodent to become very sick and get a high fever. The fever will cause him to seek fresh air and thus prevent him from dying in his hole. The disease which is produced by the serum is highly contagious to rats.

The experiments the physician made show that the odor coming from a "patient" attracts other rodents and they in turn become affected with the malady. The rat dies, however, practically without pain, so far as anybody save a fellow rat can tell.

ASKS FOR A JURY TRIAL

HARRY THAW'S NEW HABEAS CORPUS WILL KEEP HIM FROM MATTEAWAN.

JUDGE'S DECISION IS AGAINST HIM

Millionaire Hopes for Freedom—Judge Mills of Supreme Court to Decide the Legality of the Asylum Sentence.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 27.—Harry Thaw has obtained a new writ of habeas corpus returnable before Supreme Justice Mills, of White Plains, N. Y. The writ was obtained in anticipation of Judge Morschauser's signing an order at 11 o'clock this morning recommitting Thaw to Matteawan.

The anticipation by Thaw and his counsel that Justice Morschauser would recommit the slayer of Stanford White to Matteawan proved correct. District Attorney Mack presented to the judge this forenoon the formal order of recommitment to Matteawan, which Judge Morschauser promptly signed.

It would have had the effect of returning Thaw to Matteawan today, but, just before the order was signed, Under Sheriff Townsend, who has been the custodian of Thaw ever since the first habeas corpus proceedings were begun, was served with the new writ of habeas corpus which commands the sheriff to produce Thaw in the supreme court at White Plains Monday morning.

Charles Morschauser, of Poughkeepsie, now that his brother, Justice Morschauser, has finally disposed of the case, has been retained by Thaw to conduct the new proceedings.

The writ was obtained from Judge Mills, last evening at Troy, where the judge was stopping over night, on his way home from a trip to Massachusetts.

It will be served today on Dr. Baker of the Matteawan state asylum; Dr. Lamb, superintendent of the asylum, who has just returned from Europe, and on District Attorney Jerome, of New York.

Harry Thaw was delighted with the turn affairs have taken. He made the following statement:

"I cannot bear the thought of returning to Matteawan on account of being obliged to associate there with insane people. I would rather go to prison. I have believed all along, especially since Justice Morschauser handed down his decision, that, if I could get my case to a jury, I would be able to convince twelve men of my present sanity and thereby secure my liberty. I am anxious to take the stand and be examined as to my mental condition, feeling confident that a jury will agree that I am not insane."

The petition on which Judge Mills granted the new writ is made by A. Russell Peabody as attorney and next friend of Thaw. It recites that Thaw is restrained of his liberty by Sheriff Robert W. Chanler, of Dutchess county, and that he is not detained by virtue of any mandate issued by a court or judge of the United States, nor by a final judgment or decree of a competent tribunal of civil or criminal jurisdiction.

The petition attacks the validity of Thaw's commitment to the custody of the sheriff of Dutchess county, as well as the commitment to Matteawan after the second trial, when the jury rendered a verdict of acquittal on account of insanity.

FLOOD DAMAGE AT SPRINGS

Heavy Rains Swept Away Foot Bridges and Flooded Houses.

Excelsior Springs, Mo., June 29.—A heavy rain at 9:15 o'clock last night was followed at 10:45 o'clock by a terrific downpour, which caused the already swollen East and Dry Forks of Fishing river to overflow.

More than 200 persons in the bottoms along these streams were forced to leave their homes. Several women were carried from inundated houses to places of safety. Three foot bridges were carrieyd away. One of these leads from Siloam spring to "Lovers' Lane" on the way to Regent spring. The water of East Fork had overflowed the tennis courts and croquet grounds of Regent spring and threatened to flood the big spring.

The water from the fork rose so high in Marietta street that horses had to be led swimming from Reid's livery barn, two blocks south of Snapp's hotel. Only the gables of houses on the flats south of Siloam spring were in view at midnight. Two of the foot bridges swept away span Dry Fork, leading to Sunny Side in the northeast part of town.

At midnight it was impossible to estimate the damage.

CHANGE IN MANAGERS

George F. Hall to Succeed George F. Olendorf at Sedalia Theater.

George F. Olendorf, manager of the Sedalia theater, has returned from a visit in St. Joseph, and Saturday announced that after July 1 his active connection with the local playhouse will cease and that George F. Hall, who has been his assistant for two years, the last year as business manager, will on that date assume the position of manager.

Mr. Olendorf will at the same time take the management of the Baldwin theater in Springfield, although he will remain in Sedalia for some time looking after business of the circuit which has accumulated.

While all who know Mr. Olendorf will regret very sincerely his leaving this city, they will at the same time be glad that in selecting his successor he chose Mr. Hall. Mr. Hall's rise in the theatrical business has been very rapid, but he in every way deserves the promotion that has come to him. He is genial, clever, accommodating, but above all is a careful and painstaking business man, who always has the welfare of the public as well as the advancement of his company's interests thoroughly at heart, and he is bound to make good.

Mr. Olendorf dislikes to leave Sedalia and would not were it not that duty demands. He will take with him the most hearty good wishes of the entire community.

MOVED TO NEW STOREROOM

Jud E. Golloday at Home to the Trade in Otterville.

J. E. Golloday, at Otterville, has just moved his stock of general merchandise into his new store building, and with the new stock just purchased he has a store not surpassed in any town in Central Missouri.

Jud was for many years a clerk in the extensive merchandise store of W. H. Homan, the "merchant prince" of Otterville. In 1902, or six years ago, "Billy" decided to retire, and sold his large stock and good will to his long trusted clerk. Jud took charge of the business and had splendid success from the start. The past spring he decided to erect a new building for his business. A lot was secured just west of the postoffice and a substantial brick building completed.

The store room is 32x65 feet, with a 12-foot ceiling, and has a modern plate glass front. It is splendidly lighted on three sides by doors and windows. Under the building is a large concrete basement, where is kept the heavier goods.

On the outside, but adjoining, is a large wareroom for harness and like goods. Altogether Jud has one of the most inviting, up-to-date stores to be found. He has a large stock of new goods, and, with his brother, Joe, as assistant, is ready to serve his many old customers with the same urbanity as formerly in the old stand.

Birth of a Son to Mr. and Mrs. Carl.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Carl, 1005 East Sixteenth street, who a few days ago lost a little boy by death, were presented by the stork with a baby boy June 25th. Mr. Carl is one of the popular grocers in East Sedalia, and he and his good wife are receiving the congratulations of their friends on the acquisition to their household.

MORE MEN BACK TO WORK

At the New Shops of the Missouri Pacific Tomorrow.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Four machinists and two apprentices, four blacksmiths and their helpers, four boilermakers and their helpers and a couple of carpenters will be put to work at the new shops of the Missouri Pacific tomorrow morning.

A few men were put to work the past week in the different departments, and the belief now is that the company intends in this manner to reopen the shops, putting men to work in the several branches of the service as their services may be required.

In every instance the old men are to be given preference. This was not done recently in the case of a couple of boilermakers put to work, and the men discriminated against made complaint to Mr. Smith, superintendent of motive power, in St. Louis.

Mr. Smith decided that the old men should be called first in every department, and this rule will be followed in the future until the entire old force is employed.

It is believed that by the 20th of July a full force of mechanics will be employed at the shops, and it will be only a short time after that until trade in mercantile circles is again booming as it was before the shops closed on February 20, last.

The young man who is making a "stool pigeon" of himself by acting as messenger between Sedalia saloons and Otterville topers had better be careful.—Otterville Mail.

Takes both to make Good Wheat

POTASH

Good clover follows good wheat, but it takes Potash to set the clover.

Starved clover won't feed the crop that follows it. It needs a vigorous root and a sturdy growth for itself before it can gather nitrogen for you.

Give it a good start by enough Potash with your phosphates in this Fall's seeding of wheat or rye.

The clover will do the rest—you'll see when you cut the clover.

Clover, timothy, rye and oats, for turning under, or a crop in rotation—all need more Potash than most commercial mixtures afford.

We can prove by hundreds of practical field demonstrations, what a 6 per cent. Potash application will do—15 pounds per hundred of fertilizer.

Potash is profit. Buy the Potash first.

GUESTS OF MRS. CONDON

A DELIGHTFUL SURPRISE WAS TENDERED HER ON FRIDAY NIGHT.

IT WAS ANNIVERSARY OF HER BIRTH

The Financial Secretary of Sacred Heart Branch, C. K. and L. of A., Was Most Pleasantly Remembered by Friends.

A most enjoyable surprise party was given Friday night for Mrs. Mary E. Condon at her cosy little home, 1209 East Ninth street, by the members of Sacred Heart branch No. 157, C. K. & L. of A., for which society Mrs. Condon has ably filled the position of financial secretary for the past nine years, she having been chosen for the office she now holds when the branch was first organized, the occasion being her birthday anniversary.

The jolly crowd assembled at the home of Miss Josephine Rast, one of the members of the order, and then proceeded to Mrs. Condon's home, carrying with them delicious refreshments, which were served later.

Mrs. Condon was equal to the emergency and threw open her doors to one and all, and they enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent.

The spacious lawn was illuminated with Japanese lanterns by the young folks assembled, and settees and lawn swings furnished comfortable seats for all.

After the members of the lodge had assembled at the table for refreshments, Mrs. E. B. Burrowes, the recording secretary of the branch, who had worked in accord with Mrs. Condon since the organization of the society, she having also been a faithful officer, always at her post, presented to Mrs. Condon, in behalf of the society, a beautiful set of engraved silver tablespoons, enclosed in an elegant case, as a token of her faithful work done for the society and the high appreciation of the same.

Mrs. Condon was also presented with a handsome rocker by her children, who wish her to sit back and take life easy the remainder of her days.

At a late hour refreshments of ice cream, cake and lemonade were served. Social converse and several instrumetnal and vocal solos, rendered by Mr. William J. Katzer and Mr. Joseph Beuth, with guitar and string instruments, also a piano duet by Misses Emelia Lorsbach and Stella Condon, whiled away the hours, and at midnight the crowd dispersed, wishing Mrs. Condon many happy returns of the day.

Among those present were the following: Mesdames Herman Loos, vice president of the society; Helen Berry, former president; Mary E. Condon, Hattie Adams, E. B. Burrowes, Gus Rottler, Theresa Ilmberger, Hermina Imhauser; Misses Lizzie and Anna Beuth, Emma Kellar, Ida and Emelia Lorsbach, Laura Clegg, Lurene Keck, Ida Lennartz, Catherine Deppe, Ruby Riley, Stella and Etta Condon; Messrs. William J. Katzer, Otto C. Botz, Frank G. Wayne, Joseph Beuth and George Yopst.

A most beautiful boquet of carnations, tea roses and ferns, a gift of a dear friend, and also boquets of cut sweet pears and nasturtiums added a great fragrance and beauty to the tables.

THE OLD SETTLERS' REUNION

John W. Baldwin Will Serve as Grand Marshal August 29th.

The Old Settlers' association of Pettis county met at the court house Saturday and admitted William H. Chaney to membership.

John W. Baldwin was elected marshal to serve at the annual reunion to be held at Liberty park on August 29 and the following committees were appointed:

Finance and music—John W. Baldwin, Lee Wells and Major William Beck.

Speakers—John D. Crawford and G. W. Barnett.

Grounds—Major Beck.

Entertainment—L. M. Monsees, Smithton; Thomas Terry, Lamonte; J. B. McClure.

After adopting a resolution compelling members to pay their association dues, adjournment was taken until July 11.

An Attempted Train Robbery.

An attempt was made to hold up an express car of the Illinois Traction system, carrying $48,000 in money and $1,000 worth of jewelry, near Lynch station Thursday night, says a St. Louis dispatch.

C. E. Harman, a Chicago & Alton train dispatcher, saw the would-be robbers creeping along in the grass near the station and signaled the motorman to put on full speed.

As the car sped past the station the highwaymen opened fire, one of the bullets striking the car.

Chance for a Sedalia Girl.

The following advertisement appears in the Lamonte Record:

"Fairly well to do farmer, aged 30, wishes to hear from ladies between the ages of 20 and 30—G. H. Richenbaker, Norborne, Mo."

The fame of the beauty of Lamonte young ladies has evidently spread abroad in the land. Editor Agee ought to start an affinity bureau, or if he is too busy, his brother, "Buck," could no doubt make a success as a matrimonial match maker.

DIED TO SAVE HER HONOR

MAN WHO ATTACKED HER IN A BOAT ALSO LOST LIFE BY DROWNING.

BODIES OF BOTH ARE RECOVERED

Sister of Young Woman Reported Her Disappearance to Police When Neither Returned After Leaving Park.

Peoria, Ill., June 27.—That Miss Dorothy N. Flagg, a visitor here from Galesburg, died defending her honor, and dragged William Patterson, her suitor, to death with her, became evident yesterday, when the bodies of both were taken from the Illinois river here.

The tragedy ended a boat ride on which the couple set out Tuesday evening from Al Fresco park, where Patterson was a concessionaire. The young woman was 23 years old. Patterson was 25.

After the boat, in which they set out, was found overturned, systematic search was instituted for the bodies. William Gearey, a fisherman, discovered Patterson's body floating near the pumping station, more than a mile from the spot from which he and Miss Flagg started, and within an hour a searching party found Miss Flagg's body a little further down stream.

After complete investigation, the authorities here declare that Miss Flagg unquestionably lost her life repulsing Patterson. There were evidences of a violent struggle.

Miss Flagg came here a week ago to visit Mrs. May Gill, who took her to Al Fresco park and introduced her to Patterson. Miss Flagg visited the park several times after that and Patterson each time left his concession to escort her about the grounds.

Mrs. Gill was with Miss Flagg during these visits to the park and accompanied her Tuesday evening. She tried to dissuade her guest from accepting Patterson's invitation to take a boat ride, but Miss Flagg said that the prospect of an evening on the water was too alluring to be resisted.

Mrs. Gill waited until midnight, growing more and more uneasy. On Wednesday she reported to the police that her visitor had failed to return from the boat ride, and asked that an investigation be started. The boat was found Thursday.

Mrs. Gill says she is under the impression that Miss Flagg was engaged to be married to a young man in Galesburg.

Miss Flagg's mother lives on Ferris street in Galesburg. Patterson is said to be a nephew of the owner of the Patterson Amusement Co., of Kansas, who is wealthy.

TO LEAVE SEDALIA

Miss Hays Blackman, Newspaper Writer, Goes to Muskogee.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Miss Margaret Hays Blackman, society editress on the Morning Capital, tendered her resignation last night, effective at once, and left on the Katy flyer this morning for Muskogee, Ok., where she will accept a position on the Phoenix. Her successor is unnamed.

For seven years Miss Blackman, who is well and favorably known throughout Central Missouri as one of the most versatile writers, has been employed on the Capital in the canacity of society editress, and her daily contributions to that paper of brief stories have established for her a reputation unequaled by any lady writer in this section of the state.

The best wishes of the Democrat-Sentinel will accompany her to her new field of labor.

E. L. Spurgeon shipped a load of hogs to the St. Louis market Wednesday from his stock farm south of this city.

George S. Scales, of Plainville, Mich., has a story in this week's issue of the Herald, entitled "The Loyal Church." The story has a local setting, and is a well written take-off o nthe commo npractice of patronizing mail order houses in preference to the home merchant.

A game of baseball was played on the diamond in Brun's park Sunday afternoon between the Sweet Springs first nine and the Lexington Merchants, in which the former were the victors, the score being 7 to 4. On Wednesday afternoon the Houstonia second nine played the Sweet Springs second nine here, the latter winning the game by a score of 7 to 4.

Sweet Springs friends of Lee B. Hart, of Seattle, Wash., will regret to learn that he is dangerously ill at the home of his father in that city. Mr. Hart grew to manhood here, removing from here to Seattle and later to California and Arizona, the state of his health demanding the latter changes. The benefit derived was only temporary and he was compelled to return to Seattle.

Miss Gem Binkley and her guest, Miss Mary Sloan, of Kansas City, spent a part of the week with Sedalia friends.

Miss Nell Smith was hostess to ten girls at a 1 o'clock luncheon on Tuesday, complimentary to her guest, Miss Irene Shepard, of Kansas City. This function, in one of Sweet Springs most beautiful and well appointed homes, was delightful in every particular. The charming personality of both the hostess and the guest of honor, together with the congenial party present, left nothing to be desired.

The beautiful country home of Mrs. Will Smith, south of this city was the scene of a merry party on Friday afternoon, at which time Mrs. Smith entertained the members of the Whist club and a few invited guests. Mrs. Smith has but recently become a member of the club, but the gracious hospitality extended her guests has made her one of the most popular. On ths occasion three tables of progressives whist participated, Miss Elizabeth Goggin winning the prize, a beautiful plate. A delicious lunch was served, consisting of chicken salad, wafers, tomatoes, cheese straws and fruit ices, which concluded one of the season's most enjoyable parties.

John Adams
Second President of the United States.

HERE we have a Puritan of the Puritans—a man of stern and unbending rectitude—of generous and truly heroic temperament.

Descended from a pious God-fearing New England family of Pilgrims and Pioneers (who were for generations brewers, maltsters, barley and hop growers) he became the mouthpiece of the Revolution—the terror of tyrants—a colossus in debate—and diplomatically more than a match for Pitt and Talleyrand.

I would rather die than be dictated to—this sentence accurately describes the stubborn spirit of this valiant old patriot whom all England could not govern.

John Adams, even as his fathers before him, nourished mind and body on health-giving barley beer, and died at 91 (21 years beyond the scriptural span) enjoying all of his mental powers to the last.

A letter to his wife, Abigail, May 22, 1777, says: "I would give $5.00 for a gallon of your beer."

Mr. Keyes was walking from the engine of the train to the caboose to get a drink of water, and, while standing on a freight car he was struck by the bridge, his neck being broken.

His remains were interred at Clinton Thursday.

THE CAR MEN'S MEETING

NEARLY ONE THOUSAND WERE ASSEMBLED AT FORT SCOTT, KANSAS.

MANY BUSINESS MEN WERE THERE

Resolutions Adopted With This End in View—Impassioned Speeches Made by J. I. Sheppard and Mr. Ryan.

Fort Scott, Kas., July 1.—The Fort Scott Tribune of last evening printed the following, which will be read with interest by railway employes in all branches of the service:

An audience estimated at nearly 1,000 people crowded the Davidson theater last night, where the Car Men's union members had convened for the purpose of holding a mass meeting.

Martin Miller was chairman of the meeting and Vice Grand President Ryan, of the Car Men's union of the United States, was the first speaker. He was followed by J. I. Sheppard. On the stage sat a number of ministers of the gospel, as well as office holders and office nominees of the county.

Kreyer's band furnished music for the occasion, and before the meeting at the opera house was called to order a street parade was held. Practically all the members of the union were in the line of march, which was over a block long. The band led off and played during the march through the principal streets.

Mr. Ryan in his speech charged that the road managers had erred in treating with the men. He said that Governor Folk, of Missouri, had appointed three disinterested men to hear the merits of both sides of the case presented, and that this commission immediately decided that the company was not complying with its contract with the Car Men.

"We are ready to meet our old terms at any minute," declared Mr. Ryan. He declared that these contractors, who now sub-let the work, were simply a go-between to keep the road from being sued for injuring or killing its workmen. Mr. Ryan made a most favorable impression with the big crowd.

Mr. Sheppard, when introduced, delved at once right into the subject of the working men's interests. He showed how this city had given the Missouri Pacific $20,000 and the land whereon is located the shops, and that everything in the way of relations between the men and the company was in an amicable condition until Mr. Sullivan became general manager.

Jake showed how the laboring men of the system had year in and year out paid hospital fees to the company which had paid for every brick and piece of mortar in the hospitals, only now to be precluded from entering them if they took sick.

"If one of these men is injured he is not employed by the company, but by a man who could be sued till the crack of doom and never a penny secured from him," said the speaker. "These shop boys are of the best people in this town and the merchants owe it to them to line up at this time and help them out of this trouble."

Mr. Sheppard paused in his remarks long enough to read "The Song of the Shirt," a poem written by Thomas Hood in 1843. The reading of the poem was closely followed by every person in the audience.

Concluding his speech, Mr. Sheppard had read resolutions asking that the non-union men at the Pacific shops quit work.

Martin Miller was delegated to present this petition to these men. The resolution was adopted by a rising vote, and practically everyone in the audience stood. The resolution is as follows:

To the workmen who have taken the places of the striking car men at the Missouri Pacific shops in Fort Scott, Kas., and to all other workmen who may hereafter contemplate taking the place of the car men while their strike lasts:

We, the citizens of Fort Scott, Kas., met together in mass meeting to consider the case of the striking car men, and having been fully informed in the premises, have determined that the Missouri Pacific Railway company has violated its contract with these men, and that the said company is attempting to work a great hardship upon the men by requiring them to perform their labor in a different manner and at different rates of pay than were provided in the contract which these men had with the company.

We are convinced that the company is attempting, by trying to make the men do their work on the piece work basis, instead of by the hour, to break up and disorganize the Car Men's union, and when this is done it will be followed up by a similar attack on the other railway unions.

We do not believe that it is right for any citizen of Fort Scott, or in fact any honorable laboring man, to

NAY, NAY, MR. JOHNSON

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS SAY MINNESOTA MAN WON'T BE RUNNING MATE.

MR. BRYAN'S FRIENDS DETERMINED

Discussion of New Yorkers' Names Is Growing in Denver—Elmira May Rival Utica in This Campaign.

Denver, Colo., July 1.—Discussion of Governor Johnson's chances for the democratic nomination for the vice presidency, while quite general here among the uninformed, is not indulged in seriously by those close to the inner circles. His name has not been accepted with favor and it may be announced thus far in advance that the Minnesota man will not be Bryan's running mate in the event of the Nebraska's nomination.

Bryan's most intimate friends and most steadfast supporters are quite determined on that point. While they do not openly criticise Governor Johnson's candidacy, they are evidently displeased with the fact that he entered the race, and it is even intimated that Mr. Bryan himself would not favorably consider the Johnson candidacy for the vice presidency.

There has been renewed discussion of the names of Congressmen Francis Burton Harrison, of New York, and John B. Stanchfield, of Elmira, N. Y., in connection with the office.

A HEAD-END COLLISION

Several Reported Dead and Many Injured Near Knobnoster.

Eastbound passenger train No. 12 on the Missouri Pacific collided with westbound passenger train No. 3 at a point two and one-half miles east of Knobnoster at 5:40 o'clock this morning.

A telephone message from Knobnoster to the Democrat-Sentinel says that several persons were killed and many injured, but no names can be obtained at this writing.

The wrecking train was sent out from here, carrying physicians, and all of the physicians of Knobnoster and Lamonte have gone to the scene.

No. 12 was running two hours late.

As to who is responsible for the accident no one appears to know at this end of the line.

ANOTHER CLOUDBURST

Reports Say Much Water Fell and Crops Destroyed.

Topeka, Kas., July 1.—A terrific cloudburst of twelve inches is reported from Pawnee county. Much wheat was destroyed, but wire trouble prevents confirmation of the report. The Kaw is rising at Topeka.

Mae Wood Is Indicted.

New York, July 1.—Mae C. Wood, the Omaha woman who sued United States Senator Thomas C. Platt for divorce, was indicted by the grand jury today, charged with perjury and forgery.

Miss Wood is charged with having signed Senator Platt's name to a document acknowledging her as his wife. The perjury indictment is based on Miss Wood's testimony in the divorce case, when she testified she was married to the senator at the Fifth avenue hotel in 1901.

A BOY DIES OF LOCKJAW AFTER A GIANT FIRECRACKER ACCIDENT.

FATALITY OCCURRED AT JOPLIN, MO.

In Another Case, Both Hands Blown Off in a Premature "Fourth" Celebration Ruining Career of a Pianist.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 1.—A number of serious injuries occurring here this week by the use of giant crackers that had been purchased for the Fourth of July celebration, were followed yesterday by the death of one of the victims, who developed tetanus, or lockjaw.

The victim is Burl, 11 years old, son of Lincoln Carriger. The injury to the boy was not considered of a serious character until tetanus appeared and death speedily followed.

A Fatality at Joplin.

Joplin, Mo., July 1.—The first Fourth of July fatality occurred in Joplin yesterday, when Francis M. Brock, 15-year-old son of J. F. Brock, of 2029 Grand avenue, died from tetanus, caused by the explosion of a toy pistol carried in his left hand June 29.

Pianist's Career is Ruined.

New York, July 1.—Charles Cleveland, 19 years old, a pianist of considerable ability, who had planned to make his living as a musician, lost both hands at the Ridgewood Golf Club links, Ridgewood, N. J., Monday night.

In a preliminary celebration of the Fourth, Clevelaand lit a giant firecracker which failed to go off. He picked it up, thinking the fuse had gone out, and it exploded. His left hand was torn away, while his right hand was so shattered that only the two last fingers remained. Cleveland was removed to the general hospital in Paterson for treatment.

RODE IN THE ENGINE CAB

Hon. W. S. Cowherd, Who Speaks Here Tomorrow Night.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The Hon. W. S. Cowherd, of Kansas City, who speaks at the New Sedalia theater tomorrow night in the interest of his candidacy for the democratic nomination for governor, is thus written of in a Russellville dispatch of June 30:

The entire populace was waiting at the station to welcome W. S. Cowherd, of Kansas City, democratic candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, this afternoon. The people crowded around the steps of the coach looking for Mr. Cowherd, but he failed to get off. A member of the committee went into the coach and when he failed to find Mr. Cowherd he, too, was baffled.

There never was a more surprised crowd than the people of Russellville, when they saw the candidate crawl out of the cab of the engine. He had been riding on the engine as the guest of the engineer. The Kansas Cityan stayed at Eldon last night and drove over to Olean this morning to the train which was two hours late, and it is possible Mr. Cowherd tried to have the engineer turn on the high speed.

Mr. Cowherd spoke to about 200 voters and then drove to Centertown, where he had another good audience.

Came Here Five Years Ago Today.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Charles McEniry, one of the commissioners of the Twelve-Mile road district, and his esteemed family, arrived in Sedalia five years ago today from Cedar Rapids, Iowa. They have made a legion of friends in Sedalia and Pettis county since coming here, and the Democrat-Sentinel is glad to know that they realize to the fullest that they made no mistake when they took up their abode in the Queen of the Prairies. May it ever be thus.

The state yet has a credit balance of about $2,470,625 in the different depositories.

The revenue fund is generally small at this time of the year because one-third of the school fund must be paid on this date.

THE COMPANY INSOLVENT

VANDIVER WANTS GREAT WESTERN LIFE WOUND UP IN KANSAS CITY.

THE POLICY HOLDERS PROTECTED

Vouchers Signed by Others Than the Persons in Whose Names They Were Made Out for Money Never Received.

Kansas City, Mo., July 1.—W. D. Vandiver, state superintendent of insurance, has reported to Attorney General Herbert S. Hadley that he believes the Great Western Life Insurance Co. hopelessly insolvent. The insurance supervisor advises the attorney general to close up the affairs of the company at once by order of the courts.

In his advices to the attorney general, Mr. Vandiver states that the direct interests of the policy holders are still protected by the securities he holds for that purpose, and that a receivership might be avoided by reinsuring in a company of good standing if these were the only liabilities of the company. However, Mr. Vandiver says the company has also obligations for $97,000 of stock sold without proper authority, and the so-called certificates outstanding which are now valued at $228,000, besides smaller liabilities, including $50,000 of death claims unpaid.

Mr. Vandiver's recommendations to the attorney general were based on the examination of the Great Western Co. by J. A. McVoy, and the report he made to the state superintendent. In Mr. McVoy's report are examinations of officers of the company made by him., showing that in several instances vouchers were made out for their salaries, their names signed in receipt, but not by them, and that they did not receive the money for which they receipted. The probable intent and the execution of these vouchers, Mr. Vandiver states, makes two separate and serious offenses chargeable to the officer of the company who engineered the deception.

The capital stock of the company, according to the superintendent, is impaired $124,449.12. He states that the assets and the income of the company were falsely reported to his office Dec. 31, 1907, and states that to obtain the remarkable showing $40,000 was borrowed from Kansas City banks on that date, to be reported to him as an asset, but the statement failed to show a liability on account of the transaction. Mr. Vandiver criticises the Kansas loan contract of the company, and figures the total liabilities exceeding the admitted assets at $353,313.16.

With this condition confronting the company Mr. Vandiver says that he does not see how it can survive. His department, he states, will not register any more policies of the company until the matured liabilities are met and its future liability to policy holders provided for by a sufficient deposit of securities and such guarantees given of solvency and good management as will warrant the expectation of restored confidence in the company.

Mr. Vandiver's recommendations to the attorney general are that if the funds now on hand were used for the reinsurance of outstanding policies without providing for all of the other obligations, there would still be serious legal difficulties ahead of the company. He suggests the appointment of a receiver and the advertising for bids for reinsuarnce of out standing policy contracts.

May Get Bryan and Taft.

The Missouri state fair board, through Secretary John T. Stinson, will extend a cordial invitation to Hon. W. J. Bryan and Hon. W. H. Taft to attend the eighth annual fair to be held here the first week in October, and a strong effort will be made to secure their attendance.

COMMON LAW MARRIAGE

ONE OF THIS CHARACTER WAS PLENTY GOOD ENOUGH FOR ADAM AND EVE.

SO RULED THE COURT OF APPEALS

Judges Sitting in Kansas City Held That Adam Performed the Ceremony and Eve Silently Asquiesced.

Kansas City, Mo., July 1.—Ella Phillips Davis, asserting she was a common law wife, sued R. W. Stouffer, administrator of her husband's estate, and the case was appealed from Saline county to the Kansas City court of appeals, which has upheld the validity of common law marriages, saying:

"That there may be a valid marriage without solemnization by minister, priest or officer is not questioned in this court, except where the statute forbids.

"Marriage is recognized as a status brought about by civil contract and it may be contracted by parties themselves, as any other contract, without even the presence of witnesses.

"The marriage of Adam and Eve was not only without witnesses, but so far as the record shows, they married themselves, he repeating the contract and she acquiescing by silence."

CLUBWOMEN JUBILANT

OVER THE ELECTION OF MRS. P. N. MOORE, OF ST. LOUIS, AS PRESIDENT.

HAD GOOD MANY VOTES TO SPARE

Miss Alice Kinney, of New Franklin, Addressed the Federation of Clubs at Tuesday's Meeting in Boston.

The election of Mrs. Phillip N. Moore, of St. Louis, to the presidency of the general Federation of Women's Clubs, caused great rejoicing among St. Louis club women Tuesday.

Mrs. J. T. Rogers, secretary of the art committee of the district of which Mrs. Moore is a member, sent the following telegram:

"Congratulations from the art committee of the St. Louis Federation. Here's our heart, our hand, and our loyal support."

The election of Mrs. Moore practically makes St. Louis the headquarters of the club movement in the United States.

Mrs. Moore is chairman of the legislative committee of the Missouri State Federation. She is a charter member of the Wednesday club and served as president of and director from 1892 to 1896. She was president of the Missouri Federation from 1901 to 1905. The vote on the election at Boston was: Mrs. Moore, 516; Mrs. Ward, 390.

Miss Alice Kinney, of New Franklin, Mo., was introduced at the meeting of the Federation Tuesday as "A successful farmer of Missouri." Miss Kinney spoke brightly of her work.

"For the earnest woman a farm near the city is good business," she said. "She is sure of a market. It is well to start with poultry, then vegetables and flowers or whatever the market requires.

"A woman farmer must have broad knowledge. She must know something of chemistry and materia medica, in order that she may manage well her soil and give ordinary treatment to her animals."

WOMAN SLAYER IS FREED

Family of Small Children Responsible for Pardon.

Guthrie, Ok., July 1.—Governor Haskell has granted a parole to Mrs. Ella Loudenbach, convicted of killing W. L. Hall, at Orlando, in 1905, and sentenced to three years' imprisonment. The pardon was granted because Mrs. Loudenbach has a family of small children, who need her attention.

She had a small babe in her arms when taken to the penitentiary. The prison officials refused to receive the child, and it had to be brought back home by the father.

Mrs. Loudenbach built a pig pen directly underneath Hall's mulberry tree, and he turned the hogs out several times. The last time she shot and killed him with a rifle. She declared that Hall had pursued her with a hatchet before she shot.

HIGHER LICENSE DEFEATED.

It is to be regretted that the council did not see fit to raise the city license on dramshops at its special meeting Wednesday night.

The Democrat-Sentinel believes that if such action had been taken it would have resulted to the very great advantage of the liquor dealers who desire to run legitimate and clean places of business, as well as to the material and moral advancement of the city as a whole.

The low groggeries that disgrace Sedalia and are a constant menace to order and decency must be done away with, and a raise in license seems to be the only means of accomplishing this greatly to be desired result. The self-respecting saloon keeper makes a grievous mistake in not aiding to accomplish this, instead of fighting against it.

The recent local option fight demonstrated very plainly the feeling that had been engendered against the liquor business in Sedalia, mainly on account of these very same doggeries, and the better class of those engaged in the business can not expect the citizens who stood by them in the election to continue to do so, if they place themselves on record as defenders of such disreputable dives.

That's the whole question in a nutshell, and the quicker it is realized and acted upon the sooner will the business be relieved of some of the odium now attached to it.

The only way to regulate the saloon is by high license, and that must surely come or else the only alternative—no license.

Which does the responsible dramshop keeper prefer?

ALIVE BUT CRIMINAL.

The only place for Harry Thaw is behind the bars, either of the prison or the asylum. It gives added respect for the law that a just judge cided that he could not be set free. has decided that he could not be set free. It now remains to be seen what a jury will do toward keeping him where he belongs.

The crime which he committed was one that, in a sane man, should be punished by death. That he is alive is due to the fact that one intelligent jury decided that he is not sane. His moral perception, blunted by years of degeneracy and dissipation, his nerves unstrung by cigarettes, his mind naturally weak, made worse by his habits of life, there is not yet any evidence of the proper mental and moral stability which would warrant the court in setting him at large.

It's the fortune of the wealthy that they can spend vast sums to save their culprits from the noose or the electric chair. Too often they escape scot free on technicalities dug out of the law by high-feed attorneys. If the insanity plea makes good it is but a short step to freedom and immunity for the crime.

Stanford White was a bad man Harry Thaw was equally bad, and Evelyn Thaw was a bad woman, away back in her early girlhood days. There was no more warrant for Thaw taking the law in his hands than there would be in White's killing Thaw because he was a despoiler of women's virtue. And not even as much warrant as Evelyn might have had for killing either or both of her seducers. The proper punishment has been given Thaw. He's lucky to be alive, but the insane asylum should be his portion, not for a month or a year, but for the rest of his natural life.

THE COMING FOURTH.

All over the country cities, towns and families are preparing for the Fourth of July celebration. The work is both offensive and defensive. It is offensive in that it is disagreeable, noisy, bad smelling and dangerous. It is defensive in that prudent mothers and prudent physicians and undertakers are preparing poultices and plasters, lint and surgical instruments, hospitals and coffins for the slain and the wounded of that dreadful day. In the matter of foolish and foolhardy celebration, the United States on the Fourth of July takes the cake.

The surgeon general of the army has issued a circular, suggesting precautions against tetanus or lock jaw, the inevitable July epidemic. In the last five years there have been 786 cases of tetanus as the result of our Independence day celebration. Seven hundred and twenty-one have died. Six hundred and eight of these deaths resulted from blank cartridge wounds—the blank cartridge is mistakenly supposed to be harmless. The warning gives the following explanation of the origin and operation of the tetanus bacillus:

The bacillus of tetanus, or its spore form, is found in earth, especially in garden earth, stable manure and the dust of the streets, stables and human habitations. The feces of the healthy animal, such as the horse, cow, dog, and even man, may contain tetanus spores.

When tetanus spores are introduced under the skin they at once germinate, if oxygen is excluded, and begin to elaborate tetanus toxin. In a short time it appears in the blood, which carries it to all parts of the body, where it is absorbed by the motor nerve endings, which are bathed in the toxin-laden fluid. The nerves supplying the jaws, especially the masseteric, seem to have an exaggerated affinity for the poison, which explains the early trismus.

The following treatment for Fourth of July injuries is suggested:

"Incise freely every wound.

"Carefully and thoroughly remove from the wound every particle of foreign matter.

"Cauterize the wound thoroughly with 25 per cent carbolic acid.

Apply loosely a wet pack of 25 per cent carbolic acid.

"Give a full dose of antitetanic serum."

Of course, it would be very much better to arrest those enemies of the human race, the shop keepers, that sell Fourth of July explosives, and to spank Johnnie and Adolphus for using them, but since this is impossible in the present backward state of civilization, the best that can be done is to be ready with remedies.

THE AFTERNOON PAPER.

The superiority of the afternoon paper over the morning publications has been proved time and again, but scarcely ever more convincingly than during the recent republican convention in Chicago.

It was the afternoon papers that told of the temporary organization of the convention. It was the afternoon papers that first gave to the public the address of Chairman Burrowes, sounding the keynote of the coming campaign. It was the afternoon papers that gave the platform of the republican party. It was the afternoon papers that first printed the speeches placing the candidates in nomination, and it was the afternoon papers that published first the nominations.

All these things—things that not only this country, but all civilized countries in the world were deeply interested—were first published in the afternoon papers, and published, too, many hours before the morning papers went to press.

The afternoon paper is the paper of the people. It has always been so and in the nature of things always must be so. The lesson taught in the superiority of the afternoon paper over its break-o'-day contemporary has been so marked that comment or argument is unnecessary. It speaks for itself.

AS TO VICE PRESIDENT.

What is a vice president for? Nominally to take the place of the president in case of death or disability. Practically, for two reasons. The first, to furnish money with which to conduct the campaign. Second, it is a most convenient method for shelving an undesirable politician who is not in sympathy with the ruling powers which dominate the policies of American poltical parties. In the last half century but one man has emerged from the cloud cast over him by the shadow of the vice presidency. That man is Theodore Roosevelt, who, by a peculiar twist of circumstances, backed up by the bulldog tenacity which keeps a man from realizing when he is whipped, was not overwhelmed. Because of this he was resurrected from what was intended to be his political grave, and despite the efforts of the politicians to fold his hands across his breast, and lay his body in state, the restless one broke the bonds of the grave and rose to eminence. But who will again repeat the performance?

DIRECTOIRE VS. KIMONA

LATTER ALMOST AS GOOD WHEN THERE IS A STIFF BREEZE ABROAD IN LAND.

SO STATES JAPANESE AMBASSADOR

Slit the Kimono Up Its Starboard Side, He Says, and It Looks Exceedingly Good When the Wind Is Right.

Chicago, June 30.—Slit the kimono up the starboard side, or let it go by the boards entirely. Baron K. Takahira, ambassador from Japan, is for the directoire gown now and henceforth. He did not see any of the new fangled "sheath" skirts here, but he carried in his mind's eye interesting visions that he had seen on Dupont Circle.

"Take the kimono, now," he ventured, with a distant look in his sparkling little eyes. "Yes, take the kimono.

"Now, a kimono, when the wind is good, looks almost like a directoire, except that the—that is, the void is not on the side, and none of the very interesting things which are necessary adjuncts of the directoire, are necessary because the kimono is worn with the other conventional garments of womanly propriety.

"Ah, that directoire is a fetching gown on a fetching woman. We of Japan are conservative, but we do love art—and, of course, nature. So put me down for the directoire, with the kimono a bad second."

Takahira is quite slangy now. He has been mingling with the congressmen, senators and department attaches in Washington.

"You American folks here are all politics and baseball," he said.

The baron came to Chicago to meet his wife and little daughter, Sei, who landed Thursday from Japan.

CRIED "I MUST HAVE HIM"

HE IS VETERAN OF THE CIVIL WAR

"If You Can Get as Good a Man as I Have," She Told Her Girl Friends, "Gobble Him Up Without the Least Delay."

Reading, Pa., June 30.—The marriage of Jacob Klink, 62 years old, a civil war veteran, and Emma Schultz, 14 years old, which took place in Wilmington, Del., has created a sensation.

The bridegroom has willed all of his property, amounting to $25,000, to his bride. In replying to questions why she married Klink she said: "I can not do without him, and whether my parents would have allowed me to get married or not, we would have run away, perhaps not now, but when I would have been a little older.

"One thing I have to say to the young girls of Reading," she said, "that is, if they can get as good a man as I have just married they should take him and not fool with one of these young fellows who care more for dress than to work."

This is Klink's third marriage. His second wife was 28 years old when he married her, and obtained a divorce from her on the ground of cruelty.

SHEATH GOWNS MOBBED

AT CONEY ISLAND A CROWD OF 482,000 FOUGHT TO GET SIMPLY A GLIMPSE.

"BARKERS" WERE NO LONGER IN IT

Capt. Kelly and the Police Reserves Rushed to the Scene to Make a Path for the "Sheathed" Fair Ones.

New York, June 30.—The "sheath" gown created more excitement at Coney Island yesterday than all the "barkers" around the beach. It required only two women to start the turmoil and gather several thousand persons in front of Henderson's restaurant on Surf avenue.

This caused Capt. Kelly and the police reserved to rush to the scene and make a path for the "sheathed" ones to enter the house.

A big white automobile drew up to Henderson's. Two men jumped out, and after them came the two young women.

It took just about two seconds for half a dozen women to cry, "Oh, look at the creatures with the 'sheath' gowns!" The "sheath" gowned women moved, snail-like, along the avenue, and halted abruptly, and then, before the women, whose gowns fitted the figure so tightly that it seemed they must suffer physical pain, could reach the door, a multitude was gaping at them.

A policeman said later that at least 482,000 women were bumping against one another to get a glimpse of the new attire.

Finally the "sheath" gowns, protected by the police, sped away. Nobody knew who they were.

SHOTWIFE FROM AMBUSH

ALSO WOUNDED A SON, MISTAKING HIM FOR WOMAN'S ADMIRER.

THEN MADE ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE

The Spouse Is Dead, but Father and Son Will Recover—The Tragedy Was Enacted at Church Door Sunday Night.

Clay City, Ill., June 30.—Julius Turner, 69 year old, a civil war veteran and wealthy farmer of Clay City, shot his wife to death from ambush, seriously wounded his 15-year-old son and attempted to commit suicide near Saylor Springs, Ill., Sunday night. He is under arrest and refuses to partake of food, declaring he will starve himself to death.

Turner and his wife had been separated four years. She was 20 years his junior and he was insanely jealous of her. The tragedy Sunday night was caused by his mistaking his own son for another man.

When he saw the youth, who is large for his age, join his stepmother outside a church, where an entertainment was in progress, his jealous frenzy overmastered him, and he opened fire on the pair from his ambush.

Turner is reputed to be worth $50,000. He lives at Clay City, near where he owns several fine farms, and has a handsome residence at Saylor Springs, where he passes the summer.

Mrs. Turner was 49 years old and since the separation she has been living near Saylor Springs. The son, Glenn, has been working on a farm a few miles from that point.

Mrs. Turner attended a church sociable given in the village church, and made arrangements to meet her son there. Turner learned of his wife's intention to attend the church sociable and prepared to keep watch on her movements. He took up a position in a grove near the church, where he could watch the movements of those at the entertainment without exposing his own movements.

He was observed skulking about the vicinity by several farmers on their way to the church, but little attention was paid to him, as none suspected his intentions.

About 9:30 p. m. Mrs. Turner stepped from the church for a breath of air, and as she did so her son, Glenn, arrived from the farm where he was working.

He stepped forward to greet his mother in the shadow and they stood conversing for a few moments.

Turner, from his position in the ambush of the grove, had a distinct look at his wife as she left the church door, but the face of his son was hidden as the boy approached from the roadway.

He saw only vaguely the form of a man standing close to his wife in earnest conversation, and all the jealous rage within him rose up and fired his mind.

Drawing a .38-caliber revolver, he glided to within a few feet of the couple and opened fire on them. The first bullet struck Mrs. Turner in the back. As she started to run another bullet struck her in the head. Glenn, the wounded son, had fallen face upward.

As Turner stooped down to look at the face of the man whom he supposed to be his wife's admirer, he recognized his son.

With a cry of anguish he straightened up and staggered back. Then placing the muzzle of the revolver against his temple he pulled the trigger and dropped across the body of his son.

The farmers carried the three bodies into the church and stretched them on the floor, while two physicians who were present hurriedly examined the injuries. Mrs. Turner's wounds were the most desperate. One bullet had passed through her body from back to front, piercing the lung. The second had lodged in her brain. She died within fifteen minutes.

The boy's injury, although serious, is not regarded as necessarily fatal. The bullet entered his left groin, ranging downward. He lost a great deal of blood and the shock to his system is very great, aggravated as it is by the knowledge of his mother's death and the consciousness that it was his father's hand who sped the bullets. The physicians say he has a slight chance to recover.

Turner's wound is not a serious one. His hand shook when he fired the bullet into his temple and it glanced downward, emerging from his cheek.

Young Turner denounced his father for the shooting and the latter freely admitted having fired the shots. When told his wife was dead he said he had no regret for the act. He reproached himself for having injured his son and said he had no suspicion of his identity when he shot him. He begged the boy's forgiveness and inquired anxiously of the doctor if Glenn would recover. As for himself, he declared that he had no further desire to live, and regretted that he had not killed himself instantly.

GIRL'S SUITOR WAS SHOT

FOLLOWS CLANDESTINE VISIT OF YOUTH TO HIS SWEETHEART'S HOME.

IT OCCURRED IN RANDOLPH COUNTY

The Slayer, Who Is in Custody, Pleads That It Was a Mistake, as He Mistook Thos. J. Bagby for a Burglar.

Huntsville, Mo., June 29.—Thomas J. Bagby, 20 years old, was shot and killed near here Saturday night, while standing outside the window to the room of his sweetheart, 17 years old, whose brother had forbidden him the premises.

E. J. Carter, jr., the girl's brother, who is held pending the inquest, admitts he shot Bagby, but declares he mistook him for a burglar, and did not know he had killed his sister's suitor until he struck a light and looked at the dead youth's face.

The Carters and Bagbys are neighbors, and respected, well-to-do Randolph county farmers. They live five miles south of Huntsville, and the two families were on friendly terms until young Bagby began paying attentions to his neighbor's pretty daughter.

Young Carter did not favor Bagby as a suitor for his sister's hand, and forbid him to see her or come on the place. Through friends the boy and girl heard from each other and arranged a meeting. Bagby went to the Carter farm at 9 o'clock Saturday night and signalled to the girl.

Carter heard the signal, and from his window could see the form of a man skulking about the lawn near the house. He procured his shotgun and went to the door, from where he called to the intruder. Receiving no answer he fired. His sister screamed. The figure at the window swayed and was brought to the ground by a second shot.

Carter struck a match and went to the prostrate form on the ground and by the flickering glare saw that the man was Thomas Bagby, his sister's suitor. Other members of the family were aroused by the shots and ran outside. In the excitment no one noticed that the girl was not present, and not until the head of the family went back into the house to telephone the news of the tragedy to town did it occur to look for her.

She was found unconscious on the floor of her room, where she had fallen when her brother fired. Bagby's body was taken into the house and a doctor summoned. Young Carter rode to Huntsvile and gave himself up.

Bagby's friends declare that he received a note Saturday morning calling him to the Carter home. He is said to have informed his mother of this, but the note is missing and the identity of the writer is a mystery.

The inquest will be held today.

WELCOME FOR THE ELKS

THE TWENTY-SECOND ANNUAL CONVENTION AT DALLAS, TEXAS, JULY 12.

WILL SPEND THE SUM OF $100,000

Features Entirely New and Novel to Elkdom Have Been Arranged —Opening Exercises Will Be Very Impressive

Dallas, Texas, June 30.—"Let's see your decoration plan," is the way conversation begins now when two business men meet. The plan referred to is that of the Elks' twenty-second annual convention, which will begin in this city July 12. The general plan has been worked out and specifications drawn for spending $100,000 subscribed by enthusiastic townsmen for the meeting.

The festivities will last an entire week and the scale upon which things have been started will not make it a hardship to spend the big fund. A big addition to this fund will be the expense of individual decorations on residences and all classe of buildings. The city will be a mass of white and purple from center to outskirts.

Features entirely new and novel to Elkdom have been arranged for. There will be a series of balls, barbecues, dinners, garden parties, band contests, competitive drills, fireworks displays and other entertainments equally as interesting.

Arrangements have been made for the feeding of 40,000 visitors at the Mexican dinner, which will be given July 14. The executive committee of the grand lodge reunion say this feast will surpass anything ever given or heretofore attempted. The dinner will be served in the commodious fair grounds during the afternoon of the second day of the meeting.

The pyrotechnical display will be held at Oak Cliff. This display will be gorgeous and very effective. It will be one of the finest ever seen south of Mason & Dixon's line. For the band contests and competitive drills the committee has set aside sufficient money to interest the best bands. Announcement is made that many bands and fine drill teams will compete for the prizes.

The big parade will take place on the morning of July 17. It is expected to eclipse in splendor and spectacular effect any similar pageant witnessed in North America. Twenty thousand men will be in line. Grand Esquire Sullivan will be the marshal of the occasion.

The opening exercises of the grand lodge will be impressive. A chorus of 200 voices will render selections to accompaniments of an orchestra of fifty pieces. The Spokane, Wash., Quartette will also furnish music. Addresses will be made by Grand Exalted Ruler Tener, Governor T. M. Campbell, United States Senator Culberson and Chairman W. H. Atwell of the grand reunion committee. This session will be held in the auditorium at the fair grounds.

take the place of the striking car men under the circumstances of this case. We believe that all workmen should refrain from filling the positions which the unjust treatment of this company has driven the car men from.

We therefore ask every laboring man or mechanic who is solicited to take employment in the place instead of these car men to refuse to do so.

We consider men who will assist in the unfair treatment of these car men are undesirable citizens, and we hope and trust that it will not be necessary for us to so classify you. It may be that you have gone to work under a misapprehension of the facts, and if so, you can set yourself right in the eyes of the people by quitting the employment of this company at once.

We have instructed the chairman of our meeting, Hon. Martin Miller, to take such steps as he deems proper to bring this matter to your attention. He will also furnish you a copy of this request.

Laboring men should be the last ones to aid in the destruction of any trades union. By taking the place of the men who are now out, you are giving the company a club that, after a while, may be used on you. An American citizen should be too loyal, patriotic, honest and brave to scab on anybody at any time.

Missouri Pacific Shop Talk.

E. L. Glaze, who was in St. Louis last week on business, while there met a committee of Sedalia citizens who had gone there to interview the officials of the Missouri Pacific railroad company relative to opening the shops there, says Monday's Fort Scott Tribune. The committee was headed by Mr. W. H. Barnett, a former traveling man out of this city, who is now a prominent merchant at Sedalia.

Mr. Glaze learned from the committee that it did not get much definite information from the company, except that the company expected to begin adding to its shop force about July 1 and put all its car shops on the piece scale.

The Sedalia committee was met very cordially, Mr. Glaze was informed, and was taken into the confidence of the company with relation to the status of affairs, but the officials could not tell when the shops would be run on full force.

A telegram from Sedalia to the Sunday morning papers spoke encouragingly of the opening of the shops at that point about the 20th of July.

FOUR MEN ESCAPE JAIL

ASSISTED IN REGAINING LIBERTY BY A VERY PRETTY YOUNG WOMAN.

SHE CRIED AND JAILER WAS SORRY

Then at Midnight, With Three Others, the Lover Quietly Slipped Away and Skipped With His Sweetheart.

Youngstown, O., June 29.—A beautiful young woman, dressed in the height of fashion, her face hidden under a merry widow hat and brown veil, helped four prisoners to escape from the county jail here.

One of the men, a pickpocket, is her sweetheart. She called at the jail and in tears begged to be allowed to see him. Jail officials, catching one glimpse of her beautiful face, led her to his cell.

"Charley, darling," she cried, as she embraced him through the bars. Then secretly she slipped him several cleverly contrived watch spring saws.

The next morning the young woman, whose identity is a mystery, waited below a window in the jail for her sweetheart and his pals. They succeeded in sawing the bars, clambered down to her and all fled. No trace of them has been found. Dainty Miss Mystery left the imprint of her chic tan slippers in the soft ground underneath the jail window.

That morning when John McIntyre, the jailor mad his rounds, he found that Charles M. Crowley, Harry Cline and Lewis Cohan, declared to be pickpockets of national reputation, and Earl Geissler, a local man, were missing. Turnkey Ward was notified and declared that he had not heard a suspicious sound in the jail all night.

Investigation showed that the bars on a window high up in the wall of the jail at the end of a corridor had been sawed off. Ropes hanging from the window indicated how the escape had been effected. When the mysterious girl visited the prisoner she was watched closely, the jail officials say. However, she succeeded in giving her sweetheart the saws. It is also believed that she tossed him the rope from the outside by which the prisoners slid from the window to the ground. It is believed that Geissler overheard the other three planning the escape and by threats forced them to let him in on the project.

Edward Stahlreher, a prisoner sentenced to a six months' term in jail, is accused of aiding the quartet by keeping watch for them in the jail. The county commissioners have offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the fugitives, particularly the beautiful young woman.

The police believe that the dainty young miss who so cleverly pulled off the jail delivery and freed her lover came here from Toledo. They also say that she showed the attorney for one of the prisoners a railroad ticket to Chicago.

Counce Hotel Gutted by Fire.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

The widely known Counce hotel, owned by Mrs. Maggie Counce, divorced wife of J. F. M. Counce, and situated at the corner of Pacific and Moniteau streets, which has been a landmark in the "Bad Lands" for years, together with its contents, was destroyed by fire at 9:15 o'clock last night.

A coal oil lamp, sitting on a table in the house, exploded, setting fire to the furnishings. In a moment the place was in flames, and when the firemen had ceased their work the shell of the dwelling, three rocking chairs, three beds and a bureau were the only remnants of the famous hostelry. The total damage is estimated at $2,000, with $1,300 insurance.

BALLOON FELL IN RIVER

PROF. KING AND FOUR PASSENGERS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE.

THE GAS BAG BURSTS HIGH IN AIR

King Jumps, and, Thus Lightened, Craft Rises, Collapsing in Two Feet of Water—His 286th Ascension.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 29.—Soaring 3,000 feet in the air and watched by thousands of persons all over the city, the new balloon "Philadelphia," owned by the Philadelphia Aeronautical Recreation society, while on its initial trip Saturday afternoon, soon after its ascension from Point Breeze, collapsed and dropped, in two minutes' time, into the Schuylkill river, off Gibson Point.

Prof. Samuel W. King, the veteran balloonist, was in charge of the basket, and it was his courage alone that saved the party from death. He tugged at ropes, heaved over ballast, all the while begging the women to be calm.

Then, as the car hit the water, he vaulted over the side, with the agility of a school boy. The car, thus relieved bounded up a few feet, sailed to the western shore and collapsed in two feet of water. The party waded ashore.

Meanwhile Prof. King was swimming to the shore amid the cheers of thousands who had gathered. Dripping, the veteran balloonist landed, and, despite his 72 years, was none the worse for his experience.

"That was a close call," said Dr Thomas Eldridge, president of the society, who was also in the balloon.

"Nonsense," said King. "Today was have made ascensions as many when you have gone up as many times as that you can count some worse achievements than that. My balloon was once shot at in the south years ago, when just as I was about to ascend a runaway slave jumped into the car."

Then the professor threw off his coat, wrung the water out of it, and proceeded to investigate the cause of the accident.

The balloon, after receiving 50,000 feet of gas at Point Breeze, rose at 2:50 o'clock. Its pilot was the veteran aeronaut and the passengers Thomas E. Eldridge, president; Geo. H. Zimmerman, vice president, and Mrs. E. Lockington, secretary of the Philadelphia Aeronautical Recreation society, and Mrs. Carrie G. Kilgore, the woman lawyer.

The ascension was all right. The big bag seemed as sound as a dollar when released. away it sailed straight up in the air 3,500 feet, until caught by a southeast wind, when it took a course to the northwest, while the crowd cheered. They were still cheering when suddenly the great bag seemed to burst and a great volume of gas poured out.

The basket swung about and the derelict fell rapidly. The shouts turned to a cry of horror and everyone ran in the direction of the shifting balloon and its imperiled passengers. Some one telephoned to the electrical bureau and the police tug went down the river to lend its aid. Prof. King was seen to be working frantically to check the fall, but the balloon dropped into the water.

NOTE MAY CONVICT COUPLE

Alleged Plan to Indicate Husband's Suicide Revealed.

Urbana, Ill., June 30.—Mrs. Gertie Pierson and Eleasure O'Neal were dealt a hard blow in their trial here yesterday on the charge of killing Pierson, when a letter was identified and read to the jury by the prosecution.

The letter, identified as having been written by Mrs. Pierson, was addressed to the daughter of O'Neal, Mrs. Frank Hall, of Foosland, and begged her assistance in fabricating testimony indicating that James Pierson committed sucide by taking poison.

Mrs. Hall, in the letter, is asked to place an inclosed note in the clothes of the dead man, and then have it discovered by witnesses. The note, purporting to be written by Pierson, declares his intention of "taking a dose."

The letter and inclosed note were intercepted by the authorities March 21, when it was slipped into a package that left the jail. After asking that the note be placed in the clothes of her husband and then found by the witnesses, the writer declared that this was "all that will save me and 'Lazer' from prison, for the Piersons did not tell any lies."

The Piersons are the family of the dead man, who have instigated the prosecution of his widow and O'Neal.

A suicide theory was expected to be offered by the defense, which started today, with Mrs. Pierson on the stand. She was a good witness.

Asks for Rate Advance.

The Missouri Pacific Railway has applied to the Nebraska State Railway Commission for authority to put into force a 3-cent passenger rate.

The company also asks permission to install a 15 per cent. advance on freight rates.

The Missouri Pacific asserts that the road is losing heavily under the 2-cent passenger schedule.

Store Was Broken Into.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Thieves broke into and robbed the Bealert Hardware company store at Hughesville last night, and stole a sample case of pocket knives, razors, work shoes, hats, stick pins and breast pins.

STATE COMMITTEE WORK

DEMOCRATS ARE PERFECTING ORGANIZATION UNDER MR. RUBEY.

ALL IS NOW READY FOR CAMPAIGN

Party Will Be Prepared to Take Up the Battle Immediately After August Primaries, the Chairman Says.

Macon, Mo., June 27.—Under the direction of Harry M. Rubey, the democratic state central committee has got down to business. The party forces are now being organized from one end of the state to the other, and when the primaries have been held and the nominations made the democratic party will be ready for the fray with the best organization that ever supported a ticket in Missouri.

Mr. Rubey has believed at all times that it is the duty of the present committee to perfect such an organization as would be effective immediately after the nominations are made.

Since his election as chairman of the committee, he has been working steadily to that end. If Mr. Rubey continues to meet with his present success, no change in the committee or its officers will have any effect upon the campaign.

Mr. Rubey takes an extremely optimistic view of the situation and believes that the present harmony in democratic ranks will continue. He urges upon county committees that they perfect their organizations and perfect them now. There is no time like "now" in the opinion of Mr. Rubey, and he holds that "now" is the time for democrats to put in their best work.

"The party is united now as it has not been in ten years," says Mr. Rubey, "and there is no question in my mind as to the result. The work at this office has been progressing rapidly for the last two months. We have been organizing and getting our forces together, and the prospects for democratic success this fall were never brighter.

"Everybody in the state is interested in politics this year, and the committee is having no trouble in getting all the assistance it needs from every county in the state. If the democrats will continue to work as they have started there is no question in my mind but that we will be able to carry Missouri by the old-time majority."

FINGERS AT $300 EACH

Four Columbus Men Would Aid Victim of Accident.

Columbus, O., June 30.—Four Columbus men have offered a finger each for $300 to A. C. Balloux, of Wheeling, W. Va., who lost his digts in an ice cream freezer recently.

He is in the hospital at East Liverpool, Ohio, and his brother, Joseph Balloux, made the offer of $300 a finger on the suggestion of the surgeons.

The men who have offered to have their fingers cut off are Robert E. Robbins, W. E. Thompson, O. E. Mansperger and a man signing himself "D," of Edward street.

Nothing in Resignation Story.

It was rumored today that General Manager Sullivan, of the Missouri Pacific, had resigned. The report is without foundation, it was stated from the company's offices here, says the Fort Scott Tribune.

Mr. Sullivan is the man who has waged such a relentless war on organized labor and the news that he had been discharged would be welcomed here as well as at every other place on the system where his tyrannic efforts to down the union men have been felt.

AFFINITY WAS FORGIVEN

BUT NOT SO WITH J. E. WEIR, WHO RESIDES AT THAYER, MISSOURI.

HE FLED WITH WIFE OF ANOTHER

He Is a Railway Conductor and Met "Affinity" While He Was On One of His Regular Runs to Memphis, Tenn.

St. Louis, Mo., June 30.—As a sequel of an alleged double elopement of "affinities" from Memphis, Tenn., J. E. Weir, 30 years old, a railway conductor, of Thayer, Mo., is held at Central district headquarters on a charge of wife abandonment. The woman with whom he came to St. Louis has been forgiven by her husband and returned home with him. Another couple, said to have accompanied Weir and his affinity, hurriedly left St. Louis before warrants could be obtained against them.

The deserted husband told Chief of Detectives Smith his wife disappeared several days ago with Weir, who met her on his runs to Memphis. The husband communicated with Mrs. Weir, who applied there for a warrant, charging her husband with wife abandonment.

Armed with telegrams, the deserted man came to St. Louis. Detectives Kilker and Wardenski located Weir and the woman in an apartment at the Park Hotel Annex, 1727 Market street. Another man and a married woman, who accompanied the first couple from Memphis, occupied an adjoining apartment.

The latter couple, when they learned of the detention of Weir and his affinity, hurried to Union station and left St. Louis.

Monday the St. Louis police received a telegram from Deputy Sheriff Ollie Lindley to hold Weir until he could arrive with a warrant and take him back to Thayer on the wife abandonment charge. Weir is 30 years old. The woman in the case is 27 years old and pretty.

ASK LICENSE RENEWALS

THE COUNTY COURT HEARING EVIDENCE IN THE CONTESTED CASES.

AN ALLEGED MINOR ON THE STAND

Testified He Purchased Liquor in Three Saloons—Others Said to Have Not Filed Applications Early Enough.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

The judges of the Pettis county court are meeting in adjourned session at the court house today to consider the granting of dramshop licenses to some thirty saloon keepers of this city.

Up to the time the Democrat Sentinel went to press not a single dramshop license had been granted, although G. W. Barnett, who is representing the Antisaloon league, stated he had no evidence to offer against the following, and it is probable that these saloon keepers will be granted a renewal of their licenses:

Patrick Dobel, Eugene Hugenschmidt, Charles Keck, Lennartz & Murphy, O. A. Wagner, P. E. Sullivan, E. C. McGurren, Tim Dunnigan, George F. Fisher, John Quinn, Dan Clifford, Henry Pehling, John Hegarty, Boutell & Graham and Frank M. DeJarnette.

Among the other applicants are Will DeBold, Jule G. Schmid and Cassing & Byard.

L. G. Bryson, an employe of the M., K. & T., who claims he is 19 years old, appeared at the solicitation of the Antisaloon league and said that on May 30, last, he had purchased liquor from DeBold, Schmid and Cassing & Byard, and on this statement Attorney Barnett asked that the court refuse to grant licenses to each of these applicants.

Bryson further stated, under oath, that on the same date he had applied for liquor at Boutell & Graham's saloon, and was questioned about his age, to which he said he was a minor, and after giving his age the proprietor refused to sell him liquor.

The application which Bryson presented when he applied for a position with the Katy railroad was introduced in evidence and on it Bryson swore he was born in 1885, which would make him 23 years old.

He was asked why he had sworn he was 23 when in fact he was not, and he coolly replied that his job was in consideration.

John L. Gold, an M., K. & T. shop foreman, under whom Bryson is employed, went on the stand and testified, under oath, that at the time Bryson entered the services of the M., K. & T. he filled out an application on which he said he was 21 years of age.

Frank Holdner, another applicant for a license, withdrew his petition, after the Antisaloon league representative contended that no license could be issued, owing to an insufficiency of signatures.

Attorney Barnett, of the Antisaloon league, asked that a license be refused to C. H. Raiffeisen, John McGrath and Frank Lorsbach on the grounds that their respective applications had not been on file the required length of time.

Among the other applicants is R. Sater, who purchased H. V. Leist's saloon, and who should not be granted a license, so the Antisaloon league contended, for the reason that the application for a license was removed from its filing place and consequently was not on file the required length of time.

Attorneys Kelly and Longan are before the court representing the saloon keepers. O. M. Barnett is also present in behalf of Boutell & Graham, while Lee Montgomery is looking after the interests of R. Sater.

Improvements at Guenther's.

The improvements under way at Guenther's dry goods store, brief reference to which was made a few days ago, include not only glass panels in the rear of both rooms, but steel ceilings, decorations throughout the interior, shelvings, and the front of the building repainted. The store will be one of the best lighted when the work is complete of any in the city.

The ceilings are especially attractive, being done in an ivory color and a bluish tint to join and match the side walls. The panels in the rear extend to midway between the floor and ceiling, giving natural light to the entire store.

McClellan Wins Election Suit.

New York, June 30.—Justice Lambert today directed that the jury find a verdict for Mayor McClellan in the election recount suit which was instituted by W. R. Hearst. This decision upholds McClellan's election.

In his address to the jury in giving the instructions, Justice Lambert said that no fraud had been proved in the case, and if he should permit the disfranchisement of citizens on such slight evidence, this country would last but a short time.

About 500 Go to Work Tomorrow.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Work will be resumed at the M., K. & T. shops tomorrow morning, after having been closed down since May 15.

The whistle will proclaim the glad tidings at 6 o'clock a. m., and one hour later 500 persons will march into the shops to resume their daily labor after a month of enforced idleness.

The men will work nine hours a day. The shops train will leave the station at 6:30 a. m., and, returning, leave the shops at 5:30 p. m.

WILL OF WILLIAM BARR

FOUNDS FUND FOR BENEFIT OF A MANUAL TRAINING DEPARTMENT.

SEVERAL OTHER ST. LOUIS GIFTS

Bequests to Hospitals and Orphan Asylums Aggregate $50,000—Residue of Estate Worth More Than $4,000,000.

New York, June 30.—A number of personal and charitable bequests were made in the will of the late William Barr, the St. Louis dry goods merchant, filed for probate here yesterday.

There are several bequests to St. Louis institutions, the largest being $100,000 to Washington university. Bequests to hospitals and orphan asylums there aggregate $50,000, and nearly $150,000 goes to relatives. Some of them follow: St. Luke's hospital gets $10,000; St. Louis Children's hospital, $10,000; Episcopal Orphans' home, Protestant Orphans' home, St. Mary's infirmary, Bethseda Memorial home, Home for the Friendless and the Blind Girls' home get $5,000 each.

The personal bequests include $60,000 to Richard E. Miller, a nephew; Elizabeth Miller, a sister, $50,000; Bessie Miller, $10,000; Thomas C. Colin, of New York, $50,000, and Thomas Wright, of Orange, N. Y., $50,000.

Mr. Barr made his home in Llewellyn park, West Orange, for several years before his death, and the Orange Memorial hospital, the Orange Orphan society and the Record ambulance each will receive $5,000. Mary Thompson, of Rahway, Barbara Thompson, of West Orange; Joan Winthrow, of East Orange, and Kate Corson, a cousin, will receive $5,000 each.

The residue of the estate, said to be more than $4,000,000, is left to Jessie E. Barr, the widow, Paul Beardsley and Colin Duncan, of New York, who got $50,000 each, are the executors. The will was dated May 13, 1908, a short time before Mr. Barr's death.

The $100,000 bequest to Washington university, St. Louis, is made under condition that the money shall be used for the exclusive benefit of the manual training department of the university and shall be known as the William and Jessie R. Barr fund.

St. Louis Live Stock Market.

Special to Democrat-Sentinel.

National Stock Yards, Ill., June 30.—Cattle receipts 7,000; market slow, but generally steady with yesterday. Nothing strictly choice here. Present prices 35 to 50c under the high time last week, the greatest decline being on the medium grades. Southern division supplies have been heavy again this week, and that has had its effect in the trade for medium natives. Best steers here atoday, $7.50. Best butcher heifers and steers mixed, $7.00. Calves steady; top, $6.00. Stockers and feeders steady at the decline. Moderate receipts of natives expected during the remainder of this week, and good ones may sell a little stronger, but Southern division supplies bid fair to continue liberal, and that will make the medium natives slow sellers.

Hog receipts, 13,500; market generally 5 to 10c higher, although tops sold 15c higher than yesterday, one load having sold at $6.65. This certainly shows remarkable demands under the receipts we have recently had, and judging by our experience of the past two weeks, one might think there is sufficient demand to take all the hogs that will be received, yet there must be a turning point, even if only temporary, and we are a little inclined to believe that it has about been reached; therefore would suggest immediate shipment of anything on hand that is fat enough. The bulk of all the good hogs sold from $6.35 to $6.55.

Sheep receipts 3,500; arket steady at the recent decline. No choice Tennessee lambs here; top natives reached $6.60, and top native sheep $4.25. Demands for the medium and common grades still very uncertain and unsatisfactory, and it looks like good policy to ship none but fat ones for the present.

EASILY DECIDED.

This Question Should Be Answered Easily by Sedalia People.

Which is wiser—to have confidence in the opinions of your fellow citizens, of people you know, or depend on statements made by utter strangers residing in far-away places? Read the following:

J. T. Albertson, painter, of 611 W. 5th St., Sedalia, Mo., says: "I suffered from kidney trouble off and on for several years. The fumes of the turpentine and other materials contained in the paint together with the constant climbing and stooping served to keep my kidneys in a much disordered condition. There was a constant pain through my back and loins, the secretions were much too frequent in action, and the passages were often attended with pain. I was subject to dizzy spells, and often when walking upon the street I would stagger like a man intoxicated. Having learned of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills, I decided to give them a trial, and immediately procured a box at the W. E. Bard Drug Co. They acted promptly and effectively in my case and benefited me in a general way. I intend to keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand at all times in case my old trouble should ever return."

FREIGHT SHOPS TO OPEN

BE WORK FOR A GOOD MANY MEN

One Hundred Carpenters Can Secure Employment Tomorrow, and Also Many Truckmen at the New Shops.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

The freight car department of the new Missouri Pacific shops in this city will be opened tomorrow morning and employment given to every man who applies for a position in that branch of the service.

One hundred carpenters, or more than that number, can secure work by applying to Master Mechanic McGraw, and also a large number of truckmen.

The men will be employed on the piece work system, as is now in vogue at other points on the Gould lines.

The scale is not known at present, but at other points where the piece work plan is being used carpenters make from 29 to 51 cents an hour. The intention is to get all cars ready for the movement of the grain crop at an early date.

Master Mechanic McGraw is authority for the statement that all the men who apply will be put to work. There is no limit to the number.

The other departments—machinists, boilermakers, blacksmiths, etc.—will not likely be opened with full forces before the latter part of July.

There was a street rumor that all repair work on the rip track was to be done at the new shops in future, instead of at the old shops, but Mr. McGraw stated that he knew nothing of such intention at this time.

There has been no repair work on cars done at the Missouri Pacific shops in this city since the erection of the shops. The intention was to open this department soon after the shops were completed, but for some reason the matter was deferred from time to time.

The opening of this department is the initial step for the reopening of the entire shops, which have been closed since February 20, last.

Although the company now has employed at the shops over 100 men, this is several times fewer than the number required to do the work, and by the latter part of July the general expectation is to see every department working full blast.

In this connection it may not be amiss to state that 500 persons will resume work at the Katy shops tomorrow, nine hours a day, after a six weeks' lay off.

WANTS TO LOCATE HERE

Owner of New Patent Steel Tire Is Investigating the City.

Mrs. M. G. DeHart, who is the owner and inventor of the DeHart cushion steel tire, is at the Antlers hotel. She desires to locate her factory here if the people will take an interest and start the company. This enterprise would be a good thing to Sedalia and as it would be the only manufactory of the kind on American soil it would be bound to be a big affair.

It is the only steel tire in existence doing away entirely with air, yet light, resillant and durable.

Mrs. DeHart would like all who are interested in this venture to call upon her tomorrow, Wednesday, and Thursday and talk it over. She would like to form her company of Sedalia people and expects to sell or have subscribed $15,000 among Sedalia people and towns adjoining. Call in the parlor of the Antlers and see what the lady has to say.

FRANCIS TO GET STATE VOTE

Unanimous Support if He Will Permit Use of His Name.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 30.—Senator Stone, a delegate at large from Missouri to the democratic national convention at Denver, says that he has not talked with a delegate regarding the nomination of a vice president.

"I have no idea," he said, "how the Missouri delegation will stand It would seem, however, that Mr. Bryan's wishes should be consulted as to his running mate, and no one named who would not meet with his approval No doubt this will be done."

Governor Folk, also one of the delegates at large, if he has any choice for the second place on the ticket, has persistently refused to say so. When asked as to his selection for vice president he said that he had no choice at this time.

Governor Folk will not leave here for Denver until July 5. Senator Stone will either start tonight or Wednesday.

Sam B. Cook, of this city, a district delegate, is well known to favor David R. Francis for vice president.

It is thought that when the Missourians reach Denver they will confer and all act harmoniously It seems well settled that if Mr. Francis can be induced to permit the use of his name as a candidate for vice president that he will receive the cheerful and unanimous support of the Missouri delegation.

Misses Garnett and Stites were room mates while attending C. B. C. in Sedalia ten years ago, and have frecuently visited with each other since they left school.

C. A. Woods, of Ft. Scott, Kan., was here this week. Through C. A. Woods and J. T. Woods, of this place, a deal was negotiated between Kansas parties and Mr. J. T. Ellis, by which Mr. Ellis becomes owner of a ranch of 2,800 acres in western Kansas. He puts in exchange all his possessions here and a large farm in Morgan county. Unless Mr. Ellis disposes of his ranch he will move there either this fall or early in the spring. For thirty years Mr. Ellis has been a resident of Pilot Grove, identified with its interests, and he and his excellent family will be missed when they go away.

Mrs. T. H. Shaw, of Houston, Tex., arrived last week on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Schlotzhauer, and other relatives at her former home.

NOT INCREASE LICENSE

THE CITY COUNCIL FAILED TO PASS THE ORDINANCE LAST NIGHT.

VOTE: AYES, 4; NAYS, 3; ABSENT, 1

As a Majority of the Members Comprising the Council Did Not Vote in the Affirmative the Measure Was Lost.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

For increasing the saloon license from $600 to $1,000 per annum—Aldermen Baker and Johns, republicans, and DeJarnette and Hatton, democrats.

Against the increase—Aldermen Ilgenfritz and Sullivan, republicans, and Olmsted, democrat.

Absent—Alderman Andler, republican.

Ordinance defeated because a majority of the members comprising the council did not vote for its adoption.

The city council met in adjourned session at the council chambers last night for the purpose of considering the passage of the ordinance increasing the saloon licenses from $600 to $1,000 annually.

Mayor Babcock presided and the following answered to roll call: Messrs. Baker, DeJarnette, Hatton, Ilgenfritz, Johns, Olmsted and Sullivan. Mr. Andler was absent on account of sickness.

It was 8:50 o'clock when Mayor Babcock rapped for order, the council chambers being filled with representatives of the liquor interests, represented by Judge George F Longan, and many spectators.

Under the head of new business, Clerk Baker announced that the ordinance had been read three times.

Alderman Johns moved the passage of the ordinance.

Alderman Sullivan was ruled out of order by the chair when he attempted to address the council, and after a second to Mr. Johns' motion Clerk Baker called the roll, the ordinance being defeated by a vote of four ayes to three nays. Messrs. Baker, DeJarnette, Hatton and Johns voting for the passage and Messrs. Ilgenfritz, Olmsted and Sullivan voting against it.

On motion of Mr. Ilgenfritz, council adjourned.

A $30,000 FEE FOR WOMAN

Court Held With Her That Document Made Trust Too Long.

Chicago, June 30.—A Chicago woman attorney has just received a fee of $30,000.

She is Mary E. Miller, who successfully prosecuted a suit on behalf of the grandchildren of the late William Bross for the distribution of his $3,000,000 estate. By the terms of the will the estate was to be held in trust until the youngest of the grandchildren reaches the age of 30 years. That was the construction placed upon it by Zachariah Galt, the administrator, who contested the suit for immediate distribution.

The suit, filed by Miss Miller last September, was based on the claim of perpetuity. She argued that under the construction of the trustee, the estate might never be distributed among the heirs it was intended to benefit.

The youngest of the grandchildren, John Bross Lloyd, is now 22 years old and the oldest, William Bross Lloyd, is 33. Miss Miller argued that should any of the heirs die before the youngest reached the age of 30 an injustice would be done.

Judge Carpenter held that the trustee's ruling would make the estate vest at too remote a period and ordered a distribution of it now.

Miss Miller formerly lived at Marshall, Mich.

'TWAS PRETTY WEDDING

THAT OF MR. GUY VIVIAN HOLMES AND MISS ETTA WALLACE CAMPBELL.

THE REV. F. E. GORDON OFFICIATED

Ceremony Was Performed at M. E. Church, South, in Windsor, and Bridal Couple Departed for Canada to Make Home.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Windsor, Mo., June 30.—One of the prettiest weddings ever solemnized in Henry county took place at the M. E. church, South, here, at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when Miss Etta Wallace Campbell, the accomplished daughter of Mrs. R. W. Campbell, became the bride of Mr. Guy Vivian Holmes, a popular and successful young business man of Ontario, Canada.

The church was beautifully and artistically decorated with ferns, roses, etc, and presented a truly inviting appearance.

The Rev. F. E. Gordon performed the ceremony, the beautiful service of the Episcopal church being used.

Miss Claude Campbell, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses Alma Allen, Ruth Livingston, Pearl Shelton and Willie Campbell, also a sister of the bride. Mr. Marland E. Brown, of St. Louis, was the best man, and Dr. Harve Wall, Mr. Sam Shelton, Mr. Dale Muir and Mr. Everett Carter were the ushers.

Miss Maud Neville sang "Because," and the wedding march was played by Miss Lottye Hines.

The bride wore a handsomely embroidered crepe princess gown, with train, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor was attired in a garment of white net, over silk taffeta. The bridesmaids were gowned in pink, with white hats and gloves, and carried pink roses.

Following the ceremony a delightful reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, at the conclusion of which Mr. and Mrs. Holmes departed for their Canadian home.

No prettier wedding was ever witnessed in Windsor, nor was a larger number of presents ever bestowed upon a bridal couple. The bride, besides being a very beautiful young woman, is possessed of remarkable intelligence, a sweet disposition and is a prime favorite with all who are honored with her acquaintance. She is well known to many in Sedalia, Warsaw and other towns in this section; and while all regret her departure from their midst, they at the same time extend congratulations, and wish for her a full share of the blessings of a happily wedded life.

CLAIMED A FAIR BRIDE

Dr. W. T. Bishop and Miss Ada Lee Griffith Married.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Dr. W. T. Bishop, a practicing physician of Hughesville, and Miss Ada Lee Griffith, a popular Sedalia school teacher, were quietly married by Rev. R. L. Shepard, of Marshall, formerly pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church in this city, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. L. Griffith, at Warrensburg, at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Beside the immediate relatives, there were only a few intimate friends who attended the ceremony, which was followed by a wedding dinner. The bridal couple left on the noon train for Chicago to spend their honeymoon, and will return to Hughesville to make their home.

"LID" RAID WAS SCORED

ST. LOUIS JUDGE STATED THAT IT WAS WITHOUT WARRANT OF LAW.

ALL DEFENDANTS WERE RELEASED

The Sunday Activity of Officers Results in Seventy-four Arrests on Disturbance Charges on the Sabbath Day.

St. Louis, Mo. June 30.—Judge Pollard in the Dayton street police court Monday scored whoever was responsible for the wholesale raids Sunday of alleged lid clubs. The Judge tried each of the 68 cases separately and heard all of the testimony that the police and others offered. All of the defendants were discharged.

"These men are charged with disturbance of the peace in a public place," said Judge Pollard, summing up the cases as a whole after several hours of trials. "So far as the testimony shows there was no disturbance of the peace in a public place. These men were all in private places, according to the testimony of the officers themselves. There was no disturbance even there.

"It is terrible testimony offered here under which no conviction could be made if it was true. I protest emphatically against the smearing of my docket with cases of such a character. It is bad."

Judge Hiram Moore, counsel for Delegates Priesmeyer and Warner, defended all of those arrested.

Some of the cases took on the elements of a farce and caused Judge Pollard to smile. When the police reached the Home Pleasure Club, Max Schmidt, president, was in the place alone. He was not drinking. Some beer was found in the cellar. The police admitted that he made no noise, not even remonstrating when arrested. In other cases the patrolmen admitted they could not hear a sound outside the places.

The police admitted that it had been agreed to arrest all of the men found in the clubs before they knew whether or not there was a disturbance there.

Seventy-four men were taken in Sunday raids by three squads on charges of disorderly conduct. The police also scooped up 49 kegs of beer for "evidence."

The raids, made by Sergeants King, Woodling, Sloan and Lehman and Patrolmen Grotpeter, Funderberke and Kock, included the following clubs:

Merry Widow, 817 North Ninth street, six men, one keg of beer captured; Twentieth Century Waiters', 110½ North Ninth, two men; Workmen; Douglas, 1919 Market street, two men; Moonlight, 2106 Slattery street, five men, four kegs; Free Pridge, 1913 Destrehan street, 14 men, ten kegs; Gast Bachelor, 1534 North Broadway, nine men; Regent, Twelfth and Benton streets, ten men, six kegs; Goose Hill, 1400 Buchanan street, four men, five kegs; Outside Inn, 3223 North Eleventh street, four men, five kegs; Home Pleasure, 2568A Dodier street, one man, three kegs; Banner, 1456 Warren street, five men; two kegs; Open Air, 3000 North Ninth street, seven men, fourteen kegs.

Deputy Sheriff Campbell also got busy in St. Louis county and arrested Hugo Bittner, 3523 North Eleventh street, and J. J. Bauer, 1329 South Thirteenth street, at Roth's Grove, on lid-lifting charges.

Delegate Fred Warner and Justice of the Peace George W. Reichmann, who had gone on the bonds of many of those arrested, were in court early and showed great interest in the proceedings.

DRESDEN WAS DEFEATED

But the Sedalia Bunch Came Home Without Supper.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Dresden was defeated by the Sedalia Pickups yesterday in a slow game by the score of 7 to 5. Mauseman, the Sedalia pitcher, held the heavy hitting farmers down to a few measly hits, and would have scored a shut out but for a wild throw and a couple of errors.

"Buck" Agee acted as umpire, and was lucky enough to get out of town before supper time, as the Dresden bunch got sore and refused to feed the visitors.

Matt Mullaly was the only lucky one in the bunch. He had 5 cents worth of salted peanuts for supper. To wind up, the train was 25 minutes late. The boys say to all local clubs, take warning and take your supper when you go to Dresden.

COUPLE WED IN CONVENT

ONLY WITNESSES ARE MOTHER SUPERIOR AND NUNS OF CLOISTER.

WAS THE FORMER HOME OF BRIDE

Mrs. Alice O'Day Becomes Wife of Lawyer at Springfield, Missouri —Ceremony Was Performed on Sunday.

Springfield, Mo., June 30—The marriage of Mrs. Alice Clymena O'Day to Henry C. Young, which occurred at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, was made public yesterday. The marriage occurred in the chapel at Elfindale and was witnessed only by the mother superior and the nuns.

A marriage in a cloistered convent is a rare event, and could only have been possible in a case like the present, the bride being the founder of Elfindale, having given the beautiful stone mansion with its adjoining grounds, which was formerly her home, to the sisters some three years ago.

A bond of unusual love exists between herself and the sisters, and it was desired by the nuns and the bride that this wedding should take place in their midst.

The bride is the widow of John O'Day, who during his life time was prominent as a democratic politician, and who died a millionaire.

Mrs. O'Day has given the greater portion of her fortune to charity and to Catholic institutions in Springfield. The groom is the law partner of Judge Thomas A. Sherwood.

KNEW HE WASN'T A BURGLAR

His Sister Compromised, the Huntsville Youth Believed.

Huntsville, Mo., June 30.—When Irvin Carter shot Thomas R. Bagby, his sister's suitor, at the Carter home, five miles south of here, Saturday night he knew at whom he was aiming with the shot gun, and the killing was not actuated by the belief that Bagby was a burglar.

That is the substance of a statement made last night by M. J. Lilley, of Moberly, Carter's attorney.

"There is nothing to the burglar theory," he continued, "Irvin Carter shot Bagby because Bagby had compromised Beulah Carter, Irvin's sister."

Mr. Lilley was asked if Carter knew that his sister had been wronged by Bagby. He said that he had good cause to believe it.

COURT TO END HER FAST

FOOD ORDERED FORCED DOWN THROAT OF A STARVING DOWIE CONVERT.

SHE ASSERTS SHE WILL DIE FIRST

Her Husband, a Burnham, Illinois, Judge, Consents to Action, after Wife Refuses Nourishment for Sixteen Days.

Chicago, Ill., June 27.—Mrs. Mary Hunter, of Zion City, a member of the cult, the teachings of which were followed by Mrs. Louise Thompson, who died recently of starvation, is to be fed, in spite of her determination to take no food for sixty days, if the command of Judge C. B. Jones of the Lake county court is carried out.

With the aid of two nurses, a physician made preparations yesterday to compel the woman to take nourishment, after she had been placed under arrest and taken to the Waukegan hospital.

Mrs. Hunter had already fasted for sixteen days, when her husband, Judge E. K. Hunter, of Burnham, Ill., after fruitless attempts to induce her to eat, consented that proceedings be brought against her in order that she might be examined as to her sanity.

Sheriff Griffin, of Lake county, was sent to the house where the woman had been staying and had no difficulty in making the arrest.

The woman, however, defied him to compel her to eat, and said she would rather die than do so, quoting Bible texts which she interpreted as supporting her theory in the efficacy of fasting for the curing of disease.

The sheriff took her to Waukegan and she was questioned by Judge Jones, who ordered her taken to the Jane McAllister hospital and placed in charge of Dr. F. C Knight, who was instructed to force her to eat. Evidence as to her sanity will be heard today.

A FORMER SEDALIAN DEAD

Dr. James Herbert Heller Died at Wilkesbarre, Pa.

Dr. James H. Heller, a former physician of this city, who, with his wife, resided in the old Jackson property on Osage avenue, died recently at Wilkesbarre, Pa., as will be seen by a clipping taken from a recent issue of the Wilkesbarre Record:

Dr. James Herbert Heller, son of George Heller, district passenger agent of the Lehigh Valley railroad, died on Saturday morning, June 20, at the home of his parents, 316 South Washington street, after a long illness, aged 34 years.

He was born in Allentown, May 28, 1874, but was raised in Wilkesbarre. He graduated from Hillman academy in 1894 and from Jefferson Medical college at Philadelphia in 1898.

Dr. Heller was united in marriage April 16, 1900, to Miss Addie S. Wilson, of Philadelphia, and with his bride went to Sedalia, Mo., where he located and practiced medicine for three years.

He was very successful in his practice, but returned to this city in 1903 because his health failed. Since his return he had been resident physician and superintendent of the White Haven sanitarium until his resignation last year.

Besides his parents he is survived by his wife and two sisters, Elizabeth and Mary, of this city. Funeral services will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the house by Rev. Mr. Eeates, of St. John's Lutheran church. The remains will be taken on the 8:30 train on Tuesday morning to Allentown for burial.

Dr. Heller was a member of several medical societies and took a pride in his profession. His death on the threshold of a promising career is deeply regretted by a large circle of friends, and his family have the sympathy of the community in their bereavemen..

Many Applications for Work

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Master Mechanic M. J. McGraw, of the Missouri Pacific, informed the Democrat-Sentinel today that there were many applications this morning from carpenters and truckmen who are anxious to work in the new freight car shops, but not until Monday next will everything be in good running order, as the shops will close on Saturday, July 4th.

One of the best known mechanics of the city stated today that the piece work system will be a good thing for the better class of mechanics, as they can earn more than the union scale of wages, but inferior workmen will likely get a blow below the belt.

Blood stains in the vicinity showed that the would-be intruders were lacerated by the glass. The police traced blood to the railroad tracks, where the stains disappeared.
